DOM PEDRO'S FALL.

The Imperial Government of Brazil Supplanted by a Republic.

Senor da Fonesca Proclaimed President by the Revolutionists.

MEMBERS OF THE EMPEROR'S CABINET ARRESTED AND KEPT IN CLOSE CONFINEMENT.

The Deposed Monarch at His Summer Palace Near the Capital—The Minister of Marine Shot and Seriously Wounded—All Business Suspended in Rio de Janeiro—The Army a Willing Instrument in the Revolt—Confirmatory Reports of the Affair Received by Merchants of New York—Effect of the Change on the Coffee Market—History of Dom Pedro's Reign—Unprecedented Proposition Made by the Ruler Last October—The Class of People Who Compose the Republican Party—The News Not Credited at the Consul-General's Office in New York.

LONDON, Nov. 18.

EAGER accounts of the revolution in Rio de Janeiro have been received in London up to this hour. One dispatch, received this morning, stated that the Minister of Marine was not killed, as reported yesterday, but that he was shot and seriously wounded by rebel soldiers. Another dispatch says that the question as to the nature of the future Government will be submitted to a plebiscite.

A later dispatch from Rio Janeiro reports that a Republic has been proclaimed, with Senor da Fonseca as President. The imperial Ministers have been placed under arrest and are kept in close confinement. The provisional Government has guaranteed protection to the members of the imperial family. The Emperor is at his summer palace at Petropolis, twenty-five miles north of Rio de Janeiro. All business in the city is suspended, but there is no danger to life or property.

Brazilian securities have fallen 3 per cent on the London Stock Exchange to-day.

Gen. Fonseca Leads the Revolutionists.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—From a gentleman intimately acquainted with Brazilian politics it is learned that the revolution in Brazil is purely military and only formidable from the lack of troops outside of Rio to bring against the revolutionists. The force in Rio is about six thousand. There are not more than 10,000 in addition, and they are scattered all over the Empire. Gen. Fonseca, who is at the head of the revolution, was accused of insubordination last July, and the Minister of War proposed to have him court-martialed, but the Emperor forbade it. If the whole force in Rio are of one mind, things can be carried with a high hand. The Parliament is to meet next Wednesday, and many of the Senators and deputies are already in the city. If they agree to recognize the new Government, Dom Pedro's abdication may be looked for. If they do not, they will have to go to jail. As the revolutionists control the cable, definite news may not be received for several days. The revolution comes as a great surprise. No financial troubles exist. The August elections were peaceful. The Liberal Cabinet proposes popular measures, and the Emperor is universally liked.

The coup d'main may effect the status of the Brazilian delegates to the Pan-American Congress.

What a Brazilian Official Says.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A reporter called this morning at the Consulate-General of Brazil. Senor Salvador de Mendonca, the Consul-General, resides in Washington most of the time, and could not be seen. Sub-Chancellor John C. Redman, who is in constant communication with him and knows Brazilian politics full well, gave his personal opinion on the matter.

Mr. Redman says that the so-called revolution can hardly be anything more than a riot between the military and the marines, or rather a bloody encounter between the students of the military and naval schools, who have always been very jealous of each other, and seize every opportunity to fight among themselves. What confirms him in this opinion is the shooting of the Minister of the Navy.

"It is not admissable that a revolution tending to the overthrowing of the Imperial Government could take place in the middle of November, hardly a month after the last general election, which took place in October and resulted in an overwhelming and peaceful victory of the Liberals over the Ultra-Conservatives. The new ministry and the new Parliament had a majority of three-fourths of the total vote in the country. And you must not think that 'Liberals' means 'Republicans.' It does not in Brazil no more than in England, and the Emperor may be said to be the first 'Liberal' of the country. The Republicans are in the minority. Moreover, the new Ministry is composed of the ablest men in Brazil, the Premier, especially, Senor Alfonso Celso, being a statesman of the highest order and not the man to yield to rioters or to step out without fighting. Now look at the origin of the dispatches. Not one is official. One comes from Rio to a New York rubber firm; others come from London to coffee firms. This fact becomes suspicious at this time of the year. It looks strongly like a coup d'bourse intended to raise the prices in rubber and coffee.

"From private letters I know that the coffee crop will be short this year. There are three periods in the preliminaries of a coffee crop. The two first ones may be ruined by rain, and they have been so this year, but the third will be fair. Nevertheless the production will be reduced by half, so that it seems to be a pretty good time to wire such news to New York, doesn't it?"

The Feeling in Europe.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The news received here last evening of a revolution in Rio de Janeiro as the result of a desire on the part of the populace for the establishment of a Republic on the ruins of the Empire, created a feeling of profound surprise, but aroused no excitement.

For many years the Empire of Brazil has been regarded as existing under the most liberal of all the monarchical governments of the earth, and as according to its subjects as great a degree of liberty as is enjoyed by the citizens of any republic, with the possible exception of the United States, and certainly more than the citizens of the nominal republic of France ever dreamed of.

Scarcely more than a year ago the daughter of the venerable Dom Pedro, Emperor of Brazil, acting as Regent in the absence of her father, who was at the time critically ill in Europe, signed a decree emancipating the slaves throughout the Empire in advance of the time when they would become free by the operation of a law fixing the time for their manumission. This act, while it was hailed with joy by the masses, was execrated by the populace as an attempt upon the part of the Princess Isabell to gain favor at their expense and at the expense of her father, in whose ostensible interest she was acting. The operation of the decree failed to modify the detestation in which the heiress to the throne was held by the people, and it certainly did not enhance the respect felt by the powerful classes for Dom Pedro, since they openly declared their belief that the Emperor should have remained at home and guarded the interests of his people instead of going abroad, even in quest of improved health, and leaving them at the mercy of an intriguing woman who had nothing to distinguish her but well-earned national hatred.

The complications growing out of the direct violation of the Government's faith with the slave-holding class involved in the voluntary emancipation of the slaves in advance of the time fixed by law were undoubtedly the beginnings which culminated in the present uprising, whatever may be its immediate cause, and the dread of the succession of Princess Isabella to the throne, which fills the hearts of the lower classes, is not unlikely another important factor in the popular endeavor to add one more to the list of South American Republics. No monarch was ever better beloved by his people than is Dom Pedro, but the very spirit of democracy which he has evinced in his every-day life and contact with his subjects has unquestionably given them a taste for more license and a closer participation in public affairs than is contemplated by or is possible under any form of monarchy.

The Dethroned Emperor.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The present revolution is by no means the first in Brazil during Dom Pedro's reign of nearly half a century. Dom Pedro was born in Rio Janeiro, December 2, 1825. His parents were the Emperor Dom Pedro I. and the Princess Leopoldine of Austria. He is a direct descendant of the house of Braganza. He ascended the throne of Brazil in 1831, but was not proclaimed of age and formally intrusted with the government of the Empire until 1840, since which time he has ruled with prudence and liberality, but with disregard of administrative detail. The civil wars which ravaged some of the imperial provinces during his minority were speedily put down. Two great wars with other South American countries were victoriously carried through, and the abolition of slavery decreed and accomplished by this remarkable man and most picturesque figure in modern South American history. Dom Pedro visited the United States during our centennial celebration in 1876 and by his manly bearing and eagerness for information made a favorable impression upon public men. He has encouraged every liberal and progressive measure calculated to advance and improve his people. Since his accession to the throne the rivers of the Empire have been opened to the commerce of the world. He has fostered education, aided agriculture and assisted development in every possible field. Dom Pedro's heir is the Princess Isabella, wife of the Count d'Eu, a grandson of Louis Philippe, cousin of the Count De Paris and a Prince of the House of Orleans. She is Dom Pedro's only living child. During the absence of the Emperor in this country in 1876 and again in 1888 the Princess acted as Regent. Both she and her husband are very unpopular. 6c;

On the 22d of October last attention was drawn to the rapid spread of republicanism in Brazil, and that in view thereof the imperial family had determined to submit to a plebiscite the vital question as to whether or not the people desired an abolition of the monarchy. In a public address at Pernambuco about two months ago the Count d'Eu, who is a generalissimo of the army and husband of the Crown Princess, solemnly declared on behalf of his father-in-law, Dom Pedro, and in the name of his wife and children, that the entire imperial family was prepared to surrender the throne and leave Brazil as soon as the nation had, by popular vote, expressed its desire for a republic in lieu of a monarchy. This is surely an unprecedented action for a monarch to take, but one of which Dom Pedro is quite capable. Paradoxical though it may appear, the Republican party is composed of all the former Conservatives. All the great landed proprietors, manufacturers and directors of industrial enterprises belong thereto, being embittered against the dynasty for having crippled their fortunes and their resources by decreeing the sudden abolition of slavery last year without compensation to the slave-owners. The monarchial party is exceedingly small in number and restricted in influence. It is composed almost entirely of Government functionaries and freed slaves.

Reports Received at New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A. H. Alden, Secretary of the New York Commercial Co. (limited), states that he has received a cable dispatch from the London correspondent of his company as follows:

"Brazilian Republic probable. Exchange declining. Peaceful settlement likely."

The London correspondents of the New York Commercial Co. (limited) are friends of the Rothschilds, who are the bankers of the Brazilian Government.

The following telegram from John Mathews & Co., Rio de Janeiro, has been received by L. W. Minford & Co., New York:

"Revolution in Brazil. Army and navy combined."

Mr. Ellis of Rio Janeiro, who is now in New York, received from his firm a dispatch stating that a Republic has been proclaimed.

The following cable was received at the Coffee Exchange to-day at 1 p. m., from Assobincas, Rio Janeiro:

"Political situation critical. Emperor deposed."

Effect on the New York Coffee Market.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The report of a revolution in Brazil followed by a report of another in Venezuela caused a vast amount of excitement among down-town merchants engaged in the South American trade. These reports caused a great crowd to gather in the Coffee Exchange this morning. At the call prices advanced a little over the closing of yesterday. The first four lots of 1,000 bags December sold at 15.65, an advance of 15 to 20 points over yesterday. It fell off from 15.65 to 15.55. January opened from 5 to 15 points above last night. March, April and May acted in sympathy. June, July and August were neglected at the opening call, while September advanced 25 to 30 points. Fifteen thousand bags were sold on the first call.

The annual importation of Brazilian coffee into the United States amounts to $60,000,000, rubber $16,000,000, sugar $60,000,000 and hides $30,000. Half the coffee consumed in the United States comes from Brazil, thirteen-sixteenth of the rubber, one-tenth of the sugar and a small percentage of the hides used here come from there.

The First News in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Messrs. Charles R. Flint & Co., Hard & Rand, Arbuckle Bros., Joseph J. O'Donohue & Sons and other coffee merchants received news late yesterday afternoon, after the Coffee Exchange had closed, of the revolution in Brazil. It created considerable excitement among coffee dealers, as they receive most of their goods from that country. These private dispatches received by these firms were the first known here of the trouble. Of the 60,000,000 bags of coffee imported into the United States 38,000,000 come from Brazil. At Para the rubber exports are said to amount to $30,000,000 annually and Mr. Flint states that the export duties on this is $6,000,000. As a result a strong sentiment has grown up in Para against the Imperial Government as the export duty goes into the Imperial treasury.

The News at Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—The only information received by the Department of State in regard to the revolution in Brazil is a short cablegram stating that a revolution had taken place and that the Minister of Marine had been shot.

Brazil and Dom Pedro.

Brazil dates its existence as an independent nation from March, 1808, when Don Joav VI., Regent of Portugal, accompanied by the Queen, Donna Maria I., left Portugal to avoid the Napoleonic armies and established themselves at Rio de Janeiro. Until 1815 Brazil remained in name, although not in fact, a province of Portugal, but in January of that year it was made a kingdom. In the following year Queen Maria died, and Dom Joav VI. of Portugal became the first King of Brazil. In 1821 King Joav returned to Portugal, but his son, Dom Pedro, father of the late Emperor, was inclined to remain as Regent. There were constant conflicts with the Portuguese Government, which endeavored to reduce Brazil to its former provincial condition, which endeavors were strongly resisted. On September 7, 1822, the Regent declared the independence of Brazil, and on December 1, his 24th birthday, was crowned Emperor of Brazil under the title of Dom Pedro I. Obtaining the assistance of Admiral Cochrane, Lord Demdonald, the famous English sailor of fortune, he defeated the Portuguese in several naval engagements, and obtained the recognition of the independence of his Empire. In 1826, by the death of his father, he became heir to the crown of Portugal, but renounced it in favor of the Brazilian throne. The unsuccessful result of several contests with Paraguay and Uruguay led to his abdication of the throne in 1831 in favor of his son, then but 6 years of age.

Joav Carlos Leopoldo Salvador Bibiano Francisio Xavier da Paula Leocadio Miguel Gabriel Rafael Gonzoga, head of the house of Braganza and Emperor of Brazil under the title of Dom Pedro II., was born in 1825 at Rio Janeiro and ascended the imperial throne in 1831, making his reign the longest of any living sovereign. In September, 1843, he married Princess Theresa Carolina Maria de Bourbon, daughter of Francis I., King of the two Sicilies. His heir is a daughter, Isabel Christina Leopoldina Augusta, born in 1846, and the wife of Prince Louis Phillippe D'Orleans, Count D'Eu. They have two sons, Pedro and Louis Felipe.

IS WOMAN ADVANCING? Julia Ward Howe, the well-known author and philanthropist, will discuss the condition of womankind in to-morrow's SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH.

Jefferson Davis at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 16.—Jefferson Davis arrived here to-day on the steamer Leathers. He remained in his state-room, where he was visited by his physician, Dr. Chaille, and one or two intimate personal friends. After making a careful examination of his patient Dr. Chaille stated that Mr. Davis had been quite sick at Briarfield with a severe cold, but that he was much improved now and there was no cause for alarm. This afternoon, Mr. Davis will be removed to the residence of his life-long personal friend, Mr. J. U. Payne, where he will remain for some days.

The Prize-Fight Case.

Circuit Attorney Ashley Clover says he will hold the "prize-fight" case for the next Grand-jury. Should this body take action similar to the November body, he will again assert his authority. "I would throw all of those cases off the docket," he said to-day, "before I would permit an indictment to be returned against the seconds and time keepers and not against Jos. A. Murphy, the referee. A distinction might possibly be made in Ahearn's case, but I see no ground for one in the active abettors."

Victimizing a Bank.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 16.—Otto Brinson, a lad of 14, has been victimizing the First National Bank of Bloomington for three months. On September last he presented a check for a small amount signed by Dodd & Co., and since that date has been repeating the work until he had drawn about $250. His method was to get Dodd to fill out blank checks, as he said his father would need them. Then the lad forged the Dodd & Co. name. The bank was deceived by the fact that the body of the check was correct. The boy is now in jail.

Highwayman Holzhay.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 16.—The Journal's Bessemer (Mich.) special says: The Holzhay case was completed at 9 o'clock this morning. The jury went out at 9:30 and returned at 10:15 with a verdict of guilty. Holzhay was then sentenced for life at hard labor. The prisoner broke down and seemed dazed when the foreman of the jury announced the verdict. The Judge's charge was read this morning, lasting about twenty minutes. The attorneys for the defense will make an effort for a new trial.

Chickasaw Lands.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—A special from Gainesville, Tex., says: The Chickasaw Legislature in session at Tishomingo passed a resolution on Thursday memorializing Congress to allot in severalty the Chickasaw lands, giving each Chickasaw citizen 160 acres of land and the remainder of the lands, after the allotment is made, to be purchased by the Government at $1.25 per acre. A committee of legislators was appointed to go to Washington and present the memorial to Congress as soon as that body convenes.

Knights of Labor.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 16.—The Knights remained in secret session until 1:30 o'clock today. The morning was devoted to a discussion on the state of the order, and no important action was taken.

BROWN-SEQUARD TALKS. The discoverer of the Elixir of Life tells what his tonic can and can not do, and what he thinks of the way it has been treated in America in to-morrow's SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH.

A Coat and a Boy.

Yesterday afternoon an unknown white boy about 15 years of age represented that he had been sent to the tailor shop of George Gruenloh, 3519 North Broadway, to get his father's coat, and in this manner obtained an overcoat belonging to a Mr. Schode. The boy is a fraud.

Quartermaster of Libby.

CENTRALIA, Ill., Nov. 16.—Capt. A. J. Warner, aged 75 years, died at his residence north of this city Thursday evening. During the rebellion he was Quartermaster of Libby Prison at Richmond, Va. After the war he came here and lived with his sons.

He Cut Viola.

A negro named Green cuts a colored girl, Viola Johnston, with a knife last night, inflicting three wounds in her head. The girl walked from 1214 Linden street to the City Dispensary, where her injuries were dressed. Green escaped and has not been found.

A Donation of Bread.

William Schmalzried, a baker doing business at 2417 North Fifteenth street, yesterday donated fifty-four loaves of bread to the poor of the Fourth District. The food has been placed in the hands of the police for distribution.

A Lumber Dealer Fails.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 16.—James Moir, the well-known lumber dealer of this city, has made a general assignment to W. J. Eaton in favor of his creditors. Liabilities, about $50,000; assets not stated.

Closing New York Canals.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 16.—Supt. Shanahan has ordered that the canals of the State shall close November 30 at midnight unless sooner closed by ice.

THE LAST WITNESS.

Dramatic Scene During Clancy's Testimony in the Cronin Trial.

O'SULLIVAN'S AGITATION WHEN TOLD OF THE FINDING OF THE DEAD BODY.

The Witness Recounts His Experience as a Fenian—His Operations in England While Acting for the Irish Republican Brotherhood—Why He Served Ten Years in British Prisons—His Mission to Chicago and Interview With O'Sullivan, the Ice Man—Important Moves on the Part of the Defense Checkmated by the Prosecution—Testimony as to the "Camp 20 Conspiracy" to Remain on the Record—To-Day's Proceedings.

CHICAGO, November 16.—There was a great crowd at the opening of the court for the resumption of the Cronin trial this morning, after two day's recess. The bailiffs had a difficult task in keeping back those who were without tickets of admission. The crowd surged up the stairway and pressed about them, and it was only after the most vigorous efforts that they were enabled to clear a passage way into the room. Belated representatives of the press, finding that it was impossible to get up the stairs in the regular way, climbed up along the outer edge of them, clinging to the iron hand-rail.

P. O'Sullivan.

The first witness called was James Clancy, correspondent of the New York Herald, who testified in behalf of the prosecution. He said he was sent here by the Herald in May to investigate the Cronin case. He called at O'Sullivan's house on the morning of the day that Cronin's body was discovered, but before the discovery had been made. The witness continued:

CLANCY'S STORY.

"I asked him if he knew Dr. Cronin. He told me he had known him for five years, or about five years and that he had met him at a political meeting in the Seventeenth Ward. I asked him what he thought of the disappearance of Dr. Cronin. He said, to the best of my recollection, that he would turn up somewhere; furthermore that he did not believe that he had been murdered. I asked him about the contract he had made with Dr. Cronin. He said in reference to that contract that he had been introduced personally to Dr. Cronin a few weeks before that time by Judge Mahoney. I asked him why he made the contract. He said because accidents had happened, and then said something about wishing to have a physician to attend to anything of the kind that might occur in the future. The conversation was general about Dr. Cronin, and when I stood up to go I asked him again what he thought of Dr. Cronin's disappearance, and once more he said that he would turn up somewhere all right; that he did not believe that he was murdered. I then left.

O'SULLIVAN'S AGITATION.

"I called late in the evening of the same day, after hearing that the body had been found. I asked him if he had heard the news. He said 'No.' Then there was a pause. Then he said: 'There was a body—I heard when I was down town that a body had been discovered in the lake this morning, but it has been identified.' We were both standing at this time. I said: 'I heard nothing about that.' I paused, and then said: 'Mr. O'Sullivan the body of Dr. Cronin has been found.' (The witness spoke very dramatically.) He turned pale. He said: 'What, the body of Dr. Cronin found? Is it true?' I said: 'Of course I don't know for certain. I heard it was discovered in the catch basin and is lying at the police station about a mile from here. I have a cab at the door; will you accompany me and identify the body at the Morgue?' He shook and sank into his chair and said: 'No. I could not go. I could not identify him. I would be useless for me to go.' I said, 'Mr. O'Sullivan you told me this morning you knew Dr. Cronin very well. It is only a short distance. Come along and identify the body. It may not be Dr. Cronin's body; let us make sure.' He said: 'No, I could not go; if I met him on the street I might know him, but I could not identify his body.' (In giving the answers made to him by O'Sullivan, the witness' voice was a continual tremor and the scene was a dramatic one.) I said: 'That is strange.' I urged him again and he made an effort to move out of his chair into which he had sunk when I first broke the news to him."

Mr. Donahue: "You say he moved the chair at the time?"

"No; I did not. It seemed to me that he tried to rise out of the chair into which he had sank."

State's Attorney: "Go ahead."

"I said I would try to get Judge Mahoney to identify him. I said: 'What is his address?' He seemed to try to recollect and then gave me the wrong address. He called Mrs. Whalen into the room and asked her the Judge's address.

"He had given you the Judge's address already in the morning, had he not?"

"Yes. I said so to him and then made a final effort to induce him to come and identify the body. He said: 'No; I could not identify it. It is useless for me to go.' Then I left."

CLANCY'S RECORD.

The cross-examination of the witness then began.

The cross-examination was directed in eliciting details of the witness' life from the time of his birth up through a varied journalistic career in London, Paris and elsewhere. Then counsel asked:

"What were you doing in 1878?"

"I was in prison in 1878."

"In prison?"

(Firmly) "Yes, sir."

"What for?"

"For my connection with what was known as 'the Fenian conspiracy.'"

"Were you a Fenian at that time?"

"No, sir, (bitterly) I was a convict."

"You had ceased to be a Fenian after they convicted you?"

"Yes, sir."

"What prison were you in?"

"I was in Portsmouth at one time—first, I was in Millbank Prison, in London, and from there I was sent to Portsmouth."

"How long were you in prison?"

"About ten years." [Sensation.]

"What were you convicted of?"

"For implication in the Fenian conspiracy, as it was called."

"Were you convicted of conspiracy?"

"No, sir."

The interest at this point of the examination had become intense. The witness' next answer in reply to the question put by the counsel, "What were you indicted for?" caused a hum of excitement around the court-room.

"For two attempts to murder."

[illegible], with a [illegible]

about to put his next question when the witness added the words, "A policeman and I were arrested."

The smile died away on Mr. Donahue's lips and he changed the tenor of his examination by asking indifferently, "You are a newspaper man?"

"Yes, sir."

THE IRISH REPUBLICAN BROTHERHOOD.

"You may explain about your imprisonment; about your pardon and all about it; the whole connection you had; whether it is in writing or what; what brought it about."

"I joined the Irish Republican Brotherhood in England in 1862, I think it was. I was rather active in propagating the principles of the Irish Republican Brotherhood in London and subsequently in the army. In 1866 I received a notice from James Stephens, who was then at the head of the organization, to leave the army and come on with what men I could, go to Ireland and take part in a projected insurrection. My instructions were to go to London and wait for further orders. I went to London and received orders there to wait still longer. Finally I was informed that the rising would not take place. Then I again entered into journalism and remained there until I was arrested in 1868 as a Fenian. I was tried, two policemen effected my arrest, and we had a tussle, and I shot at them, and that formed the ground work of the accusation against me, and upon that I was tried and convicted at the Old Bailey, in London, in 1868. I was sentenced to penal servitude for life. During the trial documents were handed to the Judge relating to my career in the Irish Republican Brotherhood. Afterwards he remarked that it was a very bad case, and in open court he said I was a very dangerous man after looking over the document, and he therefore gave me the highest sentence of the law, short of hanging, that he could. I remained in prison as I have stated, about ten years and in the meantime friends of mine in Parliament had made efforts to have me liberated. Finally they succeeded. The sentence of 'life' was reduced to fourteen years, but four years were subsequently taken off for what they were pleased to term 'good conduct.' I was then liberated on a ticket-of-leave."

ONE MOVE OF THE DEFENSE CHECKMATED.

At the conclusion of Mr. Clancy's examination the State rested and the defense moved on behalf of Burke, Coughlin, O'Sullivan and Kunze that all evidence respecting what the prosecution called "camp 20 conspiracy" be stricken from the record. The Court overruled the motion and the defense then asked that the pages of the United Brotherhood record, being minutes of the proceedings of Camp 20, on the night of February 8, be excluded. After considerable discussion and pending the writing up of certain evidence, the court said he would rule on the motion later.

Mr. Forrest then moved that a lot more testimony relating to Camp 20 be excluded, but all his motions were promptly overruled.

Next the defense moved to exclude certain portions of Speilman's testimony and the correspondence between him and Beggs, and then taking up the testimony of Mrs. Conklin, Mr. Conklin and nearly all the witnesses, asked that certain portions of their testimony be excluded. All the motions were overruled.

Mr. Forrest then turned his attention towards the hair, blood stains and other physical evidences of the crime and moved for their exclusion, but the motions were overruled.

THE FIRST WITNESS.

The first witness for the defense was Frederick J. Squibb, the stenographer who took the testimony before the coroner. He testified as to certain differences between the testimony as given before the coroner's jury by old man Carlson and Frank Scanlan, as compared with their evidence during the trial proper.

Mr. Forrest then moved for the exclusion of the proceedings of Camp 20 on February 8, which the Court took under consideration, and the evidence of Capt. O'Connor concerning the same proceedings, which the Court overruled.

The State's Attorney: "We have not offered that record of the proceedings of Camp 20 in evidence so far as I am aware of."

Mr. Foster (attorney for Beggs): "Well, if you don't, I shall."

Stenographer Squibb then testified to a number of contradictions in the testimony of Maj. Sampson before the Coroner's jury and before the court.

FATALLY STABBED.

Andrew Turner Cuts Harvey Bright in Carondelet.

About 7 o'clock last evening Andrew Turner, colored, called at the residence of Harvey Bright, also colored, at No. 7810 Vulcan street. When Turner entered the Bright house Bright asked why he (Turner) came there without an invitation. Turner made some remark that angered Bright, who picked up a heavy chair and struck Turner on the head. Turner in turn pulled out a dirk and stabbed Bright three times, twice on the breast and once in the right side just above the ribs. Bright yelled out loudly with pain and dropped to the floor. Turner then fled from the house.

Police Officers Kelsey and Murphy were made acquainted with the above facts and started for Bright's house. On the way down the officers caught Turner. They took him along with them so that Bright might identify him. When the officers arrived at the home of Bright they found him lying in a pool of blood. They telephoned for the patrol wagon and had him conveyed to Knorr's Park drug store, where Dr. Alcost dressed his wounds and advised that the man be sent to the City Hospital.

While Bright was waiting for an ambulance he identified Turner as the man who had stabbed him. Turner was conveyed to the Police Station, where he spent the night. This morning he was taken to the Four Courts to await the development of Bright's wounds, which are of a very serious nature.

KANSAS REPUBLICANS PROPOSE TO KNOCK OUT PROHIBITION.

They Favor Resubmission of the Question to the People—Resolutions Adopted by the Leavenworth Club—The High License Movement in Baltimore Championed by Prominent Catholic Church Dignitaries—Mass-Meeting To-Morrow.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Nov. 16.

THE Republicans of this city who favor a resubmission of the prohibitory amendment of the State Constitution held a mass-meeting last night that was largely attended, especially by business and professional men. The following was adopted as a declaration of principles and a constitution:

"In giving expression to the convention by which this association is to be governed, we hereby declare our unswerving confidence in the fundamental principles of the Republican party, the party that has fostered the best interest of the people and labored for the prosperity of the State and nation. We, the Republicans of Leavenworth City and County, believing that the Constitution of the State of Kansas and the amendments thereto need revision, do hereby organize ourselves into a Constitutional Convention Republican Club and do hereby pledge ourselves to use all honorable means to obtain at the earliest possible date a Constitutional Convention for the purpose as aforesaid, and do hereby pledge ourselves unto each other that will not support any person for State, county or legislative position unless he is in favor of a Constitutional Convention to be held at the earliest possible time."

Resolutions were also adopted calling on the Governor to convene the Legislature in extra session, and declaring that they were the true temperance men of the State and not the so-called "Prohibitionists." Letters were read from prominent men from different parts of the State. All Republicans present who were in sympathy with the movement were invited to become members of the club. The roll was signed by about 400 persons, among whom were a great many business men and mechanics.

High License Movement in Baltimore.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 16.—The high license movement will be given a new impetus Sunday evening, when a great meeting will be held with Cardinal Gibbons presiding with seven Catholic dignitaries as speakers. When the movement began with a committee of 100 and the working organizations, Cardinal Gibbons became one of the leading advocates of the reform. The Republicans and Independents indorsed it thoroughly while the Democratic plank was antagonistic and valueless. In the bitter personalities of the campaign the question did not receive very prominent attention, but now that the election is over it has come to the front again. Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul has aided this largely by showing what high license has done for Minnesota, where he says it has decreased the saloons 75 per cent. The Catholic leaders are practically unanimous for the reform. It is of especial importance to this city. There are 5,000 saloons here. The present law is a license of only $50 with no restriction on keeping open all night. It is asserted that a fee of $1,000 would reduce the number of saloons to about nine hundred, which would yield $900,000 to the public treasury. A fee of $750 would, it is said, produce about $750,000 from 1,000 saloons, and a fee of $500 would yield $750,000 from 1,500 saloons. Either of these sums would make an immense reduction in city taxation and relieve real estate from the burden which now oppresses it as well as reduce the amount of evil arising from the liquor traffic.

But there are two elements which are vigorously opposed to the scheme. One is composed of the extreme temperance people and the other consists of the proprietors of the small saloons. These latter probably embrace about sixteen hundred of the liquor sellers of Baltimore. Some of them have considerable influence in politics. It is estimated that they could control at least 8,000 votes. In view of the necessity of having public feeling fully expressed on the subject prior to the meeting of the Legislature the meeting under the auspices of the Catholic Church to-morrow night has a special importance. It is asserted by the friends of high license that the church can by its influence do a vast amount to lessen the difficulties in the way of the politicians who favor the reform. The character of the men who will take a prominent part in the meeting renders it additionally important. Cardinal Gibbons, the chief ecclesiastic of the Catholic Church in America, will preside and make an address. All the speakers thus far selected are Catholic, but it is the plan of the gathering that it be non-sectarian. The projectors of the meeting believe that now is the time for a strong declaration in favor of high license in view of the fact that most of the Catholic clergymen in Baltimore are in favor of high license. Among the speakers selected are Archbishop John Ireland of St. Paul, the Catholic apostle of temperance; Bishop John J. Keane, rector of the new Catholic university; Father James Nugent, the temperance advocate of England, and Father Cleary of Wisconsin. At the meeting resolutions will be offered for adoption. It is understood that Mr. Charles J. Bonaparte will be the Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions.

BRITISH GOLD

Used in the Purchase of Elevator Property in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—The Inter-Ocean says: A large deposit, said to exceed $100,000, has passed from buyer to seller, practically closing the sales of the Munger-Wheeler system of elevators.

The purchasing corporation is the City of Chicago Elevators Co., limited, of London. Of this company, Henry Ashe, President o the London Corn Exchange, is Chairman of the English Board of Directors, the directory containing many well-known names. The concern is represented in Chicago by a Board of Directors comprising the following well-known men: Henry C. Wicker, formerly traffic manager of the Chicago & Northwestern; W. A. Hammond, Cashier of the National Bank of Illinois; H. W. Rogers of the Board of Trade, P. B. Weare of the Weare Commission Co, Charles W. Wells of Brown & Wells, lawyers, New York.

The capital stock of the company is £400,000. The Munger-Wheeler elevators have a capacity of 6,400,000 bushels. Eight houses are included, all within the corporate limits of Chicago. All except two are owned, land and structure, by the company operating them. The exceptions stand on leased ground.

Cigar Manufacturers' Combine.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A special from Philadelphia says: Fourteen of the largest manufacturing firms of New York are about to combine and start a big establishment in Philadelphia. In recent years Philadelphia manufacturers have been cutting out the Gothamites in the Western trade, and this movement of the New Yorkers is for the purpose of retrieving some of their losses. The names of the New York firm in the scheme are kept secret, but it is hinted that the three principal firms are Straitton & Storm, Geo. P. Lies & Co. and A. Liebstein, Son & Co. The local cigar manufacturers assert that if the New York combination attempts to absorb any of the Philadelphia firms it will fail. It is stated that the firm of Jacob Langsdorf Sons, at No. 424 Market street in this city, is interested with the New York houses in the venture.

Looking in Castle Garden for a Wife.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A man whose locks were sprinkled with the frost of seventy-five winters, with slow and solemn demeanor strolled into Castle Garden yesterday and said to Detective Peter Groden, now known as the "wife obtainer," that he was Jonathan McReynolds of Greenwich, Conn., where he has a farm valued at $80,000. He wanted a wife, not a giddy girl, but a plump Irish lass who would love him for himself alone. Detective Groden told him to take a seat and then trotted out Mary McGowan, just arrived from County Tyrone, Ireland. Her looks and general appearance satisfied McReynolds, but her solicitude about his worldly and financial affairs made the old man suspicious. Mary was allowed to depart and Groden is now watching out for another candidate for McReynolds' hand and money.

LILLIAN RUSSELL.

What She Has to Say About the Stories of Her Alleged Elopement.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Lillian Russell arrived in this city last night with her maid, Johanna Seuramvfel, after a somewhat hasty retreat from Chicago and a journey full of adventure. She found awaiting her a report that she had eloped with Mr. Wm. Sanford, a well-known and wealthy New Yorker. In her flat at No. 229 West Forty-third street were two objects which demanded immediate attention. Both came from Mr. Sanford. One was an immense bouquet of roses and the other a note containing this pathetic appeal: "Your mother is giving me hades. Go over and shut her up." Miss Russell went over to her mother's at 244 West Forty-third street. There the correspondent found the prima donna, surrounded by sisters and other relations. Mrs. Leonard was not in the room and therefore the reporter does not know if her daughter had shut her up or not. Miss Russell, however, was furious enough to commit any atrocity. Some papers had printed the rumor of the elopement and had added that she was probably 33 years of age. "I will be 28 years old on December 4," she cried. "People will probably call it my 35th birthday, because I confess to 28 years, but I do not care for their opinions. As I said, I will be 28 years old next month and I have lived at least ninety years in experience. Now, do you suppose I would be such a fool as to run away with a man? It is absurd. Run away for what and from what? I am my own mistress and can do what I please," and Miss Russell looked defiantly at her relatives. "I did a lot of foolish things when I was young and silly," she continued, "just as every young fool does, but I got over that. No more elopements for me.

"Mr. Sanford is a good friend of mine, but so are a dozen or more other gentlemen. Why he should be connected with the alleged runaway match I don't know. I have not laid eyes on him for two weeks or longer."

"Who could have had an interest in starting the story?" was asked.

"Probably the same mean sneak who libeled me before," said Miss Russell. "It must be a man or a woman connected with the company. I wish I knew his or her name."

Miss Russell said that a dozen or more newspapers had been handed to her while coming to New York, and that she had lost ten pounds of flesh on account of the story of her elopement. The dining-car was burned shortly after the train left the Windy City, but the fright she received from the flames was nothing to the cruelty of the newspaper reports. When the correspondent was at the door Miss Russell bent over the banister and cried: "Don't forget to say that I cannot suppress my indignation."

Miss Russell came to New York suddenly, because she was attacked by horseness and wished to be treated by her physicians here.

A SLICK SWINDLER.

How a Chicago Girl Worked the Large Dry Goods Houses.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 16.—Miss Bertha Hoffman, a tall, handsome girl, 25 years of age, was arrested last evening by Central Station detectives and locked up, charged with obtaining goods under false pretenses. The complainants in the case are Marshall Field & Co. and James H. Walker & Co., who claim that they have been swindled out of thousands of dollars worth of wearing apparel. The girl's plan was novel and simple, and it is surprising that she was not detected in her crime long ago. Last May she appeared at Marshall Field & Co.'s retail store, and after introducing herself as a daughter of B. J. Wertheimer, an attorney at 149 LaSalle street, she said she desired to purchase a quantity of goods on her alleged father's credit. Her story impressed the manager of the store as being truthful, and she was allowed to purchase over $200 worth of underwear, the bill to be sent to Mr. Wertheimer. As Mr. Wertheimer was in Europe at the time, of course he never received the bill, and as no complaint had been sent to the dry goods house, the girl was allowed to select goods valued at $500 when she called a few days later. Up to a week ago she continued to call almost daily and buy goods, until she had obtained over $2,000 worth on credit, and still not a shadow of suspicion fell upon her. A week ago she called at the store of James H. Walker & Co., and, after representing herself to be a daughter of Adolph Heile, who lives at 184 Barry avenue, she was allowed to purchase $600 worth of goods in exactly the same manner in which Marshall Field & Co. had been victimized. When she called again to make another purchase, the firm, which had grown suspicious of her, refused to let her have any more goods, and word was sent to Mr. Heile, who hastened to inform Walker & Co. that they were being swindled, as he had no daughter answering the description of Miss Hoffman. The case was then placed in the hands of detectives, who watched both stores until last evening, when the girl appeared in Marshall Field & Co.'s store and was placed under arrest.

She at first denied that she had been guilty of any wrong doing, but finally broke down and confessed everything. The detectives visited her luxuriously furnished apartments at 335 Wabash avenue last evening, and secured a large trunk containing over $2,000 worth of the goods she had obtained. A visit to the house where her mother and sister reside brought to light about $1,000 more of the goods.

TO PREVENT COLLISIONS.

The Coachmen of New York City Will Adopt a Code of Signals.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 17.—President Angell of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has persuaded the coachman of the city to adopt signals which will soon be used by all drivers. President Angell said to-day the system was to be the best and most ingenious that had been attempted in the United States or any other country which would regulate street travel to avoid collision and prevent blockades. Signals would be given wholly by motions of the whip and any number of drivers approaching each other from opposite directions could, by close observation, give a signal whether they intended to turn to the right or left, or to stop. Consultations will be held with President Waters and other members of the Boston Coachmen's Benevolent Association before the list of signals will be completed. The list would then be printed on proper cards. Mr. Angell said it was on account of the well-known influence of these coachmen that the adoption of a code of signals was first proposed to them. As an association they entered into the enterprise with earnestness and favor, and saw at once its practicability and usefulness. There was no doubt that when the coachmen had taken the lead in the signal code the drivers of hacks, carriage hacks, express teams, job wagons and other vehicles would fall into line and adopt the same system. If they did not, it was proposed to call the attention of the Police Commissioners to the fact and make a strong endeavor to compel them to comply.

Not Legitimate, But Profitable.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 16.—A prominent merchant has received a letter which contains in part the following:

"My business is not exactly legitimate, but the article I deal in is safe and profitable to handle. The sizes are ones, twos, fives and tens. I cannot be plainer until I know you mean business," etc.

The party addressed is particularly requested to destroy the letter, and if he replies to be sure and send his name and address. A small piece of paper accompanied the letter containing the address:

"M. L. Rudd, 787 Ocean avenue, Greenville, Jersey City, N. J."

AN IMPORTANT STAKE

TO BE GIVEN BY THE ST. LOUIS JOCKEY CLUB AT FUTURE MEETINGS.

President Charles Green Returns From the Turf Congress and Discusses Its Labors—How the Abolishment of Sprints Will Benefit Racing—The People Tired of Short Distances.

CHARLES GREEN has returned from Chicago, where he was in attendance at the Turf Congress. The Congress, he says, was one of the best ever held. Among the good results of which it was productive is one which Mr. Green has been most desirous of bringing about for several years. This is the abolition of fractional racing, except for 2-year-olds. Hereafter all races for horses over 2 years old will be a mile or a longer distance. Mr. Green feels greatly gratified over this change, as he has been one of its most ardent advocates. He said this morning:

"The people are getting tired of going out to race tracks and witnessing scrambles. They want to see races. Distances less than a mile are all right enough for 2-year-olds, but the practice of having events of that kind for 3-year-olds or aged horses is bad and

INJURIOUS TO SPORT.

I am convinced that the people don't like it, and it unquestionably causes a deterioration in the stock. It does not require a great racer to go fractional distances in respectable time but when all races for 3-year-olds or aged horses are made a mile and over, much more attention will be given to training than at present. We will have a better class of horses and they will last longer."

"Public favor will be a better criterion for judgment, you think, than it is now?"

"Undoubtedly it will. The change will, I think, please everybody who takes an interest in the sport. The most representative men in the congress have all along been heartily in favor of it."

"Will the dates given to St. Louis clash with those of any other Association?"

"No, except the opening day Saturday, June 1, which will be the last day of the Latonia meeting. Our meeting next season will be one of the best ever held here. If I can arrange a programme in time I will call a meeting of the Association for next Saturday to consider it. A proposition to increase the amount of money to be offered will also be submitted."

"Is there any probability of St. Louis having a stake next year which will attract national attention?"

"That is a matter to which I have given some consideration and which I will bring before the association. I am very much in favor of it. It is too late now for us to establish the stake for the next meeting, but we can decide on it and have it properly advertised for the meeting to follow. I am of the opinion that such a stake would be profitable to the association, as the amount of advertising it would give the racing here would compensate for the money awarded. A big stake unquestionably does more in the way of advertising an association than all the rest of the stakes and purses offered, even if they are most liberal. Those who are interested in racing talk about it all through the winter and for weeks before it is run it commands attention everywhere that racing flourishes. It is the Suburban, Brooklyn Handicap and other big stakes which do most to keep interest in racing in the East alive. I am most favorably inclined to the establishment of a stake of similar importance here and I think it will be done."

WILL PLEASE BOOKMAKERS.

The bookmakers will all be very much pleased with the news of the St. Louis Fair Association's intention to have a big stake race here. The interest which such a stake attracts adds very much to their business. For an illustration of how such a stake increases interest it is not necessary to go away from home. The great Eclipse stake, which was run on June 7, 1886, and won by Miss Woodford, furnishes a good one. That race added to the attendance on every day of the meeting and the day it took place there was the largest crowd present which has ever assembled at the track.

WIND AND SNOW.

Suffering in the Blizzard—Stricken Sections of Colorado.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 16.—After an almost unprecedented struggle of two weeks with snow and wind, the Denver & Ft. Worth road is once more open for business. The company succeeded in releasing the imprisoned travelers and freight the first of the week, only to have the line crossed again in a few hours. It is believed now that the backbone of the terrible storm is broken and traffic will be uninterrupted. Stories from the blizzard-stricken section continue to arrive. In the Mora Valley, New Mexico, for the past ten days the snow has been from three to four feet deep. This section is thinly settled, but the Mexican families are in a destitute condition and, owing to heavy snow, are unable to move from their plazas.

A ranchman living near Corosa Springs, Colo., left three young children in his cabin one day last week and started with another man to town after food. They have never been seen since. Three cowmen from Las Vegas have been missing several days and they have no doubt perished. It is thought that when the snow melts away the remains of nearly 100 victims will be exposed.

Repeaters Sentenced.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—James Barrett, lately of 252 E. Sixty-second street, voted illegally in the Eighth Election District of the Eighth Assembly District last week, Tuesday, and Recorder Smith sentenced him yesterday to the penitentiary for one year and nine months.

Bernard Devlin, a white-haired, homeless man, was called to the bar. His counsel was young and showily dressed. Devlin pleaded guilty. Then he glanced rather superciliously at his prosperous looking counsel, and added: "Your Honor, there's nobody now but God Almighty to defend me. I hope your Honor will take into consideration the extreme youth of my lawyer."

"That is all very well, Devlin," said the Recorder drily; but I am informed that you are a regular repeater, and that you did this same thing last year. I sentence you to one year in the penitentiary."

THE STOCK TO BE FORFEITED.

Some Central Silver Trust Agreement Subscribers Surprised.

The principal owners of the stock in the Central Silver Mine announce that some startling revelations will soon be made in connection with the affairs of the company. They claim that some of the officers of the company, original owners of the property and the ones who were the leaders in the establishing of the trust agreement, have violated their agreement, and in consequence will be compelled to forfeit their stock, amounting to about 40,000 shares, the par value of which is $400,000, and the market value of which is from $12,000 to $16,000. The trust agreement states that on violation of the trust the stock shall be cancelled, and the offending members be compelled to lose it. The following extracts from the trust agreement give the grounds on which the complaint has been made and shows the authority on which the decision by the Board of Trustees is made:

"This agreement, made and entered into this 27th day of August, 1888, by and between John Stephenson, Sig. Mayer, John Gannt, W. W. Ashby, John C. Loss, S. Beffa, Albert Frankenthal, being all the subscribers to the Central Silver Mining Co., witnesseth: The said above-named persons, in consideration of the covenants and agreements hereinafter set forth and of the mutual benefit accruing to them, hereby agree, each with the other, for themselves, their heirs, personal representatives and assigns, as follows:

"5. No stock belonging to any subscriber hereto shall be sold at either public or private sale, and no subscriber hereto shall make any disposition of or have any power over his stock, transferred as aforesaid; all power or authority to control said stock being, as above stated, vested in the Board of Trustees.

"6. The pentalty for a violation of the fifth clause of this agreement shall be the forfeiture to the company of such stock offered for sale by said member, and the Secretary shall be authorized, when upon good evidence it is shown that said member has sold or offered for sale any of his holdings, to charge the said member with said stock and credit the treasury of the company with the same."

Since the above agreement was entered into a number of others have joined the trust.

THE PRINCIPAL ALLEGED OFFENDERS

against this agreement are Sig Mayer, the original secretary of the company, and J. Aultheimer, one of the members.

It is charged that a number of the members have been selling stock on sixty days' time, and that they are about forty thousand shares short. This stock was to be delivered after the expiration of the trust; in other words, it is claimed that they have taken advantage of their associates and violated the trust. This sixty days' stock was to be delivered December 28. The sellers have borrowed a large amount of stock from other parties agreeing to straighten matters out after the trust was dissolved, which event was set for December 24, but in view of the state of affairs the Board of Trustees has decided to continue the trust until about January 15, which will compel those who have sold futures to cancel their agreement or purchase the necessary stock from outsiders at a higher price in order to deliver it.

Mr. Mayer has been notified of the cancellation of his stock by the attorneys of the company. He claims he has not violated the trust agreement, but the company's attorneys claim that he has and that his stock must be forfeited.

The agreement is said to be the

in existence, it being an exact duplicate of the celebrated Pan-Handle Trust, which an attempt was made to break in Washington, but failed, the attorneys who were engaged for that purpose claiming that it was impossible to break it. The owners of the mine and original stockholders were the original subscribers to this trust, which was formed for the purpose of permitting the treasury stock to be floated. It is thought that this selling of futures was done in a hope to break down the price of stock at the expiration of the trust. The men who have sold short have borrowed about 15,000 shares of stock from other members. Mayer has about 25,000 shares of stock which it is expected will be cancelled, and Altheimer is said to have sold about 7,000 shares which he will have to cancel.

It is stated by one of the principal shareholders, who was seen this morning by a POST-DISPATCH reporter, that the mine was in an excellent condition, and would undoubtedly pay a dividend in January. He also said that the company now has $150,000 worth of machinery on hand and is not in debt. They have a new 100-ton smelter, a 20-stamp mill, concentrators, blowers, drills and other machinery, all in working order. He says that they have now in sight enough ore in sight to keep the machinery going for two years without developing the mine any further.

ARRAIGNED THE INDICTED.

Nolle Prosequies and Pleas of Guilty in the Criminal Court To-Day.

Those prisoners in the city jail who were indicted yesterday by the November Grand-jury were arraigned in the Criminal Court this morning.

A nolle prosequi was entered by Circuit Attorney Clover in the case against John Grady, alias Brady. The prisoner was released from jail several days ago. On October 20 it was charged he stole a gold watch from John Farrell, the foreman of a gang of laborers employed at the Merchants' Bridge. Farrell afterwards told Mr. Clover that he thought Grady did not mean to steal the watch and refused to prosecute.

A nolle prosequi was entered in the case against John R. Boas for grand larceny. Boas is a real estate agent, doing business on Pine street. He was charged with stealing the deed to some land on the Mobile & Ohio Railroad, the property of Minnie Nowland, 1447 North Seventeenth street. It appears that Boas had engineered a trade for the prosecuting witness and claimed a commission, which she refused to pay. Boas then retained possession of the deed. He admitted having the deed when arrested. Mr. Clover said he did not think he could make a case, being unable to prove any criminal intent.

Lulu Thomas, a young colored girl, pleaded guilty to assault to kill and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. On October 13, Lulu stabbed a companion named Martha Chambers with a knife, inflicting a dangerous wound.

William Kelly pleaded guilty to grand larceny, and Judge Normile sentenced him to two years at Jefferson City. On the night of August 14 Kelly entered the residence of Thomas F. Coughlin, 4100 North Second street, and stole two watches, one silver, the property of John H. Coughlin, and the other gold, the property of Thomas J. Couglin.

William Johnston, colored, pleaded guilty to assault to kill and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. On September 21 Johnston shot at John Layne. The prisoner is now in the last stages of consumption and is a pitiable sight. He can live but a short time.

EXPERT BURKS DOWNED.

THE MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE DETERMINED TO RETAIN EAST SIDE INSPECTION.

An Inexcusable Breach of Faith Arrays the Friends of the Political Expert Against Him—An Attempted Trick That Ruined Its Author—The State Grain Inspectors to Be Starved Out.

IN regard to the matter of State inspection on the east side of the river, there has heretofore been much division of sentiment among the grain dealers on 'Change, some of them believing that it would be for the best interests of the St. Louis market to allow the State Board of Railroad Commissioners to control inspection in Illinois as they do in St. Louis, under certain restrictions necessitated by the ignorance of Burks and his deputies, while others were of the opinion that the only way in which this city could retain its pre-eminent position in the markets of the world would be by keeping one inspection in its own hands that could not be touched by a man whom it required an act of the Legislature to make a grain expert.

THOSE IN FAVOR

of retaining East side inspection, as chronicled in the POST-DISPATCH, made no opposition to inspection east of the river when Burks promised to appoint competent men to do the work, and those who were in favor of doing all they could to smooth the way for the legislative expert were jubilant.

To-day there is but one sentiment expressed on the floor of the Merchants' Exchange, and among all millers, exporters, grain receivers and grain dealers, and that is one of intense hostility toward and bitter denunciation of Jasper N. Burks, Chief Grain Inspector of the State of Missouri. The positions of parties have been reversed, and those who were formerly his advocates are now his most outspoken enemies. The men who have fought his battles on 'Change, and who have stood between him and his enemies, loudly denounce him for breach of faith and word, and are indignant because he has caused them to place themselves in a position from which it is impossible for them to recede with any degree of grace.

THE STORY TOLD

by these gentlemen is as follows: Shortly after Burks was appointed to office he called upon John Wahl, who had opposed the passage of the inspection bill, told him that everything he had in the world was dependent upon the successful management of the grain inspection, and begged the St. Louis grain men to aid him in furnishing a satisfactory service, pledging his word that he would do all that he legally could to oblige the grain dealers. These assurances were accepted as true, and Mr. Wahl, as well as many others, was induced by them not to oppose East Side inspection. The matter was fully discussed, and the Chief Grain Inspector promised to reappoint at least two of the old inspectors on the East Side. With this understanding the Board of Directors agreed to ask for the resignations of the former inspectors, and to give Burks charge of the East Side.

The breach of faith in the appointments was fully explained in yesterday's POST-DISPATCH. At the meeting held yesterday afternoon the story told by Messrs. Currie and Robinson, the men whom Burks had said that he would appoint, was heard. Their statement was to the effect that Burks had promised to pay them at least $2,000 a year, and that on this pledge they had agreed to accept the positions tendered. As soon as the Board of Directors had passed a resolution declaring the Burks inspections on the East side regular, the State Inspector, in violation of all his pledges, had informed them that they would receive but $1,500 a year. This, of course, upset the entire arrangements, and left the east side at the mercy of the Burks experts, unless the Merchants' Exchange took steps to rescind their action. As stated in yesterday's POST-DISPATCH, this was done, and the east side is still in the hands of the Merchants' Exchange inspectors.

CUTTING OFF THE INCOME.

That the supporters of Burks should be indignant at such a breach of faith on his part is very natural, and they are now the most determined in opposition to him. All declare, that no matter what promises he may make, he need expect no further favors from the Merchants' Exchange, but that the law will be observed in its letter, and every bushel of grain that can be sent across the river will go there. As the elevators are all united there will be no diminution of income to the stockholders in case every car is sent to East St. Louis. The railroad rate, except from local points, is the same to St. Louis and East St. Louis, and this morning a number of telegrams were sent out, ordering shipment to be sent to the latter point. The millers declare that they will buy their grain either in Illinois or in the country, making their own inspections, and avoiding inspection charges. It is estimated that 80 per cent of the income that would have come to Burks, had he kept faith, will be cut off, and that the force of country inspectors will be cut down in the same proportion.

THE BREWERY DEAL.

The Negotiators Leave the City—Nothing Done as Known.

President Ellis Wainwright of the St. Louis Brewing Association, when seen this morning, said there was nothing new to report as to the English syndicate deal for the Brewing Association, and he did not think there ever would be. The negotiators for the stock, Messrs. Murray, Underwood and Monroe, have all left the city, and the purchasers now have no representatives. The only thing yet given out is the statement authorized by Mr. F. L. Underwood. Just what there is in this remains to be seen. So far as Mr. Wainwright, and those who have stood by him, the same position is maintained and Mr. Wainwright reiterates his opinion of Mr. Underwood.

John H. Douglass, directive head of the Knapp, Stout & Co. company, left last night for a 1,000 mile trip up the Upper Mississippi to look after the Company's saw-mills and lumber interests.

An Impassable Street.

Lumbermen are complaining bitterly of the impassable condition of Angelica street from Hill street eastward to the city wharf. All of the wagon traffic from the wharf between Ferry street and Bremen avenue is now forced to go out either on Ferry street or Bremen avenue, causing much inconvenience and unnecessary expense. So far one company alone has had to expend $1,000 this season on account of Angelica street not being improved, and yet the same company pays $2,500 taxes each year. The subject is to be called to the attention of the member of the House of Delegates in the Sixth Ward.

Accident and Fire.

A fire in R. G. Williams' laundry, 2628 Olive street, last evening was extinguished after an hour of hard work by the Fire Department. The loss to the machinery and building (owned by Mrs. A. Leveworth) was $2,200.

Engine No. 10 while going to the fire demolished a buggy at Jefferson avenue and Market street. Mrs. Agnes McWilliams, who was in the buggy, was thrown to the sidewalk and was badly hurt. She was taken to her home, 915 Locust street.

Industrial Interests.

Carpenters' Union No. 403 will have a special business meeting to-night.

The sawmills of this city have cut up 300,000 feet of pine lumber this season so far.

Is an inflammation of the mucous membranes, and may affect the head, throat, stomach, bowels or bladder, but catarrh of the head is the most common, often coming on so gradually that it has a firm hold before the nature of the trouble is suspected. It is then exceedingly dangerous and treacherous, liable to develop into consumption. The eyes become inflamed and red, there is a throbbing in the temples, ringing noises in the ears, headache, capricious appetite, and sometimes loss of sense of smell and hearing. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for this ever increasing malady. It attacks at once the source of the disease by purifying and enriching the blood, which, as it reaches the delicate passages of the mucous membrane soothes and rebuilds the tissues, giving them tendency to health instead of disease, and ultimately curing the affection. At the same time Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up the whole system and makes one feel that he has taken a new lease on life.

EAST ST. LOUIS.

The Launtz Block Destroyed by Fire Early This Morning.

At 6 o'clock this morning an alarm was sounded for a fire in the Launtz Block, a large three-story brick building on Missouri avenue and Fifth street, East St. Louis. The first floor was occupied by the East St. Louis Paint & Glass Co. The second floor was offices. On the third floor were two large halls, one of which was occupied by Golden Rule Lodge, No. 374, I. O. O. F., McDowel Post, G. A. R., and the Knights and Ladies of Honor. The other hall was occupied by K. of L. Assemblies Nos. 9,125, 3,835 and 3,970, Progressive Council, No. 1,117, A. L. of H.; Col. Mannan Camp, Sons of Veterans; First Mutual Building & Loan Association, Geo. S. Bailey Lodge, No. 18, S. M. A. A., and the "colored" I. O. O. F. The furniture in this hall is a total loss.

The building was the best in the city. It was completed less than two years ago. The fire originated in the paint store—spontaneous combustion, probably. Several barrels of oils, turpentine, varnish, etc., were soon aflame, and in ten minutes the flames were over half the house. The Fire Department beat its former record by throwing water in four minutes from the time the alarm was turned in.

Mr. Willson, the manager of the Paint & Glass Co., who lives in the rear of the store, barely escaped with his life after assisting his wife and children to escape through a window. His wife jumped fifteen feet to the ground. The back door lock was out of repair and could not be opened. The flames were in his room before he desisted from endeavoring to save wearing apparel. The building cost $17,000 and was insured for $7,000 in different companies of which H. D. Sexton is agent. The paint and glass company carried a heavy stock of goods with but $4,000 insurance, having recently reduced the policy. Mr. Lantz' office and library, valued at $1,500, is a total loss, having no insurance. The Golden Rule Lodge I. O. O. F. only suffers the loss of the furniture in their reception room on the second floor. The west half of the building is greatly damaged, the entire front of the first floor being burned out.

Martin Williams, a switchman in the Wabash yards, had his hand badly mashed yesterday, while coupling cars.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church are making arrangements to give a fair during the first week of December.

Mrs. C. T. Jones left this morning, for a short visit to friends in Lokin, Ill.

The Concordia Gesang Verein will give an entertainment to-night at Sage's Hall.

Legion No. 30, Select Knights, A. O. U. W., gave a dress parade drill at its hall last evening that was witnessed by quite a crowd of spectators.

Frank Kroos, an employe of the Provident Chemical Works, had his right hand caught in a cog wheel about 10 o'clock this morning. The hand was crushed. Dr. Louis F. Waibel dressed the injury and sent the man home. It is feared the hand must be amputated.

A girls' cadets company will be organized here withing a fortnight. A number of ladies, including Mrs. F. W. Mott, Mrs. G. Bradford, Mrs. Peter Westervelt, Mrs. S. E. V. Swart, met at the residence of Mrs. G. G. Bradford last evening, for the purpose of organizing a cadet corps of young girls. The project was successfully conducted. Capt. Beardsley of the Carondelet Cadets will drill the girls. The old Henry Blow mansion, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Bradford, will be utilized as the Armory.

The Ladies of the Order of Eastern Star gave a literary and musical entertainment last evening at Westerman's Hall. Quite a large number of people attended the performance, which terminated with a candy pull.

Herbert Calhoun, colored, aged [illegible] years, while trying to turn a back "[illegible]" on a vacant lot at the corner of [illegible] street and the Missouri Pacific Railway, about [illegible] o'clock this morning, fell heavily on his left side, breaking his left arm [illegible]. Dr. Thomas Heber dressed the boy's arm and had him removed to his residence on Broadway near Mall street.

THE COLLINS BOYS.

A Complaint That They Are Instigated by the Devil in Their Pranks.

Yesterday an old man hurriedly entered the office of Justice Ryan. He was greatly excited, and as soon as he could regain his breath, told the Judge that he must ask the protection of the law against the assaults of "the two Collins boys."

"How old are the boys?" asked the clerk.

"One is about 10 years old and the other one 8. The both of them are little devils."

"What have they been doing? Surely such small boys could do you no serious injury."

"The divil they couldn't. You ought to see them. They throw rocks at me and the old woman, break the windows, and have nearly torn the house down. Why, the little divil tear the boards off me house with their hands and teeth."

The old man was very earnest in the matter and insisted in making a complaint against the father of the boys, whom, he claimed, had encouraged them in their actions. The complaint is a very queer one, the following extracts being exactly as sworn to by the plaintiff:

"The petitioner states that the defendant is the father of and has control of two minor boys; the plaintiff further states that the said boys are of vicious and bad disposition and have for a space of three months past, through the instigation of the devil and their own bad designs, and also by the encouragement of the said defendant, been annoying and threatening the lives and limbs of the complainant and his wife and the safety of their property.

"Constantly, on all occasions, both day and night, these boys have been bombarding the plaintiff and his wife with all kinds of missles; stones, brickbats, tin cans and refuse.

* * * * * * * * * *

"While the plaintiff was on his way home from the corner grocery with a bucket of beer he was attacked on the public highway by these young ruffians, who spilled his beer.

"The plaintiff says the said boys for the three months past have attacked his house, throwing bricks, rocks, clods of dirt and refuse, breaking his windows, injuring the chimney and damaging the weather-boarding of said building by tearing off the same with their teeth and hands, the defendant encouraging them to keep on."

For the damage thus resulting to his building the plaintiff demands $300 and costs and asks judgment against the defendant for that amount. Dalton & Hopkins are the attorneys for the plaintiff. Constable Thomas Hand served a summons on David Collins yesterday and the case will be tried November 27.

The name of the plaintiff is Michael Brinkley and he lives at 4211 Ashland avenue.

Ill Winds

That blow "naebody any good" are plenty on the storm-vexed Atlantic, to say nothing of the occasionally typhoon-swept Pacific. The hapless voyager, when shaken up by the heavings of the "briny," should take that pleasantest and most salutary of doses, a wineglassful of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the finest stomachic and tonic that ever warmed, regulated and quieted the human interior. Railroad jolted and steamship shaken travelers will exercise a wise provision by supplying themselves with a sufficiency of this incomparable medicine for the journey. So will mariners, emigrants to the West, and others about to "seek fresh fields and pastures new." Malaria, the scourge of newly cleared and mining districts, is completely conquered and surely averted by the Bitters. Liver, bowel and kidney complaint and incipient rheumatism it annihilates.

MAJ.-GEN. SCHOFIELD REFLECTS ON JEFFERSON BARRACKS CAPTAINS.

He Finds Causes for Desertion in the Neglect by Commanding Officers of Their Duties—A Recommendation That Should Be Acted On—Control of Companies Delegated to Ignorant Sergeants.

Maj.-Gen. Schofield.

MAJ.-GEN. Schofield's annual report, which was published in full yesterday in the POST-DISPATCH, shows that he has carefully read the articles on life in the army written by a reporter of the POST-DISPATCH, who enlisted in the regular army and served three months at Jefferson Barracks. It also shows that he has carefully perused the evidence taken by the court of inquiry which sat at Jefferson Barracks and was convened by order of President Harrison at the earnest solicitation of the POST-DISPATCH for the investigation of the charges of ill-treatment of recruits. The evidence brought out by it established in detail every charge of ill-treatment of recruits, insufficient and unfit food furnished, brutality of non-commissioned officers, neglect of their duties by the officers in command of the companies at the Barracks and negligence on the part of the officer in command of the post.

In his report Maj.-Gen. Schofield says that measures have already been taken to secure "greater care in the treatment of recruits by officers and non-commissioned officers." He also says: "The leave no room for doubt of the fact that the character of the commanding officers has much to do with the extent of this evil. In some instances it appears that captains are in the habit of leaving the care and discipline of their men to the First Sergeant and other non-commissioned officers without that constant supervision and control which the captains should exercise."

"In all such cases," he recommends, "the captain should be promptly removed from the command which he so seriously neglects."

These observations are based directly upon the record of the Court of Inquiry. If there was one fact clearly proven to the satisfaction of Col. H. H. Lawton, the President of the court, it was that the companies of instruction at the Barracks had been grossly neglected by the captains. The whole burden of the discipline and management of the companies was placed upon the non-commissioned officers. The First Sergeant, usually an ignorant fellow, swelled with conceit over the authority intrusted to him by his lazy superior, had entire charge of drills, which were by commissioned officers. The kitchen Sergeant—sometimes under the direction of the First Sergeant, but more often without that control—had charge of the mess, drew provisions from the commissary, made savings from company rations, superintended the preparations of meals and their service to the men. Notwithstanding that the Articles of War especially enjoin upon commanding officers the inspection of food furnished their men, it was shown in evidence that such inspections were rarely and carelessly made.

The officers themselves admitted this neglect, though they presented as an excuse that they were frequently on special duty under circumstances which made it impossible to care for their companies. They were placed on courts-martial or were sent to the front with detachments of recruits. These reasons accounted for some of the neglect, but by no means accounted for all.

The testimony of the sergeants was to the effect that the real control of the companies was in their hands, and that the commanders seldom appeared at drills, and never supervised the companies as they should do.

that for months they had not seen a commissioned officer at drill or in company quarters. That all orders were given by the non-commissioned officers, and all authority, even to the confinement of men in the guard-house, was exercised by the sergeants.

The sergeants who so controlled and inflicted misery upon the recruits were for the most part inexperienced men. Only one or two were serving their second enlistment and according to the testimony given the majority had served less than eighteen months. In such short service they were expected to have acquired the whole art of war in so far as the common soldier needs to learn it and to be prepared to teach newer members of the army than themselves. Some of them were German and had not acquired sufficient mastery over the English language to pronounce all the words of any single command correctly.

The neglect of a commanding officer was shown to a terrible degree in the testimony regarding at the Barracks. Sergeants had been carrying on gambling games, fleecing men and demoralizing the command for a long time without interference from any source. So flagrant were their violations of law that immediately upon the presentation of the court's report to the Secretary of War all the sergeants of Company B were reduced to the ranks and ordered to the front. Owing to the intimidation of recruits similar charges against other sergeants were not proven, but it was shown that nearly every non-commissioned officer in the Barracks had been guilty of some brutalities and violations of law. There were a few bright and shining exceptions, sergeants who in spite of the lack of proper supervision refused to take advantage of opportunity and abuse the recruits.

So gross was the neglect of companies by their captains that but one company kitchen in the Barracks escaped censure from the Court of Inquiry which rose one day and made the round of the kitchens at the dinner hour. But one dinner appeared to be sufficient in quantity and of good quality. But two captains had that day inspected the food served the men.

REMOVAL OF CAPTAINS.

It is plain that Gen. Schofield refers to Jefferson Barracks captains, not only because it is known that he has read the Court of Inquiry record, which shows such neglect as he refers to, but because of the peculiar nature of his recommendation. The captains of companies at Jefferson Barracks are not permanent commanders of such companies. They have been temporarily relieved of their permanent commands, and are detailed to command companies of instruction at Jefferson Barracks, where the custom has been to keep them for two years. They can be relieved of this duty at any time and placed upon other special duty or ordered back to their companies. Such removals can be accomplished at any time, but the captain cannot be removed from command by his company except by court martial, or by being placed on special duty. Should his recommendation be acted on by the Secretary of War, at least three of the five companies at the Barracks will be relieved of their present commander, and be placed under new officers.

A Year in the Work-House.

Judge Cady fined Edward Tansey $250 and costs in the First District Police Court this morning. Tansey is a negro and was charged with disturbing the peace. On Wednesday night while a white man named Joseph Bailey was walking down Spruce street, between Sixth and Seventh, he was held up by two negroes, who went through his pockets, but found nothing worth appropriating. Tansey was identified by two witnesses as having been concerned in the affair and will serve a year in the Work-house in consequence. His companion was not captured.

HORSES AND MULES.

Receipts of the Former Liberal and of the Latter Light.

The receipts of horses during the closing week were liberal, but the demand was limited, owing to the absence of Eastern buyers. Small, smooth horses, for the Southern trade, were the best sellers, while heavy horses and streeters were in poor demand. Prices, which continue to drag, were as follows:

Heavy draught, extra	$140 to $180
Heavy draught, good	110 to 140
Drivers extra	150 to 200
Drivers good	100 to 140
Saddlers	125 to 165
Southern horses	80 to 100
Southern mares	80 to 110
Plugs	20 to 50

The receipts of mules were light, and the demand good for all well-fatted animals, 4 to 7 years old. Local dealers all wanted good mules, 14 to 15 hands, 4 to 7 years old. Prices were:

14 hands, 4 to 7 years old	$ 75 to $ 80.00
14½ hands, 4 to 7 years old	85 to 92.50
15 hands, 4 to 7 years old	100 to 110.00
15½ hands, medium, light weight	100 to 110.00
15½ hands, extra	130 to 145.00
16 to 16½ hands, extra	150 to 165.00
Heavy plugs	50 to 70.00

The Funeral Thief's Booty.

Special Officers Allander and Smith of the Third District have obtained a confession from Fred Bauten, the "funeral thief," whose clever capture was reported several days ago. All of the property stolen has been recovered and will be turned over to the owners to-morrow or Monday. It consists of two gold watches, three gold-headed umbrellas, several revolvers, chains and breast-pins, two pocketbooks, a hat and several shawl straps, two razors, a writing desk, furs and dresses and a quantity of money. The desk is supposed to have been stolen from Rev. Mr. Waliser, Jefferson and Scott avenues. Almost every article has been identified. Four warrants for larceny have now been sworn out against the prisoner, which bid fair to send him to Jefferson City for the next few years of his unnatural life. The property was recovered in Bunten's room, near Third and Walnut streets.

FIGHTING STARVATION.

DESTITUTE CONDITION OF THE MOTHER OF CHAS. STEWART PARNELL.

Alone and Penniless on Her Father's Estate Near Bordentown, N. J.—Her Pride Prevents Her From Making Her Necessities Known—Why She Keeps Her Situation a Secret From Her Son—Her Means Swallowed Up by Injudicious Generosity.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A special from Bordentown, N. J., to the Herald says: While Charles Stewart Parnell is fighting Ireland's enemies in England, his aged and infirm mother is fighting starvation in New Jersey. The misfortunes that have followed Mrs. Delia Parnell for many years have culminated at last in this—that she is alone, penniless and actually destitute of the necessities of life. She has now little more than a roof to shelter her. Unless something is done for her relief she will not have that two weeks hence.

Mrs. Parnell lives alone at Ironsides, the estate of her father, Commodore Stewart.

Mrs. Delia Parnell.

Since the death of her daughter, Fanny, there have been very few visitors at Ironsides. She has no close acquaintances in Bordentown. Her nearest friends are Mrs. C. F. Carslake and her daughter, Miss Anna Carslake, of No. 140 West State street, Trenton. Miss Carslake was a schoolmate and lifelong friend of Fanny Parnell.

Mrs. Parnell's pride was so strong that she would not let even these friends know anything of her necessities, although she was face to face with want. On Monday she wrote to Mrs. Carslake warmly urging her to come to Ironsides at once. Mrs. Carslake and her daughter came over on Tuesday. They were so amazed and distressed by what they saw, that they determined to make the facts known and appeal to the friends of the Irish cause for assistance.

This is what she found out: Of all the great estate which Mrs. Parnell inherited from her father many years ago, there is nothing left now but Ironsides, which is a farm of 300 acres near here, and some property on Tenth street, Philadelphia. All the rest and all of Mrs. Parnell's personal means have been swallowed up in unlucky investments and by injudicious generosity. Ironsides is incumbered with a mortgage of $8,000. The Philadelphia property is in litigation. The taxes on Ironsides and the interest on the mortgage are long overdue, and unless $563 is raised within two weeks the aged woman will lose even the roof over her head. Mr. Parnell, of course, knows nothing of his mother's situation. She will not permit him to know it. She thinks he has about all the cares he can stand now. Her friends believe that even if he did know it he could do very little to help her. The information they have of him is that the enormous expenses of the London Times trial and the parliamentary work have left Mr. Parnell almost as poor as his mother. They have reports of the rigid economies he is said to be practicing in consequence.

MISS LOUISA F. KOKEN.

Identification of a Woman Who Shot Herself Yesterday Afternoon.

The body of the unknown woman who committed suicide on a vacant lot at the corner of Old Manchester road and Shaw avenue yesterday afternoon has been identified as that of Miss Louisa F. Koken. At an early hour this morning her brother, William T. Koken, called at the Morgue and identified the remains.

A few minutes before 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon a tall, slender young lady attired in mourning was seen walking down the Old Manchester road. Reaching Shaw avenue she stopped, looked around her in a half frightened manner, drew a revolver from her dress pocket and deliberately put a ball through her head. She fell to the ground without a moan. Willie Sprague, a boy living at 2625 Dalton avenue, was the only witness of the tragedy. He heard the shot, saw the fall, then hastened away in alarm to summon assistance. Mounted Patrolman Hornecker heard the shot and galloped to the scene. The woman was dead when he arrived, the ball having entered her head just behind the right ear and penetrating the brain. No one knew the deceased and the body was registered at the Morgue as unknown.

At 11 o'clock this morning Wm. T. Koken, living at 2636 Cambria street, gave his testimony at the inquest held at the Coroner's office. Mr. Koken said his sister was 29 years of age and unmarried. He attributed her suicide to melancholy caused by her own ill health, the sickness of her mother and the death of a brother which occurred last June. The deceased had been sick for over a year and often remarked that she was of no good in this world. He had never heard her threaten to take her own life. Yesterday morning at about 10 o'clock she left home ostensibly to do some shopping and failed to return. She kissed her mother before she left and seemed unusually bright and cheerful. A verdict of suicide by shooting has been returned.

THE CHESS TOURNEY.

Present Standing of the Patient Players at the St. Louis Club Room.

The following games have been played in the Seventh Annual Handicap Tournament of St. Louis Chess Club located at No. 904 Olive street since Wednesday.

Game No. 154—Rinkel in the third class gives Love in the fifth class odds of pawn and two moves, and the checkmates Love on his fifty-fourth move.

Game No. 155—Woodward and Reis both in the fourth class play even, the guioco piano opening being adopted and after thirty-four moves Reis resigns.

Game No. 156—Woerner in the fourth class gives Kanage in the fifth class pawn and move and after 2 hours and 20 minutes and twenty-six moves the game was made a draw.

Game No. 157—L. Haller in the second class gives Wright in the fifth Queen's Knight odds, and Wright wins in sixty-two moves, the end game being finely played, and a nice pawn study.

Game No. 158—Bird in the third class gives Kanaga in the fifth class pawn and two moves, and after one hour and fifty-two minutes and fifty-five moves Bird resigned. Dr. Fick and Fresch played on one of their games Tuesday night, which will be finished to-night. Kanaga and Bird play their second this afternoon from 3 to 6, and Tilden and Koerper play, commencing about 8 p. m. To-morrow night Wm. Haller and Woerner play at 7:45 p. m.

The players now stand as follows:

Judgment Against the C. J. & M.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 16.—Thursday afternoon Mr. Clement Carpenter of Toledo filed a declaration for the complainant in the case of Wm. Stewart Tod of New York against the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw Railroad. Mr. Carpenter represents Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, the attorney in the case. The declaration alleged a debt owed the complainant by the company of $228,476.95. Yesterday morning Judge Severens awarded the complainant judgment in full for the amount claimed, as the company confessed judgment. A bill in equity was then filed by Mr. Carpenter and on its representations Judge Severens appointed Mr. Walston H. Brown of Brown Bros., New York, receiver for the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw Railroad. Mr. Brown is required to give a bond for 50,000. The receipts of the road, it is stated, do not pay half its fixed charges, and it is financially in a bad condition. The road is over 300 miles long and runs from Cincinnati to Allegan and has in operation portions of the Toledo & Ann Arbor Railroad under a lease. It has consolidated with it the Cincinnati, Van Wert & Michigan, and the Jackson & Michigan.

CHURCH CHAT.

Rev. Palmer Will Be Installed Sunday—Y. M. C. A. News—Sunday Subjects.

It was decided at the meeting of the Presbytery yesterday afternoon at Lafayette Park Presbyterian Church that the installation of Rev. Samuel C. Palmer as pastor of that church will take place Sunday as originally announced. A reception in honor of Rev. Palmer was held at the church last night and was largely attended. The installation services Sunday will be conducted by Rev. S. J. Niccolls, Rev. George E. Martin, and Rev. U. W. Thompson.

Dr. Merrill of the First Church will preach in the Pilgrim Congregational Church Sunday morning at 10:30. This church occupies their newly-fitted audience room to-morrow morning and evening. The pastor, Dr. Stimson, preaches at the Gospel service in the evening at 7:45. These evening services are rendered especially attractive by the beauty of the church and the brilliancy of the electric lighting. A large audience was present last Sunday and the after-meeting was very full and interesting. It is a pleasant service, arranged with particular reference to the wants of outsiders and non-church goers, who are made welcome and who attend in numbers.

Rev. Mr. Gauss was received into the Presbytery yesterday and arrangements made for his installation as pastor of the Carondelet Church on Sunday evening, November 24. The service will be conducted by Rev. Dr. J. H. Brooks, Rev. W. G. McDonnold and J. H. Shields.

Rev. Samuel Pettigrew of the Presbytery of Oregon was received by the St. Louis Presbytery yesterday.

The clerk of the Presbytery was instructed yesterday to put the records in the Safe Deposit Co.'s vaults.

"Suggestions From the Paintings of Verestchagin" is to be the subject of the address at Memorial Hall next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, by Mr. W. L. Sheldon.

The feast of St. Lawrence O'Toole will be celebrated Sunday with great pomp and ceremony in the church of that name.

His Grace the Rt. Rev. Archbishop Kenrick will visit Kirkwood to-morrow in company with Vicar-General Rev. P. P. Brady, to administer confirmation.

Mr. T. S. McPheeters will lead the young men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. at 9 o'clock this evening. Subject: "Two Things That Must Go Together." This is the closing service of the week of prayer and it is hoped that there will be a grand rally of young men.

At 4:30 p. m. to-morrow Rev. B. E. Reed, rector of Mount Calvary Episcopal Church, will deliver an address to young men at the Y. M. C. A., Pine and Twenty-ninth streets, being the first in a series of addresses by prominent pastors. Mr. R. L. Fletcher of Philadelphia will sing a solo. At 3:30 p. m. the General Secretary will conduct a Bible class. All young men are invited.

On next Tuesday evening the members' course of entertainments will be opened at the Y. M. C. A. by the renowned Boston Quintette Club. The personnel of the club this season is as follows: Mr. John Rhodes, America's greatest violinist; Herr Paul Mende, late solo violinist of Patti's concerts; Herr Adolph Burose, flute virtuoso of Berlin; Mr. Armin Recker, solo violin and viola; Mr. Louis Blumenberg, the world renowned violincellist, and Miss Annie Carpenter, the famous soprano. Members of the association are admitted free and have the privilege of bringing a friend.

A meeting of gentlemen was held Wednesday evening for the purpose of preparing a programme for the laying of the corner-stone of the Passionist Fathers' Retreat, near Normandy, on Thanksgiving Day. Mr. P. O'Malley was chosen marshal, with the following aids: P. Monahan, Jas. Hardy, Wm. J. Baker, John Fitzgerald. The procession will form at the Normandy Station and march to the grounds, a distance of about one-quarter of a mile. Special trains will leave the Narrow Gauge Depot every half hour, commencing at 10 o'clock. Dinner and refreshments will be served on the grounds.

Rev. G. H. Grannis will deliver a stereopticon lecture on Paris, at the [illegible] Congregational Church, corner of Grand [illegible] avenues, Thursday evening, Nove[illegible]

Dr. Sale of Shaare Emeth [illegible] lecture on "The Church of the Future" to-morrow.

A LADY'S FOIL.

Miss Helen Englehart Defeats Mr. Walter Sanders in a Fencing Match.

Special invitations were sent out yesterday afternoon to witness a fencing match which was to take place at the Grand Opera House between Miss Helen Englehart of the Viena lady fencers, and Mr. Walter Sanders of the Westliche Post reportorial staff. About two hundred people assembled in the theater, most of them members of the company and newspaper men. Mr. Ed Preetorious was nominated as referee and at the command "On guard," the combatants took their positions. Miss Englehart was clad in black tights and wore a sash of white silk. Mr. Sanders wore his ordinary street costume, over which he buckled the pad. Miss Englehart exhibited a gorgeous figure and looked from the start more than a match for her opponent.

At the command, "Advance," their right feet went forward, and their foils crossed. There was but little playing. Both were after "touches," and they wanted them quick. It was a very fair exhibition of hard fighting, but the audience was somewhat disappointed. Fierce lunges and rushes are not as pleasant to look at as the more graceful and skillful thrusts and passes of accomplished fencers. The audience was divided in its favors, however, and anxiety for the result gave birth to enthusiasm.

Miss Englehart won the first two touches within the first five-minute bout, and her friends cheered her. She left the chalk mark of her foil-end fairly on Mr. Sander's breast, and two points were awarded her.

In the second bout Mr. Sanders secured a touch by a lunge in carte, and a second immediately upon recovering his guard by a lunge in tierce.

The fifth touch was won by Miss Englehart, who struck her adversary squarely over the heart.

Mr. Sanders scored the sixth by a rush and a quick lunge under Miss Englehart's guard.

Miss Englehart ended the match by securing the seventh, and the score stood four for Miss Englehart and three for Mr. Sanders.

The little woman was heartily cheered, and members of the company tendered her an ovation.

THE MUNICIPAL ASSEMBLY.

Regular Meetings of the Council and House of Delegates.

The Council met last night with twelve members present and President Comfort in the chair.

Mr. Comfort introduced a bill authorizing the Mayor, Comptroller and President of the Board of Public Improvements to buy a certain piece of property in the northern part of the city for $150,000 or lease it for $9,000 per annum. The property, which is not designated by the bill, is that now owned by the Visitation Convent.

The bill to increase the salaries of Fire Department watchmen was amended, making the pay $70 instead of $80 a month, and sent to engrossment.

Mr. Nelson introduced a bill authorizing the Bell Telephone Co. to put its wires underground.

The resignation of E. S. Rowse from the Lafayette Park Commission was accepted and Mr. Given Campbell elected to the vacant place by acclamation.

Other minor matters were disposed of and the Council adjourned until Tuesday evening.

THE HOUSE.

The House of Delegates met last night with twenty-three members present and Speaker Alt in the chair.

The amended bill from the Council, paying Morris Landrigan $75 for damages inflicted by the Fire Department, was amended and the amount raised to $125.

The Council amendments of the Boiler Inspector bill were concurred in and the bill passed.

The bill authorizing the city to sell its gas stock was read the first time.

Mr. Huber introduced a bill appointing a Deputy Milk Inspector at $1,000 a year.

The House adjourned until Tuesday.

The Strike at Brazil, Ind.

BRAZIL, Ind., Nov. 16.—The day men at the Rosedale Bitumen Co.'s mine are out on strike for $2.10 a day. About five hundred men are thus idle. A strong effort is being made to induce 1,000 miners in the Brazil Block Coal Co.'s mine there to join. The strikers' demand is contrary to a yearly agreement for $2 a day.

THE DOCKET CLOSING.

THREE HUNDRED SUITS FILED FOR THE DECEMBER TERM.

A Decrease in Litigation—Suits Mostly on Notes, Open Accounts and for Divorces—An Order to Sell Out J. A. Smith & Sons Made—A New Real Estate Company—Court Notes.

This is the last day for filing suits for the December term docket of the Circuit Court and its effect has been noticed by the clerks. Three hundred suits were filed up to noon to-day for the December term. This a smaller record than that of the December docket of 1888.

The Hydraulic Press Brick Co. sues J. J. Prendergast on an account for $558.46.

John Williams, Jr., began a suit against Morris Light & Co. for $517.87, claimed to be due on an account for goods sold and delivered.

Fred Stahl, the livery stable-keeper, sues the Olive Street Railroad for $250 damages for running into one of his carriages on Grand and Olive street.

The Hyatt Pure Water Co. sues the Interstate Gas & Water-works Co. for $6,894.16 said to be due for filters, machinery and work at Sedalia and Holden, Mo.

Patrick H., Susan and John Donahue sue Bank of Commerce for $1,714.70 on bills of exchange, which it is claimed the defendant converted to its own use.

Anthony Doessegel sues Henry Koopman to recover a lot on the northwest corner of Salisbury and Twelfth streets, which he claims Koopman defrauded him of.

George Spieler wants $1,000 damages from Oscar and Henry Koehler for a beating they gave him on the evening of October 15, 1889, without provocation.

Mrs. Emma Wright asks to be divorced from Thomas S. Wright on the grounds of drunkeness and desertion. They were married in this city in August, 1885, and separated in September, 1888.

Bessie H. Fosburgh, by her next friend, J. A. Vail, has sued Rose C. Rogers for possession of some property in city block 522 E, northeast corner of Washington avenue and Robbins lane.

Dwight Tredway, President of the St. Louis Cable & Western Railroad Co., entered suit against that company for $5,000 on a promissory note which he indorsed for accommodation and had to pay when due.

Edwin Coontz entered suit against the Missouri Pacific Railway Co. for $20,000 damages. He says the engine he was running for the defendant company was defective, and on November 15, 1888, the wheel broke, throwing the engine off the track, thereby injuring him and breaking his right leg.

Philip Herzog wants to be divorced from Mary Herzog for several reasons, among which he mentions an irritable temper, failure to keep her marriage vows and finally desertion. They were married in Belleville last January and she left him last September.

NOTES.

A pro forma decree of incorporation was granted by Judge Klein this morning to the Missouri State Pharmaceutical Association.

An order of sale of the effects of the James A. Smith & Sons Ice & Fuel Co. was granted Charles P. Chouteau this morning by Judge Klein.

An application was filed in Judge Klein's court this morning by the Paddock Hawley Iron Co., for leave to sell the effects of Robert Graham and the request was granted.

The Baird, Barnard, Hamilton Real Estate Co., has filed articles of incorporation in the recorder's office. The capital stock is $5,000 half paid up. Henry N. Baird holds twenty-five shares, Henry C. Barnard one share, T. C. Hamilton twelve shares and R. T. Beatly twelves shares.

Joseph H. Tiernan, Frank Obear and Thomas F. Farrelly, the commissioners who were appointed to appraise land on the route of the Union Avenue Railway Co., were allowed $125 each in Judge Dillon's court this morning.

An alternative writ of mandamus was issued in Judge Dillon's Court this morning upon the Western Commercial Travelers' Association, ordering that body to show cause on or before November 20 why it should not reinstate Gustave A. Wille as a member.

A motion for a new trial was granted by Judge Klein this morning in the case of Mrs. R. A. Arban against the Missouri Pacific Railway Co. on the ground that the jury in granting Mrs. Arban $3,500 for the death of her husband did not obey the court's instruction.

Conversation on 175 Subjects.

The Youth's Companion does for hundreds of thousands of people in America what no other paper has ever attempted. It takes every great question and clearing it of all wordiness, all partisanship, all irrelevancy, and all disputation, presents to its readers the plain facts about vital issues, in a form suited to easy assimilation, uncolored by prejudice and scrupulously just.

During the year 1890, there will not be less than 175 of these model Editorials. Is it not worth the price of one cent each to clearly understand all the intricacies of these great National Questions? At the end of a year will it not be worth $1.75 to you to feel that you can converse intelligently on the 175 important subjects which have been uppermost in the public mind?

No one can read these interesting weekly Essays for one year and not be a changed person. The vision will be broader, the mind clearer, the analytical instinct developed, and the judgment more discriminating.

Thousands of interested persons from every state in the Union are now sending us their $1.75 for these Editorials during the year 1890. Is it safe to delay your decision? Are you sure that it will not be forgotten? Will it not be wiser, as you finish these lines, to send your $1.75 to

WILL the courts allow it to be made more dangerous to enforce the law than to violate the law in this city?

THE public is warranted in looking for the usual scoop in to-morrow's SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH. Few Sundays pass without it.

IS THERE a lottery ring in this city which is powerful enough to command the leniency of sworn officials and defy the laws of the State?

THE abominations of the gambling ring are still fresh in the memories of St. Louis people. Are they to be repeated by a more disreputable lottery ring?

JASPER BURKS will learn to his sorrow that the tricks of a politician are the worst substitutes for qualifications in the office of Chief Grain Inspector.

THE gamblers succeed in avoiding prosecution themselves, but they seem to have no trouble in securing the arrest and prosecution of patrolmen who interfere with their business.

THE SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH will not disappoint the high expectations of the public to-morrow. It will present a splendid store of fresh news and bright, entertaining letters and articles on a variety of interesting topics.

THE full duty of the police will be done when every vender of lottery tickets is placed behind the bars and the local lottery organ has been compelled to discontinue publishing lottery advertisements by vigorous and persistent prosecution.

DOES the "buffet" which Vice-President MORTON operates in his Shoreham Hotel under a vulgar bar license keep open on Sunday? J. ELLEN FOSTER'S plea that it is a necessity seems to indicate that it does. Necessity does not know one day of the week from another, and it certainly knows no Sunday law.

VETERANS THE FIRST VICTIMS.

The party which claims to be the only friend of the Union veteran should be the last to proscribe and punish him for an honest difference of opinion in politics. The Union veteran is about the last man to whom should be denied the common right of the citizen to do his own thinking and voting without fear of incurring punishment or disability of any kind. What did he fight for, what did he save the Union for, if not to secure such freedom to all?

But when such Union heroes as Gen. MARLON D. MANSON and such Union soldiers and pioneers of the anti-slavery cause as GEORGE W. JULIAN are asked to turn over their Federal positions to Republican camp-followers who never were soldiers, they are coolly told that their record in office is faultless, and that the only reason for bouncing them is that they are Democrats and the non-political and purely ministerial positions they hold are wanted for Republican henchmen. It seems to be the policy of the administration to treat Democratic voting as a greater crime in Union veterans than in anybody else, and to make them the most conspicuous victims of what Mr. HARRISON called "the brutal spoils system," when he was posing as a civil service reformer.

Witness the cases of the two SMITHS of the Pension Office. Both were Union veterans and pensioners. JAMES E. was rerated from $20 to $30 per month and got $1,236 of back pay. HIRAM got a more liberal rerating and $6,035 of back pay. JAMES E., being a Democrat, was dismissed and made a conspicuous example of for his share in the rerating. But HIRAM, who was a Republican and more responsible for the rerating, retains his position in the Pension Office, with an annual salary of $3,500 a year. HIRAM seems to be retained for the sole purpose of letting all the world know that the real reason for dismissing JAMES E. was not his rerating, but the far more exasperating offense of being a Union soldier Democrat.

INDIAN LEASE CORRUPTION.

The cattle men of Kansas City interested in the leasing of Indian lands are trying to "get even" with the proprietor of the Kansas City Times by confessing a part of their exploits in the field of bribery. They assert that they paid him $5,000 to stop the Times articles insisting on the expulsion of the cattlemen from the Indian Territory under the Cleveland Administration. They further assert that after keeping quiet but a little while the Times broke out against the cattlemen again, and is still keeping up the war because they refuse to pay it another $5,000 for its support.

The Times' proprietor is entitled to a hearing before judgment is passed on his part in this transaction. He may deny it, or his account of it may put a materially different face upon it. When men begin to boast of their exploits as bribers and corruptionists their statements are not always to be accepted without question. Briber and bribe-taker are both corruption lists of the same stamp, morally, the only difference between them being that the briber has the strongest pecuniary interest in the affair and has money which he is willing to pay for corruption by which he expects to make more money.

But on the cattlemen's own showing they were in the bribery business and are not ashamed of it and are willing to tell about it in a case where they gave $5,000 in a vain effort to secure the silence or support of a newspaper. This raises the question, How many men have they bribed who did not disappoint them and are therefore not exposed? Men who would bribe a Kansas City newspaper with $5,000 would surely pay far larger sums to corrupt Congressmen, government officials, Indian chiefs and Indian agents who could assist them in swindling the Indians in the matter of a land lease.

This little episode is therefore only another indictment of the Indian land leasing business—another proof of the necessity of putting an end to that business and to the land monopoly which is keeping the Indian Territory a desert in consequence of the unsettled and antiquated system of land tenures prevailing there.

PRESIDING at a World's Fair Committee meeting in Chicago Friday, Mayor CREGIER of that city said: "New York does "not want the Fair and St. Louis does. "Many people are working for St. Louis, "and I am in favor of having our general "committee pass a strong resolution in- "dorsing St. Louis as the location if we "cannot get it ourselves. If we don't get "it I believe St. Louis will, and it will not "be a failure." Thus is the St. Louis boom carrying everything before it in Chicago as well as in New York, and no one need be surprised to see both of those cities working for St. Louis when Congress meets. The logic of our central location and our unexampled success in getting up Fairs and Expositions, when it makes St. Louis the second choice of each one of her ambitious competitors, cannot be ignored by Congress.

THERE was general congratulation among the honest people of the United States and Canada over the passage of the Weldon extradition act by the Canadian authorities. The act, however, has not yet been allowed by the imperial authorities. It is stated that it will be held back until the Senate has passed upon the proposed treaty between Great Britain and the United States, as it may then be unnecessary. Perhaps the subject could be better covered in a treaty, but either by treaty or by law the refuge opened in Canada to scoundrels from this country should be abolished. It is a standing temptation to rascality.

HENRY CLEWS of New York, in his weekly circular, touches upon the way in which the trusts have unsettled the stock market and injured other interests. The enormous inflation of values by the trusts gave an element of weakness to the market which enabled the bears to raid the entire stock list. No one cares much that the holders of trust certificates have failed to realize their expectations of them, but they give encouragement to vicious financial methods and injure honest holders of valuable properties. The robber trusts are enemies to all interests and must be abolished.

THE convention of lottery agents, held within two blocks of the Four Courts night before last, neglected to pass resolutions of thanks to the police authorities and the Court of Criminal Correction. This failure to recognize publicly the protection and encouragement given the lottery business by the city officials smacks of ingratitude.

The South the True Friend of the Negro.

From the Atlanta Constitution.

No observant person can travel over the two sections without being struck with the difference between the negroes of the two sections, and by the attitude of the whites toward them. In Georgia, and wherever he went in the South, Gov. Hill saw the negroes engaged in almost every branch of industry. He saw them as mechanics, working side by side with the white mechanics; he saw, or could have seen, negro contractors employing both white and black labor. In short, he saw a condition of affairs here totally different from that to which he is accustomed in the North, so far as the status of the negro is concerned.

Race prejudice, as the North understands and practices it, has never existed in the South. There have been outbreaks and outrages that seem to give a color to the Northern view, but they bear no more relation to the policy of the white people of the South than the race riots in Ohio bear to the policy of New England.

The race prejudice at the South is (or would be, but for outside interference) a friendly intention, common to both races, to hold themselves apart from each other in all their social relations. That at the North is based on a desire to drive the negroes into corners where the whites will not come in contact with them.

Illicit Advertising.

From the New York WORLD.

People who read last Sunday's edition of the New York newspaper which evolved the journalistic motto: "Never print a paid advertisement as news matter," must have been surprised to read therein the story entitled: "A Lesson in Thrift." It was the story of a Jersey City clerk who invested his last dollar some time ago in a lottery ticket—the name of the lottery being given—and won $15,000. This story, ingeniously written, made ninety-four lines nonpareil. At the rate usually paid by the agents of the lottery company referred to, it must have netted the virtuous newspaper $250. Not only was this rascally advertisement printed as reading matter and paid for, but it was printed in violation of the law of New York, which expressly prohibits the advertising of lotteries. How noble and virtuous are they who never print reading matter for pay!

Colorado for St. Louis.

From the Pueblo Chieftain.

No State in the Union is more indebted to a city than Colorado to St. Louis. Of the several cities of Colorado, Pueblo is the most deeply indebted to the Future Great, and is doing all in her power to prove grateful. It is a matter of self-preservation for this city to plead the cause of St. Louis. We plead our own cause in talking St. Louis, for the city of mine owners and the city of smelters have many interests in common. St. Louis is a truly metropolitan city, and her new buildings are equal to any upon the American continent. Her streets are paved with granite and her parks surpass those of any other city over which float the stars and stripes. St. Louis is centrally located as to population, area and railroads. Justice must give her the World's Fair and Colorado should be in line for her best friend among American cities. As to our interests there is no other choice. The Chieftain has been most persistent in its advocacy of St. Louis, and for the good of Pueblo, Colorado and the West and South hopes to see that city successful.

Plutocracy's Insolent Voice.

From the New York WORLD.

The Tribune of this city yesterday gave this brutally frank and insulting utterance to the thought and feeling which are dominant in the Republican party since its sale to the monopolists:

"Elections cannot safely be left to the ignorant and impoverished, who have no stake in the welfare of the country."

"Out of the fullness of the heart the mouth speaketh," and the utterance we have quoted above with all its arrogant insolence to the plain people, is merely a candid expression of Plutocracy's attitude and opinion. The monopolists of every kind, the possessors of great wealth—well or ill gotten as the case may be—the beneficiaries of an unjust tariff which taxes the impoverished many for the benefit of the rich few, are banded together not only to propagate the un-American doctrine of inequality, but to fasten it in practice upon the institutions of the country. They bought the Republican party a year or so ago, and the organs of that party are bound to maintain the doctrine.

Harrison's Evening Strolls.

Philadelphia Record's Washington Letter.

President Harrison does something which no other President of recent years has done in taking a stroll through the streets every fair evening after dinner. Sometimes Mrs. Harrison goes with him, sometimes a guest, sometimes he is alone. Buttoned up in the best looking overcoat in Washington and the worst looking slouch hat, he saunters through the parks and along the avenues in front of the White House, stopping very often at the home of the Postmaster-General, who has just gone home from his long day's work and eaten his lonely supper. One year ago Harrison had never met Wanamaker. Now no man is closer to him, not even Law Partner and Attorney-General William Henry Harrison Miller. Harrison gives his confidence slowly and cautiously, but once given, as it has been to Wanamaker, it has been given forever and his friendship dates back accordingly to the beginning of things.

The Eagle to Displace the Spear Head.

From the New York Times.

The conspicuous part played by the eagle on Roman military standards may never be fully equaled in the ensigns of our army, yet it appears not unlikely that a very noticeable change will soon be made by the substitution of this emblem for the spear head now used on color staffs in our regular service. In that case the militia would soon adopt the new custom, and it would become practically universal in our country. It seems that the objection found to the spear head is that it injures the colors, which are caught and torn on it. It may be suggested that the eagle would present many more sharp points, and thus only increase the difficulty complained of. But the model which the Quartermaster General has designed is skillfully adapted to avoid the objection, the wings, for example, being nearly folded, indicating only the intention to fly.

A Party Necessity.

From the Chicago Herald.

Vice-President Morton could not have foreseen the result of the recent elections, but if the future had been open to his gaze he could not have done anything more wise and providential from a Republican standpoint than his starting a new bar-room at Washington has proved to be. It fills a great want at a time when the Republican party requires something to drown its sorrow, and it is pleasant to state that no grief-stricken statesman who applies to its ready and efficient bartenders goes away uncomforted.

MEN OF MARK.

THE late King Luis of Portugal smoked twenty-five cigars a day.

SIR CHARLES RUSSELL, the English barrister, makes more money than any lawyer in the world.

DAVID CHRISTIE MURRAY, the novelist, has been very successful in the lecture field of Australia.

ENOCH PRATT, the Baltimore philanthropist, is more than 70 years old, but does not look to be more than 50.

BENSON, "the Jubilee Plunger," is again in a state of financial collapse, and is contemplating a lecture tour in this country.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL MILLER is said to have more influence with President Harrison than anybody in the country, excepting Baby McKee.

THE Prince of Patagonia and King of Araucania lives in Paris. He is not holding his throne for fear of the Chilians. His name is Achille and he is of Irish origin.

MAXWELL SOMMERVILLE of Philadelphia has just purchased a beautiful antique cameo of Jupiter Ægiochus, preserved from the first century. It is said to have cost more than $50,000.

THE Russian Emperor as he grows older becames in appearance more and more a typical Cossack; colossal in figure, entirely bald, flat-nosed, and enormously mustached and bearded.

SECRETARY RUSK is the most eccentric member of the Cabinet. He is thoroughly democratic in his tastes and there is an undercurrent of hostility between him and the aristocratic Secretary of State.

ELIPHALET CONDOR of Georgia has been married [illegible] times. Five wives are dead, three are divorced, and the ninth bids fair to be a wide fair Elphalet has had twenty-seven children—[illegible] whom nineteen survive.

M. LAGUERRE, the friend of Gen. Boulanger, has a political poodle called Mirza. When he asks it, "What do you think of Ferry, Mirza?" it barks viciously and then howls dismally. M. Laguerre taught it to do this by kicking it whenever M. Ferry's name was spoken in its presence.

WOMEN OF THE WORLD.

MRS. LANGTRY has taken St. James' Theater, London, for a year.

THE Queen of England gave the Duchess of Sparta two India shawls.

MRS. KENDAL'S recipe for keeping husbands at home: "Feed the beasts."

EX-QUEEN ISABELLA of Spain is said to have made Buffalo Bill an offer of marriage.

THE German Empress expects her accouchement in the spring, and hence her absence from Athens.

MRS. KENDAL, the English actress who has just come over, tells a reporter that she "has left a little brood, eight children, at home."

MISS ELLEN GLADSTONE, vice principal of Newham College, Cambridge, looks more like her famous father than any other of his children.

PRINCESS BEATRICE played the pianoforte accompaniment to Mr. Wolff's violin when that brilliant artist appeared before the Queen recently.

MRS. O'SULLIVAN DIMPFEL, the Baltimore society actress, simultaneously announces a suit for divorce and her appearance in a new tank drama.

BERTHA MARKS, who has been playing the piano in London with Sarasate, is called "the finest pianist that has appeared since Essipoff and Menter."

GABRIELLE GREELEY, the only surviving member of Horace Greeley's family, lives at Chappaqua with trusty servants, and leads almost the life of a recluse.

LADY SANDHURST, upon whom the freedom of the city of Dublin has been conferred, is said to be the first woman upon whom that honor has been bestowed for 300 years.

MISS YSABEL ECHEGUREN, daughter of the Spanish Consul at Mazatlan and the richest heiress on the Pacific Coast, is just 17, and she is pretty, modest and unpretending.

MISS JENNIE FLOOD, daughter of the bonanza king, is the richest unmarried women in California, and spends a great deal of her time in looking after the conditions of the poor.

MRS. AMELIA B. CANTOR-ERICSON-BARLEY-PORTER-FERGUSON-WHITE-MARTIN-CONSIDINE TENTER is the full name of a resident of the Black Hills, Dakota. She is now living with her ninth husband.

Leading Enchantment to George's View.

From the Epoch.

"What does Charlie say in his letter, Marie?"

"He's going to California for two years. I'm so glad!"

"Glad?"

"Why, yes. I can go to the theater with George without having to break off my engagement with Charlie."

All Alive and None Kicking.

From Time.

Louise (of New York): "What! Have you been married eight times, Elsie?"

Elsie (of Chicago): "Yes; I've had eight husbands. And I've been very fortunate, too; not a single one of them died on my hands."

Tempered Bliss.

From the Somerville Journal.

"Won at last!" he exclaimed triumphantly. "Yes, Charlie," said she, shyly, "but only on the strict condition, you know, that I am to be the one."

WARRANTS APPLIED FOR,

BUT MR. DIERKES WAS ABSENT AND HIS SUBSTITUTE REFUSED TO ISSUE THEM.

Mr. Smyth, Who Filled Mr. Dierkes' Chair, Refused Warrants in Lottery Cases—The Complaining Officers Refuse to Wait and the Whole Matter is Postponed Until Monday.

Slowly and by dint of hard shaking the police are being awakened and the chances in favor of the maintenance of law are growing a little brighter.

The order made by the commissioners on Thursday afternoon that captains should notify the patrolmen to look out for offenses against the lottery law committed on their beats and arrest the offenders was not sent out until this morning. No explanation of the delay is given, and there is no apparent reason why the criminals should have been granted two days more of immunity from arrest. The result of this delay was that last night boys were crying Southern papers announcing a lottery drawing as boldly as ever they did, and even this morning, two days after the order was issued, they stood within three feet of policemen and yelled at the top of their voices that their papers contained a full account of the drawing.

Chief Huebler did not know that the papers were being sold on the street, and when he was informed of it and asked why the patrolmen had not obeyed the order of the board he said that the order had just been sent out to the districts, and from that time on it would be obeyed.

The police stopped raiding the lottery agents to-day and turned their attention to policy. Several arrests were made and prosecutions will follow. The reason for the day is that the police have determined to attack it in another manner—by warrants. And here, when they were ready after all this prodding to do their duty, they met with another official who was neglecting his.

Mr. Bernard Dierkes, the Assisting Prosecuting Attorney, is the one who issues warrants and the one to whom application for warrants must be made. The Chief of Police ordered several warrants to be sworn out this morning, charging various persons with violations of the lottery law. Detective Desmond went to Mr. Dierkes' office to swear out one against William Rothschild, who was arrested yesterday. Mr. Dierkes was not in, but a Mr. Smyth was there in his place. Detective Desmond applied to Mr. Smyth for the warrant, but Mr. Smyth refused on the ground that he was not sure he could draw a warrant for such a case correctly and he was afraid of issuing a defective warrant. The officers would have to make application when Mr. Dierkes was there.

Detectives Williams and McGrath also applied for warrants for offenders who have not been arrested and on the same ground.

Other detectives wanted warrants and waited for them, but since Mr. Smyth refused all warrants in lottery cases they were told to go about their duties and wait until Monday.

Where was Mr. Dierkes?

He was singing. He is a member of a choir which sings on Saturday morning, so Mr. Dierkes does not attend to his official duties on Saturday morning, but leaves a substitute, who cannot well be expected to be familiar with the legal technicalities.

When Chief Huebler heard that the warrants had been refused, he gave orders that the matter be dropped for to-day and held over until Monday.

"A number of warrants will be sworn out on Monday," he said," and the arrests will follow. We expected to make the arrests to-day, but I see we can't get the warrants. Mr. Dierkes goes away on Saturday mornings and never comes down on Saturday afternoons, so we will have to wait until he comes."

The delay may be dangerous. There are criminals in the city who know that they have been guilty of an open, a flagrant offense, and that when the police begin to arrest among the first warrants sworn out will be warrants for them. They learned this morning that warrants for them had been applied for. By Monday they may be out of the city.

It seems that whenever a move is made to check crime of this kind and bring the criminals to justice something or someone stands in the way, and the trouble is invariably at the door of some negligent or incompetent official.

Raids in Two Districts.

This morning several raids were made simultaneously on the known resorts of lottery agents, and a number of old offenders were hauled up. The raids were made under the direction of Detectives Moberly and Kelly.

Detective Moberly, assisted by Patrolman Rudolph and Hancock, made a raid at Seventh and Morgan streets, the known resort of Barney Russell, George Hotchkiss, Thomas Griffiths and several lesser lights. The three above-named were all in the room at the time of the raid and were captured. All three of them are old-timers, and their histories have been written up in the POST-DISPATCH. These men are held at the Third District Station.

Detective Kelly, assisted by Patrolmen Dunden, Kavanaugh, Dunn, Ryan, Downey and McKennan, superintended the raiding of the Central District dives.

The old veteran Aaron Block was found at 1418 Wash street where he has established his headquarters. Block's record in St. Louis covers a period of several years. A history of the criminal prosecutions brought against him for the past five years has been published in the POST-DISPATCH. The prisoner says he is 66 years of age and has no occupation.

Joseph Moore and John R. Amos were arrested at 817 Pine street. Both men say they are laborers. Moore's true name is Joseph Baker and he sports considerable fine jewelry for a laboring man.

George Carr says he is a steamboat man. He was caught at 213 Gratiot street.

Monroe Cravens is another old timer whose record has figured in the columns of the POST-DISPATCH. Cravens has had little to do with organized lottery, preferring rather to establish a policy game in the city. Cravens was taken into custody at his headquarters, southeast corner of Eleventh and Morgan streets. The prisoner says he is a bartender.

Capt. Boyd After Them.

Capt. Boyd of the Third District said this morning that he was going to make it very hot for lottery agents, etc., in his district.

"I have got orders from the Chief to break up all that kind of a thing in this district, and I am going to," he said. "I can do this kind of work up in first-class shape. I expect to have this district cleaned out in a short time.

"It's a pretty hard matter to do this, but by hard work and close attention to this class of men we will soon be able to get rid of them all. They meet in saloons or in rooms in some alley and are constantly on the watch for us, but we will be able to fool them."

Ten Craps Players Captured.

The police of the Third District last night raided the negro craps joints of Wm. Curtis, at Eleventh and Morgan streets, and Bridgewater, at 725 North Eleventh street. Ten players were hauled in. The men arrested are Sylvester Ward, Geo. White, Henry Bell, Frank Anderson, Manual Gordon, Theo. Washington, Chas. Sanders, Jesse Davis, Thos. Valley and Ezzell Reed.

A Warrant Issued.

Mr. Dierkes returned to the Four Courts shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon and Officer Rudolph immediately applied for a warrant against John Gilbert, the editor of an alleged newspaper, charging him with advertising a lottery scheme. Mr. Dierkes was handed a copy of the paper containing an advertisement of a Mexican lottery. Mr. Dierkes referred to the statutes and finding that the advertisement was a flagrant violation of section 1,566, which forbids the advertising in the state of any lottery, whether its drawings be held within or without the State, he issued the warrant and it was placed in the hands of the officer to be served. Gilbert is the editor of the alleged newspaper which has been printing every lottery advertisement it could find for over two years, ignoring and defying the law.

THE BASE BALL WAR.

What the League and Association Magnates Are Doing To-Day.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The League convention remained in session yesterday from 11:15 a. m. to 3 p. m., when it adjourned to meet again at the Fifth Avenue Hotel on January 28. All day was spent in discussing the Brotherhood trouble. John I. Rogers of Philadelphia offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this League hereby declare that it will aid each of its club members in the enforcement of the contractual rights of such clubs to the services of its reserve players for the season of 1890, and that a committee of three be appointed by the League, with full power to act and to formulate and carry out the best methods of enforcement of said contractual rights of said clubs, and that said committee be authorized to draw upon the guarantee fund of the League for such amount as may be necessary to carry out the intent and purpose of this resolution.

John I. Rogers of Philadelphia, C. H. Byrne of Brooklyn and J. B. Day of New York were appointed a committee to carry out the designs of the resolution.

A. G. Spalding then presented the following:

Resolved, That no League club shall, from this date, enter into, negotiate or contract with players not under League reservation, or enter into negotiations with any club for the transfer of any of its players until February 1, 1890.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed, to be designated as the Negotiations Committee, of which the President of the League shall be Chairman, to which shall be referred all applications from players desiring positions on League teams, as well as applications from club members of the national agreement wishing to dispose of the release of their players.

"Resolved, That the Chairman of the committee shall be the exclusive channel through which such applications and negotiations can be conducted by the National League or any of its clubs, and said committee shall ascertain the terms upon which any such release can be procured or such contract executed.

Resolved, That all League clubs, in order to secure the services of such players, will indicate to the Chairman the positions to be filled and the names of the players wanted, and upon the unanimous vote of said committee a contract may be executed between a club and any player so approved and promulgated in the usual manner.

Resolved, That the committee, by its unanimous vote, be authorized to draw from the guarantee fund of the League any such funds as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of the resolution, to be repaid to said fund by the clubs benefited thereby.

This was also adopted, and Nick Young, C. H Byrne and Al Reach were named as the Negotiations Committee.

The convention then adjourned.

THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

The American Association accomplished little at its afternoon session. Applications of clubs for membership were referred to the Finance Committee, composed of Messrs. Whittier, Lazarus and Von der Ahe. Mr. Barnie was added to the committee for this special work.

Messrs. Phelps, Whittaker and Barnie were appointed a Commitee on the Revision of the Constitution and they were instructed to report as soon as possible.

TO-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The National League of Base Ball Clubs completed its work yesterday and before adjournment was taken the plan of action against the revolting Brotherhood players was adopted. Messrs. Byrne, Young and Reach, the Committee on Negotiations, which was appointed in accordance with resolutions adopted at the suggestion of A. G. Spalding, will work hard for the next few weeks so as to be able to present an encouraging report at the reconvened meeting on January 28. They say that there will be no difficulty in getting all the players necessary for the success of the game.

The American Base Ball Association met at the Fifth Avenue Hotel this morning to consider applications for membership and amendments to the constitution. The application of Syracuse was approved. At 1 o'clock the association concluded its work and adjourned to meet at Columbus, December 9.

Declared to Be Sane.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Dr. Reuben P. Holder, who has been confined as a lunatic in Ward's Island Asylum for the last ten months charging that he has been placed there by his brothers, who during his confinement took possession of his dental establishment, was declared sane by a jury in the Supreme Court yesterday. He will probably be released to-day.

To-Day's Bond Offerings.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—To-day's bond offerings were as follows: Registered 4s, $28,250 at 127; coupon 4½s, $6,000 at 105¾; registered, $2,000 at 105¾. All the offers were accepted.

BROWN-SEQUARD TALKS. The discoverer of the Elixir of Life tells what his tonic can and can not do, and what he thinks of the way it has been treated in America in to-morrow's SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH.

KILLED FOR A DRINK.

AN UNKNOWN MAN MEETS A VIOLENT DEATH ON MORGAN STREET.

Joseph H. Swarzendahl, a Saloon-Keeper, Strikes a Stranger Who Would Not Pay for Drinks, and When the Latter Is Picked Up He Is Found to Be Dead—His Skull Fractured by the Curbstone.

About noon to-day the dead body of an unknown man who had been killed by a blow given him by Joseph H. Schwarzendahl, was taken from the corner of Ninth and Morgan streets to the Morgue. Schwarzendahl is a saloon-keeper on the corner of Ninth and Morgan streets, and the killing was the result of a difficulty over the payment of drinks. The unknown man, who was about 50 years of age, came into the saloon with a bundle containing a pair of boots, and this he put up for drinks for himself and others whom he called up. After he had had several drinks Swarzendahl, who had been sleeping late, made his appearance in the saloon. The old man asked him to have a drink. He drank with him and the old man then refused to pay for the drinks, although he had a quarter in his hand. Swarzendahl seized the stranger's hat and threw it to the barkeeper, saying: "Keep it until he pays up."

REFUSED TO PAY.

The old man was obstinate and refused to give up his money. The barkeeper, becoming exasperated, seized the stranger's hand, wrenched the quarter from it and handed back 15 cents. Swarzendahl then got the hat which he had confiscated, put it on his customer's head and told him to get out. He shoved him and the old man fell. He then kicked him with his slipper, made him get up and led him to the door. According to the testimony of one witness, William Williams, Swarzendahl struck the old man in the face just as he got near the door. This Swarzendahl denies, and the others who were in the saloon at the time bear him out in his statement. Their names are: John Catlin, Robert Jackson and Frank Wencel. When the old man was put out he did not go away, but opened the door in a minute or so, and was coming in again, when Swarzendahl grabbed hold of him and thrust him out once more. A second time he opened the door, and this time began to apply a lot of vile epithets to the saloonkeeper. This made Swarzendahl angry and he full in the face with his fist. The blow knocked the drunken stranger down, and he fell on the gutter. When he left Swarzendahl went and picked him up and laid him down on the side walk. He then went back into the saloon. A crowd soon gathered around the fallen individual and a physician who came along pronounced him dead. Swarzendahl was placed under arrest by the police and the body taken to the Morgue.

Swarzendahl was taken to the Third District Police Station and his version of the affair was obtained by a POST-DISPATCH reporter, who saw him in his cell. He said:

"I only struck the old man once. When he fell in the saloon it was due to my shaking him up. I did not hit him then. I would not hit him at all, but he kept opening the door when I had ordered him away, and called me ugly names. I hit him in the face with my fist. On the third finger of my right hand I wear, as you see, a heavy gold ring and some of the skin off his nose stuck to the ring. He fell in the gutter when I hit him and I suppose the back of his head struck the curbstone."

The only eye-witness of the affair discovered by the police is a negro boy named Robert Pullin, who says he saw the blow struck, and saw the unknown man fall in the gutter. Swarzendahl has only been keeping the saloon on Ninth and Morgan for a short time and was married only the day before yesterday. He is only 21 years of age, but is a big and powerful man.

THE BODY.

The deceased has not yet been identified. He is a man of about 55 years, standing five feet eight inches tall and weighing about 165 pounds. He was dressed in a pair of new jeans pants, a blue shirt, blue blouse and black slouch hat. His hair is dark, his eyes dark and his face covered with a brown moustache, chin and neck whiskers slightly mixed with gray.

His nose is badly skinned, apparently by a blow. On the back of his head is a wound which caused death. The skull is fractured and indented. Two printers' rules, a knife and a number of small trinkets were found on the body.

BELLES AND BEAUTIES OF ST. LOUIS. The stars of the social firmament in St. Louis during the last fifty years will be described and some interesting pictures of by-gone belles and beauties given in to-morrow's SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH.

Who Mrs. Kendal Was.

From the New York Sun.

Mrs. Kendal by extraction certainly is a Jewess. The fact will probably be new to New York, and perhaps to London, too, but it is indubitable. The actress' mother was a Jewess, and her mother's father was a Jewish rabbi. Her mother's name was Elizabetta Merinus. The family came originally from Holland, where their ancestry had migrated from Spain, and, like Rachel, Bernhardt and other great stars, her Jewish blood has been no mean factor in making her so fine an artist. The greatest actors have been either of Hebraic or Celtic origin, for some of the most finished actors and orators in the world have been Irishmen as well as Jew. The success of the Kendals is beyond limit. They could undoubtedly play at the Fifth Avenue Theater until August if arrangements would permit. On Sunday, Austin Corbin has placed his favorite car at the disposal of Mr. and Mrs. Kendal, when they go to Philadelphia. Mr. Corbin will accompany them, dine with them on the car, and show the English actors some of the ultra-luxuries of railroad travel in this country. They have, besides sedulously attending rehearsals, appeared at a number of receptions, luncheons and teas in New York, and the social hospitality showered upon them by our people has been without limit. It is worth noting that New York society, which so persistently avoided Mme. Patti, Sarah Bernhardt and even Mary Anderson, has thrown its doors open to the widest extent to these English actors. The Kendals are enthusiastic about America, the people, the audiences and their success here, all of which is perhaps not surprising in view of their reception.

IS WOMAN ADVANCING? Julia Ward Howe, the well-known author and philanthropist, will discuss the condition of womankind in to-morrow's SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH.

Curious Experiments With Dogs.

From the New York Herald.

The first International Congress of Physiology was held at Basle, in Switzerland, September 10, 11 and 12, and was very well attended.

M. His of Leipsig read a paper on the ways of cerebral transmission. It was a description of the minute anatomy of the substance of the brain and spine, studied in their growth in embryonic life. M. Mosso of Turin read an account of his endeavors to measure cerebral fatigue. He measured the reduced force in the muscles of the arm after hard physical labor. He then measured the same muscles after much intellectual labor without any physical labor, and found the reduction of force the same as in the first experiments. He argued that the muscles had lost their normal excitability, and that this was due to the changed condition of the blood produced by the excellent cerebral activity. He argued that the blood of an overtired dog is poisonous to another dog.

Dr. Goltz of Strasbourg showed a dog from which he had a year before removed the left cerebral hemisphere. Though the presumed center of movement for the right forelag was thus gone, there was no paralysis of that leg. In scratching away gravel to find a piece of meat hidden beneath it the dog used both paws. His best working paw was evidently the left, but if this was held so that he could not use it he used the other. Dr. Horsley of London showed, by vivisection of a monkey, not only that in the hemispheres there was a center of movement for each paw, but for each toe of each paw.

NEWS IN THE LODGES.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN FRATERNAL CIRCLES FOR THE WEEK.

Appointment of the District Deputies for the Local Councils of the Chosen Friends—Mortality and Insurance in the Knights of Honor—A New Council of the Royal Arcanum.

THE Knights of Honor lodges in this city for some time past have lost by death an unusually large number of members. Old St. Louis Lodge, No. 13, lost four, and Mt. Olive Lodge six members during the past year. However, the prompt payment to the widows of deceased members of the amount stated in the benefit certificate speaks eloquently of the splendid financial standing and management of this order, which now numbers 133,000 active men.

The various city lodges are stimulated by the "Knights of Honor Auxiliary," which meets at least twice a month in a room especially prepared for its convenience by Frederick W. Bothmann, 1113 Clark avenue. The most important meeting regarding the initiatory teams to be placed in the field will be held at Bothmann's Hall next Thursday evening, November 21. Judge Wm. C. Jones, representative to the Supreme Lodge, will be present and instruct this branch of the order upon some of the new laws recently adopted by the Supreme Lodge. Mayor Noonan and other charter members of Aurora Lodge will debate some of the legal points raised by Grand Treasurer S. C. Bunn.

Last Monday evening Wayne Lodge held an interesting meeting, initiated several candidates and listened to Past Dictator Lockhart's resume of the marvelous achievements of the Knights of Honor and especially Wayne Lodge. Police Officer Con Boland was complimented highly by Grand Lodge officers for his efficient services rendered to the order.

Tuesday evening Mound City Commandery, the uniformed branch of the K. of H., paid the promised visit to Oak Lodge and captured the audience assembled by the excellent drill exhibited. All the comrades were delighted with the royal reception accorded the command. Music, vocal and instrumental, followed, and all present pronounced the affair recherche.

Wednesday evening old Centennial held a school of instruction of its own, and the manner in which Brothers Dailey, Schwartz, Suess and McLean conducted affairs surprised the Grand Lodge officers. The old members who remain away from meetings are missing all the fun.

Laclede, Lincoln, Washington, Bellefontaine, Anchor and Chevalier Lodges held instructive meetings and look with bright anticipation to the results to be accomplished under the direction of Bros. Clear and Lockhart, Dictator and Past Dictator of the Knights of Honor Auxiliary.

Wednesday evening St. Louis Lodge was well attended by many old steamboat captains who joined the order in 1878.

Seymour Lodge has awakened from its Rip Van Winkle sleep, and the young members promise to make things lively and keep the old gentleman dancing to the lively music to be furnished.

Mount Olive Lodge at its last meeting entertained its members and visiting friends with an impromptu musicale which was heartily enjoyed.

The meeting of Mount Olive Lodge, No. 848, last night, was well attended and interesting. One application for membership was received. Commencing with next Friday night, and to continue throughout the winter, the first, second and third meetings of the month will be enlivened by lectures, etc. The members should not fail to attend. Hon. John I. Martin, Grand Dictator, is active in arranging for the winter campaign.

Knights and Ladies of Industry.

Banner Lodge, No. 12, have a surprise in store for the grand officers in the near future, the date of which is known only to a select few. Banner also contemplates moving into a more roomy hall, the present being too small to hold its membership.

Monitor Lodge, No. 2, entertained the members and friends with a hop at the last meeting. They initiated one candidate and had three applications for membership, one of which is a prominent city official.

St. Louis Lodge, No. 7, had a rousing meeting last night. A large number of visitors from sister lodges were present.

The Grand Trustees organized last Tuesday evening, and are going to boom the order in the shape of a pamphlet setting forth the object of the order.

The grand officers signified their intention to pay each lodge an official visit in a body in the near future.

Bro. W. J. Carthy of Banner will leave no stone unturned to assist in booming the order. As one of the Grand Trustees he seems to be a hustler.

Order of Chosen Friends.

Acting Supreme Councilor Steber has made appointments of District Deputies for the local councils, as follows:

Bee Hive, Dr. R.J. Stoffel; Benton, Dr. J. C. Niedlet; Brilliant, John Bruce; Bright Light, Daniel H. Gotshall; Carondelet, George G. Bradford; Delta, L. M. White; Einigkeit, Rev. Otto Telle; Evening Star, W. C. Hill; Emmet, John B. Dempsey; Evergreen, Harry W. Smith; Fortuna, Gustav Proch; Golden Rule, Fred Schreck; Granite, W. W. Howard; Germania, Peter Moerschel; George Washington, John F. Scholle; Goethe, J. H. Bergman; Homer, Chas. I. Scott; Harmony, John H. Michelman; Isabel, J. M. Comerford; Jefferson, J. F. Mace; Liberty, Harvey J. Smith; Missouri, Frank Ritchie; Morning Star, A. Schlesinger; Magnolia, Hy. W. Williams; Montefiore, Max Goldman; McMillan, John Hulser; North St. Louis, C. Schawacker; Olive, Victor T. Cole; Oak, F. J. Brunold; Primrose, S. P. Mace; Pearl, Jos. J. Madeiras; Park, Jos. E. Ketterer; Pioneer, John Williams; Phil Sheridan, Wm. Brennecke; P. Cohn, W. H. Williams; Remy, Dr. Henry Schwartz; Ruby, Dr. J. E. Chambers; Rising Sun, Martin Lenhart; St. Louis, Wm. H. Glaze; Schiller, Louis Langhauser; Teutonia, Henry Stock; Tower Grove, John Bauer; Unity, John Korzenderfer; West Gate, Jas. A. McMillan; William Tell, Max Laski. On November 30 they will have a joint meeting and organize as a Board of Instruction and Information.

Isabel Council has good naturedly divided into two sides over the location of the meeting place. It was unanimously agreed that the side bringing in the largest number of new members should have the choice of location.

Emmet Council gives its initiatory ball at Euterpe Hall to-night. A gala time is anticipated.

The A. S. C. will visit Sylvan Council at St. Charles on Monday, December 9, to address the council and its friends at an open meeting.

Evening Star, the new council, is growing rapidly. Eighteen were initiated Thursday night and twelve new applications handed in.

Park Council initiated two candidates Thursday and had a host of visitors present.

A new council of Chosen Friends is being formed at Carondelet.

District Deputy W. C. Hill made his debut at Evening Star Council, to which he was assigned, and took hold like a veteran.

J. F. Mace, District Deputy for Jefferson Council, visited the council last night and made hosts of friends.

Missouri Council's pound party and entertainment next Thursday night at 1317 Franklin avenue, will fill the hall to its utmost capacity.

Bee Hive Council, the ex-baby, is putting on airs over its little baby sister, Evening Star Council, and visits it every meeting night to help it along.

West Gate Council keeps on initiating members, in its usual quiet and modest way, and is steadily going to the front.

The Protective Committee members are already discussing the bill of fare of the banquet Wednesday night at Pearl Council.

Liberty Council has in its ranks a large number of veterans in society work in other orders who appreciate the additional valuable benefits in the O. C. F.

Germania Council now meets the first and third Saturdays of each month.

There is a prospect of two well-known councils in North St. Louis consolidating for better work.

Knights and Ladies of Honor.

The Grand Lodge officers, delegates and visitors to Grand Lodge session, visited Anchor Lodge No. 1173 last Tuesday evening. They were received and given a reception in a royal manner. Remarks for the good of the order by G. Pro. Geo. Cochran, Thos. W. Seymour, Lilian C. Robeson and J. G. Young, Chas. R. Fields of Kansas City, Mo., were pressed on the minds of all present, and the recitation given by Louis Steber was very amusing. A serenade came in next, after which the famous Excelsior Quartette, consisting of E. A. Houser, Geo. L. Dorsey, A. W. Jackson and F. G. Kessling, sang several songs. Vocal selections by Sister Cochran, Ida and Pauline Bruegel and K. McDermott delighted the visitors. The hospitality of this lodge was shown by the way refreshments were served. Dancing was the main feature for the balance of the evening. The Grand Lodge, at the last day of their session, tendered a vote of thanks to Anchor Lodge for the manner in which they were received and entertained.

American Legion of Honor.

Lafayette Council, A. L. of H., had its big meeting Tuesday evening. The subject brought up was to establish a labor bureau. Dr. Gib Carson and John A. Sloan gave their views on the subject and it was decided to appoint committees to adopt rules and by-laws for the scheme which will soon be in working order.

Wm. Murphy, Con Bock, Chas. Shutlin and several Mozart boys helped to entertain Lafayette at their last meeting.

Lafayette Council's hop on November 21 is going to be the affair of the season. Full dress suits for the committee have been ordered and the ladies are going to wear full dress. The hall will be decorated in a special manner for the occasion.

Mozart Council will give its big hop December the 14th; everybody going.

Balls and hops are all the rage. The ladies of Joy Council are going to give a ball shortly.

The ticket nuisance which members are always subjected to is an outrage and should be stopped. They come for raffles, balls, parties, etc.

Chas. Fitzpatrick, Frank Dugan, Mat J. Ronan, J. J. Ryan, Herman Elbrecht, John A. Sloan, Wm. Dowdie and Jul Harris have taken the ball in hand for November 21.

Commander Bashford of Jackson has been missed from the Council chamber.

Future Council gave its big hop Saturday evening and a good attendance were present. It took place at the Concordia Hall. No better crowd attended a ball this year.

Ivy Council invites its friends next Friday at their hall. Music and singing will be features.

Look out for the grand entertainment given by Jackson Council on the evening of the 20th instant. The members are all earnestly trying to make it a grand success in every respect. Keep your eye on the date.

Future Council danced on Thursday evening.

A. O. U. W.

Mizpah Lodge, No. 360, is kept busy receiving applications for membership and initiating candidates. An interesting session will be held on next Friday evening, November 22. The Junior Workman, Master Workman and "Oriental" degrees will be conferred on several candidates. Delegations from Blackstone, Banner, Railway, West Gate, Security and the various city lodges will be present to join with Mizpah Lodge in the entertainment and festivities of the evening.

West Gate Lodge, No. 304, will give their fourth annual ball at the Natatorium Hall, Nineteenth and Pine streets, on Thanksgiving Eve, Wednesday, November 27, and Banner Lodge, No. 12, will give their first complimentary ball at the same hall on Saturday evening, November 30. The officers and members of both these lodges are industriously at work to make a grand success in their respective events on the dates as named above.

Last Saturday night was gala night in Anvil Lodge. Seven initiations and eight applications were received and two of the members were married. Visiting brothers from East St. Louis, Mount Olive, Banner Lodges. Prof. Murray's string band was in attendance. Bros. Leahy, Glynn and Sexton sang several songs. Refreshments and cigars were in abundance. By request Master Workmen Wolf sang his comical song "What Did You do With My Cat?" Carriages were ordered for next Tuesday evening for the members to go visiting the different lodges on that evening.

Order of Ægis.

Future Great Lodge, No. 32 of this order held its regular meeting Saturday night with a fair attendance. This was the second meeting since its organization. Several petitions were presented for membership, showing that the men who compose this lodge are those who work for success, and will make this lodge great in numbers as well as in name.

Deputy Jerralds reports two other lodges of this order almost ready for organization. Some of the Supreme officers are expected in the city in a few days from Lynn, Mass. An open meeting will be held in the neighborhood of Barton and Eleventh streets in a few days.

Legion of Honor.

Buena Vista Council, No. 28, is the baby of the order in this city, and is proud of it. The meetings of this council are always well attended, and prove quite interesting.

On a motion put by Recorder William Roemheld Alpha Council was, at the last meeting of Buena Vista, invited to pay a fraternal visit to the latter council on the evening of December 11. The invitation has been accepted, and a number of committees are even now at work to make the occasion an enjoyable one for all concerned.

At the next meeting of Buena Vista Council the nominations for officers for the term of 1890 will be made. Every member having at heart the interest of the active little council of the South End are requested to be present.

Order of Iron Hall.

The entertainment of Branch No. 288 on Thursday evening at Social Turner Hall was a success in every respect and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. The programme was well executed, every number being enthusiastically applauded. The two selections by the St. Louis Zither Club were well rendered and encored. The zither solo by J. J. Koch, the director of the club, with variations, on a popular German air, was executed with skill and precision, proving him to be a thorough master of the beautiful instrument. A soprano solo by Miss Anna Rombach was well rendered, also a flute solo by Alex Ludwig. For an encore a trio was given by Mrs. Ludwig, piano; Alex Ludwig, flute, and Prof. H. S. Harrington, mandolin. A recitation by Estelle Rombach, club swinging by F. P. Preissle, comic songs by Gus Appelhaus and horizontal bar exercises and pyramids by the actives of Social Turners were well received. The address by Hon. John I. Martin was on objects of the Order and Benevolent Association. The arrangements were in the hands of A. L. Pierce, Ad Dietz, J. P. Gallagher, G. M. Schreiner, E. C. Linde and C. H. Linck.

At the regular meeting Wednesday, the 13th, three candidates were initiated and two applications received.

Royal Arcanum.

A new council of the Royal Arcanum will be instituted by Grand Regent Thomas P. Morse, on Saturday, November 16, at Cabanne Station on the Narrow Gauge Railroad. The train will leave the terminus of the Locust street cable on Morgan street at 7:45 p. m. This council will be composed of prominent and influential business and professional men, and gives promise of having, by the end of the month a membership of at least fifty. A large delegation from the city councils is expected to be present, as all members of the order are cordially and fraternally invited to attend.

Knights of Father Mathew.

Extensive preparations are being made for the corner-stone laying of the Passionist Fathers' Retreat, to take place on Thanksgiving Day, November 29. Several councils of the K. F. M. have expressed their intention of turning out in a body on this occasion, and several hundred, it is hoped, accompanied by their families or at least individually, will spend the day at the retreat. Refreshments, including the more substantial, will be found on the ground. Trains will leave the Narrow Gauge depot of the Cable & Western for the grounds every half hour between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. The ceremony of laying the corner-stone will commence at 2:30 p. m. Father T. J. Flanagan of St. Thomas of Aquin Council will, as Marshal's Aid, look after the members of the order.

Sacred Heart Council, No. 20, at its meeting last Monday evening, had several applications. With a few more members this council will show a gain of 100 per cent during the past year. The members are working zealously for the success of the entertainment to be given for the benefit of the Sacred Heart Church the latter part of the month. A valuable acquisition to the council's inducements for new members is a brass band to be formed from amongst its members—the instruments, of Paris manufacture, have been ordered and are expected within the next two weeks.

Brother O'Hern of Hannibal, Mo., was in the city last week and reported K. F. M. affairs in that city as being very prosperous, Immaculate Conception Council receiving five applications at its last meeting and with prospects of ten more within a month.

The temporary organization of a council of the K. F. M. in the Cathedral Parish will be resolved into a permanent organization at its meeting to-morrow and a charter from the Supreme Council issued. Those desirous of joining this council may do so as charter members by entering during the next thirty days.

The cost of insurance in the order has been very light this year.

Officers of all the city branches will assemble at St. Patrick's Hall Monday evening, November 25, to elect local medical examiners.

St. Leo's Parish will shortly have a branch of the order. This is another step in the right direction for the young parish.

Rev. O. J. McDonald has been attending the Catholic Congress, and is expected home to-morrow.

A directory of the membership of this State is to be issued on January 1.

Bro. Chas. E. Hannauer, President, and John J. Mulcahy, Secretary of the Uniform Rank, will shortly issue a call for a general meeting of the brother knights. It is expected that all who desire to join will attend this meeting.

St. Liborius branch 306 will entertain their friends at Social Turner Hall on Thanksgiving night. Do not forget the day; every one we meet intends to go and if you are not there you will be missed. Come; do not have others telling you what a grand time they had.

Order of Vesta.

St. Louis Lodge, No. 19, Order of Vesta, will meet next Wednesday evening at their hall, corner Park and St. Ange avenues. Seven candidates will be initiated, among them several ladies, after which an election for Vice-President and Secretary will be held in place of T. J. Layton and Thomas J. Davis, resigned.

The work of organizing new lodges and appointing deputies all over the State of Missouri is pushed rapidly. The State Organizer, Chas. Wolff, appointed during this week as deputies, F. W. Taake of this city, Dr. Omar Morgan of St. Charles and W. E. Black of Gallatin, Mo. Seven new lodges are in formation in this city and seventeen in different parts of the State.

Belleville Lodge of the Order of Vesta in Belleville, Ill., initiated at their last meeting several new members, adopted by-laws, and five candidates were proposed who will receive their degrees at their next meeting, Thursday evening, in Music Hall. The deputy of St. Clair County reports two more lodges in formation.

Royal League.

A pleasant time is anticipated upon the occasion of the visit of St. Louis Council, No. 58, Royal League, to Eureka Council, No. 57, which will occur at Odd Fellows Hall on Thursday evening, November 21. The members of both councils are expected to be present in full force as this meeting will not be socially interesting, but will not only be utilized to advance the growth and welfare of the order in this city.

Assessment No. 23 (being the seventh assessment for 1889 and the twenty-third since the date of organization, October, 1883,) has just been called and will be payable on or before December 16.

It is understood that an additional council of this order will be instituted in this city at an early date.

Northern Legion of Honor.

St. Louis Council held a very interesting meeting Tuesday evening, quite a number of very interesting speeches being made in behalf of the order. This council certainly bids fair to outdo any council in the city. A grand entertainment and hop will probably be given in the near future.

Commander Dr. Loury is looking very melancholy, his wife and baby having gone to Kentucky for the winter.

Odd Fellows.

Excelsior Lodge, No. 18, will have a very interesting meeting next Tuesday evening, on which occasion a proposition will be submitted to provide some entertainment for the members at each future meeting. At least one application for membership will be submitted. A large attendance is expected.

Knights of the Golden Eagle.

A meeting will be held at Kickers' Hall, Newstead avenue and North Market streets Sunday, the 18th instant, at 3 o'clock, to organize a Castle of the Knights of the Golden Eagle.

MILLET'S MASTERPIECE.

The Great Painting Exhibited Yesterday at New York—What is Said of It.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Millet's L' Angelus was yesterday exhibited here. Referring to the picture, the Times says: Owing to the immense amount of advertising that the painting known as the "Angelus" by Millet, has received and the enormous price that is said to be paid for it, $115,000, it will probably transcend in public interest all the works of Barye and the canvasses combined. It is to be feared that the public interest has been aroused more because the painting has diligently been proclaimed as having cost so many American dollars rather than from its artistic merit. The small canvass, for it is a small one, only 21½ by 25½ inches, is shown at the northern end of the small upper gallery. It is handsomely draped, is railed off and a jar of lillies was placed near it yesterday. It was only shown for a few moments at a time yesterday, but is so well known by reproductions and descriptions that it is unnecessary to speak of it further at this time. Several of the other Millets shown, particularly two of the five loaned by Quincy Shaw of Boston, "The Planters" and a sketch of "The Sower," are considered superior to "The Angelus" by most art students and many of the most ardent admirers of the painter.

GROWING IN STRENGTH.

ST. LOUIS LEADING ALL COMPETITORS IN THE RACE FOR THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Encouraging Reports Received From Chicago and Other Parts of Illinois—Chicago's Original Plan of Campaign and Why It Was Altered—A Victory All Along the Line—Committee Meetings.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NASHVILLE, Ill., Nov. 16.—Some time ago W. S. Forman of this city declared himself in favor of holding the World's Fair at St. Louis. As soon as his sentiments became known he was elected as a Vice-President of the St. Louis Committee, and since then he has been made the subject of left-handed compliments by various newspapers of this State, among them the Chicago News. But Mr. Forman, representing this district as Congressman, voices but the sentiments of an overwhelming majority of the people of this part of the State when he says he is for St. Louis on the World's Fair question. Several days ago Paul Hull of the Chicago Herald, traveling in the interests of that city's World's Fair Committee, was in this city and spent nearly a whole day trying to convince his hearers of the superiority of the Chicago site over any other. But he was unsuccessful.

THE NASHVILLE "DEMOCRAT" of to-day has this to say about the matter:

"As the time for the meeting of Congress approaches interest in the location of the World's Fair increases. We believe that at least four-fifths of the people of this congressional district want the great fair located at St. Louis. That city is our nearest market, and its close proximity to the counties composing this district is sufficient reason for the preference.

"Congressman W.S. Forman was elected by the people of this district to represent them in Congress. A very considerable portion of his district is almost a part of St. Louis, and is directly interested in St. Louis as the location for the fair. This being the case, and the balance of the district being practically a unit for St. Louis in this matter, Mr. Forman would be false to his trust were he to do otherwise than vote for St. Louis when the matter comes before Congress.

"Criticisms upon his position in the matter are not based upon any solid foundation. They appear to us to be only captious attempts to embarrass Mr. Forman. It will be his duty as he understands it to support St. Louis for the World's Fair as long as there is a reasonable prospect for St. Louis to win. If it should become palpable that St. Louis has no chance and should retire from the race, Mr. Forman will of course support Chicago in preference to any Eastern city.

"In view of these facts we regard it as being in rather poor taste for the Chicago World's Fair Committee to send special agents into this district, trying to work up an apparent feeling in favor of Chicago by getting indorsements of that city by city councils and local newspapers. Such action can only have the effect of embarrassing Mr. Forman without doing Chicago any real good."

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—At a meeting of the World's Fair Committee over which Mayor Cregier presided, yesterday, the Mayor said: "It occurs to me that the question of the location of the Exposition is [illegible] We are now past the stage of visiting and running to State fairs and button-holing people in the interest of Chicago. New York does not want the fair and St. Louis does. Many people are working for St. Louis, and I am in favor of having our General Committee pass a strong resolution indorsing St. Louis as the location if we can not get it ourselves. If we don't get it I believe St. Louis will, and it won't be a failure."

He further urged that it was necessary to go to work at once if anything was to be done.

A CHANGE OF FRONT.

The preceding telegrams give an intimation of the feeling that prevails in the section of country naturally tributary to Chicago, and plainly indicates in the most unmistakable manner that this city is growing in popularity in all quarters. A few weeks ago the Chicago boomers were trying to carry through their original plan in which it is asserted that they had the support of the Associated Press of ignoring the candidacy of St. Louis entirely, but this scheme has been abandoned, and at the present time Chicago is either actively and openly fighting this city, as its most dangerous opponent, or endeavoring to conciliate its supporters by declaring that, failing Chicago, the choice of that city will be to have the World's Fair held in St. Louis. The words of Mayor Cregier in this respect have a peculiar significance when all the facts in the case are taken into consideration. About six weeks ago a large delegation of Chicagoans, including the son of Mayor Cregier, went on a missionary tour through the South and Southwest. The orders were that the question of location was to be presented as being between Chicago and New York, and that the candidacy of St. Louis should be either entirely ignored or represented as no more serious than that of Washington. Before the party had proceeded far on its way it was discovered that the friends of St. Louis were by far too numerous to admit of the successful operation of this scheme, and the delegation returned to Chicago much depressed in spirits. The change of front is to be ascribed to the report of the Southwestern delegation.

A FUTILE ENDEAVOR.

Chicago has all along asserted that it was certain to obtain the support of a number of Missouri Congressmen, and that Kansas City would assuredly be ranged on its side. Several emissaries have visited that city endeavoring to win its support. How they have succeeded the following resolution will prove:

Whereas, The International Exposition of 1892, in commemoration of the discovery of America, should properly be held at such point in the United States as will best facilitate a collection of the products of America, and afford the best opportunities for intercourse between the people of the United States and other American countries, and best illustrate to all foreign visitors the resources, industries and character of a people living under free institutions; and,

Whereas, These ends can be best attained by holding the Exposition in the interior of the country, therefore

Resolved, That the Commercial Exchange of Kansas City regards with great favor the proposition to hold said Exposition in the city of St. Louis as the most central, and next to the city of St. Louis favors the holding of said Exposition in the city of Chicago.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the committee having in charge the railroad subscription, of which George W. Parker is chairman, held a meeting to arrange concerning the subscriptions of the different roads. The allotments were published in the POST-DISPATCH a few days ago. All lines heard from expressed their willingness to contribute, and no difficulty is anticipated in making the collection. At 4 o'clock the New York Committee met, and at 5:30 the Pennsylvania Committee will assemble.

Wrecked at Cabanne Avenue.

A freight train was partially wrecked near Cabanne avenue, on the St. Louis & San Francisco track, near its junction with the Missouri Pacific, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A car in the middle of the train jumped the track and ten cars were badly damaged before the train could be stopped. The wreckage covered the main tracks of the Missouri Pacific and all trains had to pass on a switch. Iron Mountain trains entered the Union Depot and departed via the Levee route and Poplar street. No one was hurt in the wreck.

Awakened a Witness.

There was quite a lengthy docket this morning in the Second District Police Court, but there were only a few cases. H. F. Flodder, charged with keeping a gamashop, forfeited his bond, $300. There were five cases of "D. O. S.," drunk on the street. They were assessed the usual fines. During the session of court Maggie Kellerman created quite a scene. She attacked Mollie Groty and beat her badly before the marshals in the court succeeded in taking her off. The offense she complained of was that Mrs. Groty had been a witness in a case a few days ago against a sister-in-law of Mrs. Kellerman. Mrs. Kellerman was arrested and locked up in the Third District Police Station.

Frank Leslie
POPULAR MONTHLY For 1890

WILL be conducted on the same general lines by which it has won and maintained its undisputed position as the leading periodical of its class. At the same time, new features will be added, and no effort or expense spared to keep the POPULAR MONTHLY in the front rank of the artistic and literary progress so strikingly exemplified in contemporary illustrated periodicals.

This magazine has been denominated
"THE MONARCH OF THE MONTHLIES"
by a world of readers, because it gives, at the lowest price, a greater quantity and far greater variety of interesting reading matter, illustrated with more numerous, appropriate and striking pictures, than any other publication extant. It is always seasonable; a claim which the current CHRISTMAS NUMBER (for December, 1889), the forthcoming HOLIDAY NUMBER (for January, 1890), and the MIDWINTER NUMBER (for February, 1890), will amply justify.

EVERY YEARLY SUBSCRIBER TO THIS MAGAZINE RECEIVES
1000 Pictures FOR $3.00
AS WELL AS OVER 1,400 PAGES OF CHOICE READING.

Each number of FRANK LESLIE'S POPULAR MONTHLY, for whatever month of the round year, is certain to include in its table of contents:

A leading article on some topic, event or idea of universal public interest.—A biographical study of some personage of "light and leading" in the world's history.—A chronicle of art and letters.—A popular science article.—An "outdoor" paper, or sketch of sport, travel, exploration or adventure.—An installment of a serial story by a favorite novelist.—Poems in many moods.—Essays on timely topics.—Six or more short stories by well-known writers.—Personal and humorous anecdotes.—Literary notes and bric-a-brac.—Current records of geographical and scientific progress.

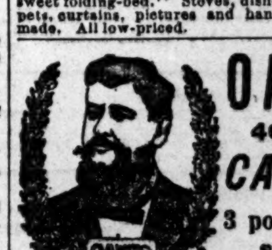

All richly illustrated by nearly one hundred pictures in each number, the work of the best artists and engravers; together with a beautiful full-page colored plate, executed in the best style of the art, and itself worth more than the price of the magazine.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE. $3.00 PER YEAR. SINGLE COPIES, 25c.

ONLY SEE M'NICHOL
And the Rest Follows.

The cold rain shrouds the distant heath,
And bleak the winds blow far and wide.
The ground is sodden, damp beneath
The chilling skies and ingleside.
All, all are gone, the pretty leaves
Which lately sheltered many a nest;
The shocks are garnered and the sheaves;
The farmer sits him down to rest.
But whither shall the homeless fly?
Where hide until the storm is past?
For even tho' birds no nook is nigh,
Their mellow notes are hushed at last.
And they, tho' tearful, hapless band,
Somebody's babies doomed to roam;
In all this great and planteous land
How can it be they have no home?
Because the father did not give
His heart and mind to this intent;
He did not for the future live,
And cared not how his money went.
How different where with frugal care
The toiler saves his daily pence,
And banks them in a bed, a chair—
His household gods—with common sense.
How easy for the prudent man
To make an altar and a hearth;
With this, McNichol's, generous plan
No one need roam about the earth.
By weekly payments you attain
What else might take you all your life,
Secure you from the storm and rain,
And shelter little ones and wife!

Surely every man and woman living can see the advantage in buying what goes to make a home—on these most generous terms. It would be folly and a wrong done to your children not to surround them with the comforts dear to children when it costs so little and involves only the careful paying of a weekly sum. No better bank exists. You save money while using it. Do not delay to see

Never give you value for your money. Now if you want a nice life-size crayon or portrait of any style call and see me. I have the finest stock of frames in the city, and guarantee my work. For $5 I will give you a 16x20 photo and frame, the same as you pay $10 for elsewhere. I will also give you a first-class crayon and fine frame—the frame alone costs me $9. You can get the frame and crayon for $15; this is a positive reduction from $23. Don't forget, Parsons is the best photographer of children in the city. Best cabinets, any style, $3 per dozen. Studio open on Sundays. Parsons, 1407-9 Market st. 33

THE STOCK BROKERS.

A Bull Market on a Half Holiday—A Very Strong Feeling.

The stock market to-day was very strong and bullish. The private wire advices of Gaylord-Blessing give the points of interest.

From New York, close—The market developed more positive strength to-day than before in two months. London has had much to do with giving it new tone and direction, having bought stocks heavily, and the street is certainly much more bullish than it has been. The condition of the money market also has had much to do with this changed feeling, the improvement to-day being accelerated by the publication of the bank statement, which was issued at an earlier hour than usual. The increase of $1,300,000 in surplus reserves, together with an increase of $2,100,000 in deposits, made a very favorable impression. There is gossip current that the Secretary of the Treasury has made a further deposit of money with the banks, which may be true, as the banks have not gained money to any extent from other sources. The tide of speculation is certainly assuming much more bullish features, the continued large gains in railway earnings making a deeper impression every day. The market closed strong. Total sales, 177,054 shares.

From New York—The sentiment expressed on the stock market at the Windsor last evening was generally bullish, and even though no special activity was expected on a half-holiday dealings, it was believed that the grangers and the coalers would be higher without reference to the movement in Cotton Oil, which latter the bears all swear is rotten. The perpetual bulls were greatly pleased last evening with the outlook anyway, and declared it was a beautiful bull market, and the public now wants stocks and the bear clique is not nearly so powerful as it has been. The more conservative bull concerns say that many stocks were no higher last night than the day before, but they do expect to see the market swell up and grow into larger proportions presently.

From New York, 10 a. m.—From the Financial Chronicle: "The banks gained from the interior this week $146,000, from the Treasury $200,000; total gains, $346,000. The October exhibit of gross earnings is one of the most noteworthy ever published by us; 152 roads for the month gained $5,073,795, equal to 12 31-100 per cent."

From New York, 11 a. m.—The bank statement for the week is as follows: Reserves, increase, $1,310,725; loans, decrease, $1,934,000; specie, increase, $1,676,400; legals, increase, $160,300; deposits, increase, $2,103,900; circulation, increase, $15,900.

From New York—The earnings of the Denver & Rio Grande for the second week of November increased $18,500.

BELLES AND BEAUTIES OF ST. LOUIS. The stars of the social firmament in St. Louis during the last fifty years will be described and some interesting pictures of by-gone belles and beauties given in to-morrow's SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH.

AMONG THE BROKERS.

The Market a Better One in Some Respects—Transactions, Quotations, Etc.

The Mining Exchange market to-day was somewhat better than during the last few days, though not in the improvement in prices. Phillips seems to be on the downgrade, as it is plentifully offered at but little above the decline made yesterday afternoon. Mickey Breen also seems to have a lower tendency.

On call Adams was 26¼ bid, 40 asked; American, $3.20 bid, $3.47½ asked; Black Oak, 5 bid, 5½ asked, 500 sold at 5; Black Spar, ½ bid, 1 asked; Bremen, 2 bid; Buckskin, 3 bid, 4 asked; Cariboo, 33¾ bid, 36¼ asked, 100 sold for 33; Cleveland, 2½ bid; Cleveland & Anchor, 55 bid; Concepcion, ½ bid; Dinero, 3½ bid, 5 asked; Golden Era, 5 bid, 10 asked; Gold King, 18¾ bid, 25 asked; Gold Run, 1½ bid, 3 asked; Granite Mountain, $38.50 bid, $40 asked; I. X. L., 5½ bid, 6 asked; Ivanhoe, 15 bid, 25 asked; Jumbo, ½ bid, 2 asked; Keystone, 2¼ bid, 4½ asked; La Union, 2½ bid, 3 asked; Maj. Budd, 27½ bid, 28¾ asked; Mexican, 20 bid, 24½ asked; Michael Breen, 91¼ bid, 96¼ asked; Mountain Key, 57½ bid, 62½ asked, 100 sold at 52½, 300 at 55; Mountain Lion, 22½ bid; Neath, 15 bid, 16¼ asked, 100 sold at 13; Old Jesuit, 3 bid, 3½ asked; Pat Murphy, 9 bid, 10½ asked; Pedro, 1 bid, 1½ asked; Phillips, 35 bid, 36¼ asked, 800 sold at 33¾, 100 at 35; Pine Grove, 3 bid, 3½ asked; Raspberry, 6 bid, 25 asked; Rosalia, 4 bid, 25 asked; Rena, 1¼ bid, 2 asked; 'Frisco, 8 bid, 8½ asked; Small Hopes, 97½ bid, $1.05 asked; Silver Age, $2 bid, $2.25 asked; Tourtelotte, 4 bid; West Granite, $1 bid, $1.05 asked; Wire Patch, 15 bid, 20 asked; Yuma, 33¾ bid, 37½ asked.

The sales after call were: Black Oak, 400 at 5½; I. X. L., 800 at 6; Michael Breen, 500 at 91¼ and 300 at 90, with offerings lower than that later; Neath, 1,000 at 15; Pat Murphy, 500 at 9.

J. W. Donaldson sold forty shares of Mary Murphy to-day, on the Merchants' Exchange, at public sale at $70 and $72. It was up for collateral for about $2,500. It had been purchased by its owner at $750 a share. The stock of this company sold in 1885 at $1,250, and after that was bid $1,300. The company has but 3,500 shares of a par value of $100 each. There are now over $10 a share available for dividends in the treasury, and the company is shipping regulary, of as good ore as it has ever had, and has a great deal of it developed.

The American declared a dividend of 10 cents a share, payable on the 25th. This makes $150,000 paid in five months, and, the stock having been placed at 50 cents a share, gives back the early purchasers all of their money and the stock in addition.

The Gold King had in a retart valued at a bout $4,000. It is for a short run and for only a part of the forty stamps, as the snow has rendered it difficult to get ore down.

The Ironclad is pushing in its tunnel. It is now in between 600 and 700 feet and has passed through mineralized lime. It has yet to go about 800 feet.

The trust certificates market to-day was as follows:

	Opening.	Highest.	Lowest.	Close.
Cotton	29¾	30½	29	29⅞
Lead	21¼	21¼	21⅛	21⅛
Sugar	73¾	74⅛	73½	73¾
Whisky	35¾
Cattle	14 bid; offered at 16.

There was quite a dispute this morning between H. B. Louderman, Jr., and H. C. Rose, the latter claiming he had purchased 100 shares of Ingram at 55 and the former that he had sold 100 Phillips at 35. The weight of testimony was in favor of Mr. Rose. The matter was referred to the Board of Directors.

A telegram from the Mountain Lion says the cross-cut is getting into the north vein, and ore is being sacked from the winze and drift. The ore chute is in the south, but there is also a large vein to the north, and the cross cut is being run from the south drift to the north to catch it.

Mickey Breen seems to have lost a great deal of its strength. A call on 1,000 shares, good for two weeks, was sold this morning at 87½.

The St. Louis holdings of O. R. & N. have just been increased by 20,000 shares bought in Helena at 25 cents.

The Elizabeth stock certificates will be issued by the end of the month. They are now in the hands of the printer, a proof of them being received by the committee to-day. The certificate is one of the prettiest yet issued. The West Granite stock, which the Elizabeth succeeds, was quiet to-day as usual. A sale of 500 shares was made at $1, seller 60 days.

"BRADSTREET'S" REPORT.

Review of the Business Situation for the Week Just Ending.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's point to only a moderate degree of activity in general trade throughout the country. This is in part a seasonable condition, though unfavorable weather has had some influence. The marketing of sugar and cotton is quite rapid. The output of Louisiana sugar is reported to be less than last year. Holiday goods are selling freely, while iron maintains all previous features of strength. Special buoyancy is noted at Cincinnati and St. Louis. Hogs and cattle are weak and lower. Arrivals of the former at interior points are heavy and dressed hogs are off ⅛@⅜c. Lard and pork are about steady. The mild weather checks sales of coal and those of dry goods, boots and shoes at Western centers have fallen off as well.

While the bears maintain their assaults on the trusts, easier money and the favorable railroad outlook tend to create improvement in the speculative position and action of the regular share list. Bonds are strong and activity is noted in many classes of railroad mortgages. Money in New York is steady at [illegible] 6 per cent on call with [illegible] demand for time loans at the [illegible]. Foreign exchange is firmer on an [illegible] inquiry. Demand sterling, 4.85 @4.8[illegible].

Gross earnings of 140 railroads for October and for ten months, as specially reported to Bradstreet's, show for the month a gain of 13½ per cent over October, 1888, and for the ten months an increase of 10¼ per cent, with an increase of ⅛ per cent in the aggregate mileage.

Buyers of crude iron are absorbing at full prices all of the 30,000 tons weekly additional production noted within five months, and in many instances for future delivery. Bessemer pig is in extraordinary demand, and steel rails are quoted at $33 at the East, with the likelihood of an early advance to $35. Steel billets are higher and slabs are up to $1. Copper is quite active and higher, selling at 12¼c for lake. Domestic stocks are much depleted.

Prices of breadstuffs are all higher—wheat, 1⅝@1¾c; corn, ¼@⅝c, and oats, 1@1¼c. Freer speculative purchases of wheat and increased clearances last week served to stimulate wheat in the face of freer receipts at all points, large stocks on passage and weaker cables. Unfavorable weather affected receipts of corn and oats. Rye advanced in part on the export movement and word that the German and Russian rye crop advices are unfavorable. The exports of wheat (and flour as wheat) from both coasts for six days ending yesterday aggregate 2,591,530 bu, against 2,131,334 in the previous week, and 2,082,618 bu in the like week last year. The total shipped abroad from July 1 to date is 78,957,300 bu, against 48,566,000 bu in a like portion of 1888 and 61,263,000 bu in 1887. The bulk of the increased movement is from San Francisco, Baltimore and New York.

Refined sugar has been in better demand, with granulated 1-16c higher. Raws were also in better demand and left off firm at last week's figures. The domestic consumption of sugar for the year ended October 31 is 35,600 tons, less than last year by 2½ per cent. The country is said to be "bare of stocks of refined."

Stronger cables, with buoyant European coffee markets, stimulated trading here, and prices advanced ¾@1c.

Dry goods prices continue strong at New York and Boston, with an upward tendency in brown sheetings and woolen dress goods. The general demand compares well with previous seasons, except in men's wear woolens. Bad weather has checked distribution by jobbers.

Raw wool is unchanged.

The report of the Agricultural Department foreshadowing a probable gain in the cotton yield of 3 per cent over last year depressed prices of options.

Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number 217 in the United States this week, against 248 last week and 178 this week last year. Canada had 39 this week, against 45 last week. The total of failures in the United States from January 1 to date is 9,848, against 8,649 in 18888.

EDITOR BRADSTREET'S.

Wall Street.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16, 11 a. m.—The stock market this morning opened with a show of activity which, however, was almost entirely confined to Cotton Oil, St. Paul and Rock Island, and later in the hour it died away to comparative dullness. First prices were generally small fractions higher than last evening's closing figures, but among the active stocks, the improvement was not held, the tendency being downward on a very light business. Rock Island was the feature of the market being unusually active for that stock, and after opening up ⅛ per cent at 98¾ it rose rapidly to 100, afterward yielding slightly. Delaware & Hudson also rose 1 per cent to 150¾. St. Paul was fairly steady at a fraction above 71, but Cotton Oil was very active and feverish, opening at 29¾ against 30⅛ last evening, rising to 30⅛, and falling to 29. The other trusts were almost entirely neglected. At 11 o'clock the market was quiet and heavy at small fractions below the opening prices.

Noon.—Money closed offered at 5 per cent. Bar silver, 94¼. The stock market was a little more active after 11 o'clock and became stronger, the early losses being recovered with something in addition. Tennessee Coal was again a marked feature and rose to 74½ against 72 at the opening, though it lost all the improvement. Fort Worth & Denver, Chicago Gas and Union Pacific were specially prominent for strength, the latter taking the lead in the dealings, while the active stocks of the first hour were comparatively quiet. The market finally closed active and strong at the best prices of the day.

Commercial Notes.

Splendid corn weather.

New Orleans cleared yesterday 18,032 bu corn for Bremen and 25,637 for Havre.

At last reports from Argentine Republic the wheat crop was suffering from drought, but it was too early to judge of the extent of the damage.

The Mark Lane Express of recent date states that the Baltic Coffee-house, as the London cargo market is still called in directories and official reports, has already fixed its eye upon the harvest of 1890. The wheat of India will not be ripe before February in the South, or before April in the principal region of its production, yet there are plenty of sellers of this unrealized harvest at 35s for the finest qualities and 33s 3d for second-ary, the first to be shipped from the nearer port of Bombay, the last from Calcutta. Nor does South America escape notice, for the Chilenos, whose wheat is reaped in March, have agents over here, who are authorized to contract for shipping cargoes at 34s 6d per quarter. Australian growers are less disposed to speculate. India, however, besides quoting new wheat, is already offering linseed for shipment next June at 42s6d per quarter. This forward trade does much to limit the present range of value.

An Australian correspondent writes that the wheat harvest is almost certain to fulfill expectations and be one of the best ever known. Lower prices are anticipated soon.

Advices from Chili note that millers are buying up the small parcels of wheat left from the last crop at prices far above what exporters can afford to pay for European markets.

Secretary of Agriculture Rusk, in his first report as Cabinet officer just received, says: "The production of wheat has for several years been so large as to reduce the price to a point so low as to discourage growers. There has been an increase of demand since 1880, due to increase of population, of 70,000,000 bushels, and a decline in foreign demand of about 65,000,000 bushels. The exportation of 1880-81 was 186,321,514 bushels, in wheat and flour; the average for eight years since has been 121,300,638 bushels. This country still supplies the larger part of the European deficiency, which is much smaller than in the period of poor European harvests about ten years ago. The present crop will be a full average (between 12 and 13 measured bushels per acre), but the quality is below an average, with lower weight and breadmaking capacity. There is an ample supply, however, for all probable European demands, though deficient yields elsewhere should tend to sustain if not to advance prices."

The Chicago "Daily Business" says: From the detailed report of the Statistical bureau of the Treasury Department the following figures with regard to the exportation of wheat through the month of October and for the first four months of the fiscal year beginning July 1 are gleaned: Exports of wheat and flour (reduced) during October 8,869,866 bu, against 8,650,658 bu during October, 1888. Exports of wheat and flour (reduced) during the four months ending October 31: 35,161,403 bu, against 37,763,459 bu during the corresponding period last year. A great deal has been written about the very great increase in flour exports, but the four months' record does not show it, the total being 3,786,044 bbls, against 3,586,319 bbls for the corresponding period last year, a gain of less than 200,000 bbls, of which 112,683 bbls must be credited to the Pacific Coast. This denotes a healthy increase in our foreign flour trade, but nothing extraordinary. Other details will be found in the regular tables.

New York to Ewald: "Exports of flour last week from Atlantic ports 261,000 bbls, against 178,000 a year ago. Four loads wheat and five for milling taken."

Owing to the extreme dullness in flour in this market and the loss in making it, one St. Louis mill has closed, two will close next week, others contemplate closing and still others are reducing their output or time of running. New York mills may have a large export trade and Minneapolis be able to turn out 174,000 bbls flour a week, but St. Louis millers cannot see anything of this excellent trade.

New York to Small: "Liverpool wheat firm with upward tendency." "Four loads wheat taken for export; considerable flour offered. United Kingdom accepted, also." To Green: "Cables wheat firmer in sympathy American markets; Liverpool turn dearer. Corn firm."

The D. P. Grier Grain Co., in their last circular, says: Wheat has steadily advanced during past few days, which has caused quite a change in the feelings of some of our bears. Converts are daily joining the ranks of the bulls and are even stronger in their belief that higher prices will prevail than the old-time bulls are. There is no doubt but that the situation is strong. Russia official reports are that their wheat crop is 90,000,000 bu short and rye 95,000,000 bu short. The export demand for both wheat and flour is increasing and during the past few days the movement abroad has been liberal. The spring wheat movement in the Northwest has kept up beyond the expectations and predictions of the bulls, but the latest reliable reports from there are that this movement will largely decrease in the near future. Their heavy receipts, however, have been promptly taken at advance prices and more wanted. Our receipts are light and our stock will this week again show a decrease which is sufficient evidence that the demand from our millers is still large. We have the lightest stock of wheat known for a great many years, and if the supply and demand remain as at present we are of the opinion that wheat will have to be shipped here from other markets before the 1st of March to supply our millers. Taking all these facts into consideration, we are strongly impressed that wheat eventually will sell at much higher prices than are now prevailing, although we do not expect to see any sharp advance at the present time. Corn has ruled very firm, November early in the week selling as high as 31@31½c. This advance was caused by wet weather throughout the corn belt and a large shortage here for November delivery. The past few days of clear cold weather has to a certain extent dissipated this fear and prices have fallen off sharply. With continued good weather, we look for a heavy movement of corn in December and lower prices. The new crop is of excellent quality and all that is wanted to make it grade No. 2 in this market is favorable weather. Oats are in excellent demand; receipts very light, hardly large enough to supply it, and prices have advanced for spot fully 2c per bu and 1c for futures.

During the last quarter-hour of the session it was difficult to tell whether it was a Klein or a Fraley market in wheat, their voices alternating as they cried the price down or up.

The import of wheat and flour into the United Kingdom from the United States during the nine months previous to November 1, 1889, was equivalent to 37,238,783 bu of wheat.

The import of wheat into the United Kingdom from Russia during the nine months previous to October 1 amounted to about 82,000,000 bu, against about 28,000,000 bu for the corresponding time in 1888, and against only some 6,000,000 bu in 1887.

A comparison of prices for the principal speculative option is given below. Last year for same time wheat declined 3c and corn ½c:

St. Louis Markets.

REGULAR SESSION, CLOSING 1:15 P. M.

Wheat—Enough false enthusiasm was worked up on yesterday's late curb to induce a few over-confident bulls to pay 85c for May. This morning, with firmer cables, the week's exports of flour and wheat from both coasts reported as 500,000 bu larger than the week before and controlling markets exhibiting fair strength, there was enough of this bull feeling left over to rally May from 84⅜@⅝c to 84⅞c and hold it at 84¾c and 84⅞c for some time. Receipts were again liberal at this point and three times as large as those of last year, and 819 cars in at Duluth and Minneapolis. An announcement that several St. Louis mills would close next week owing to dull business caused a great deal of selling and, with all other markets dropping, the price finally reached 84¼@⅜c. However, a lot fresh bull fodder was poured into the market in the shape of large export purchases of flour at New York, heavy clearances made and to be made, an estimate of 900,000 bu increase in the visible supply made by Lindblohm, and on this news (?) and advices elsewhere the price advanced to 84⅞c. The close was 84¾@⅞c, which was the same as yesterday. Spot grades were steady, but the milling demand was small and not much sold. No. 1 red in St. L. at 79½c; No. 2 red at 79c regular and 79⅛c in U. No. 3 red at 76c in C. and bid for E. side. No. 4 had 68½c bid regular, and 69½c for E. side. No. 2 Turkey offered this side at 71c, and 70c bid.

Corn was more freely offered for sale than for some time, as the favorable weather and good prospects for its continuing proved too much for some of the longs and they started to selling, some of the already short helping them. November sold off to 29¾c, December to 28⅛c and May from 30¼c to 30⅛c, but the feeling was stronger late and November recovered to 30c and December to 28¼, while 30⅛@¼c was bid for May. Spot No. 2 was advanced from 29⅞c to 30¼c under the sharp competition of exporters, but other grades weak and lower. No. white regular sold at 30c; No. 3 white in St. L. at 28¼@28c and for E. side 28c bid; No. 3 this side at 27¼c; No. 4 in U., C. and St. L. at 25c and later 25⅛c bid for U., 25¼c for St. L.

Oats—The only trade was in May at 22¼@⅜c, and at close 22¼c was bid. Spot grades were weaker, and there was little demand. No. 3 sold in St. L. at 17⅞c, and for regular 17¾c was bid. No. 2 offered regular at 20c and 19c bid; no grade at 17c, and for St. L., 15½c bid.

Rye higher, with buyers of No. 2 at 40¼c regular and 40c E. side, but none to be had below 42c. No. 3 offered at 38c and 37½c bid.

Flour was deplorably dull. Holders were asking steady rates, but they found few buyers and little business transpired. We quote: XXX, $2.20@2.35; family, $2.40@2.60; choice, $2.65@2.75; fancy, $3.40@3.50; extra fancy, $3.75@3.85; patents, $4.15@4.25. Prices for lots at depot and on levee this side.

Cornmeal at $1.60@1.65 and pearl meal, grits and hominy at $2.40@2.50.

Rye flour steady at $2.80@2.85 del.

Bran firm, but quiet. Sales at E side points were 35½@36c for bulk and 40c for sacked; at Southern point 42c for sacked; f. o. b. mill track 43@43½c, and f. o. b. bonds 44c.

Hay—A regular slow Saturday market. Only a slight demand from local feeders and they wanted a few cars of the best timothy and prairie. Low and medium grades were about immovable and holders were not refusing anything like a fair bid for them. Sales ranged: Prairie, prime, $7@7.50; choice to fancy, $8@8.50; gilt-edge, $9. Timothy, prime to strictly prime, $9@10.50; choice to strictly choice, $11@11.50; fancy, $12@12.50; gilt-edge, $13.

Provisions—There was nothing doing, though 10@15-day dry salt c'ribs were offered at 5½c c. and f. here; the same age in spot with 6.20@6½c. CATTLE—But few car loads were offered. In fact, the supply was not large enough to test the market. However, there was a fair inquiry for good butcher steers and these would have found sale were they in the pens. Common and medium mixed butcher stuff, as cows, heifers, yearlings, etc., dull at low prices.

Choice steers, $4.60@4.85; good native steers, $4@4.40; fair to medium steers, $3.25@3.75; grass steers, $2.25@3.25; stockers and feeders, $1.75@3; corn-fed Texan steers, $2.50@3; grass Texan steers, $2@2.90; cows and heifers, $1.35@2.25; bulls, $1.40@1.75; veal calves, $5@7 per head.

HOGS—The receipts were light but fair for the closing day of the week. Shippers, packers, local operators, butchers and others were on hand and wanted quite a number of hogs. All offered sold readily and brought from $3.65@3.80 ₩ 100 lbs. The demand exceeded the supply. Yorkers, $3.65@3.70; packing, $3.70@3.75; butchers and select heavy, $3.70@3.80; skips and culls, $3.25@3.50. The market closed easy.

AT THE LOCAL THEATERS.

Rose Coghlan in "Forget-Me-Not"—A Bright Dramatist—Amusement Notes.

A finer audience than that which assembled at the Olympic last evening for the first appearance here of Rose Coghlan in "Forget-Me-Not" could not have been desired by the artiste. It was representative of the cream of local society. The boxes were filled and most of the seats in the dress circle and parquette.

Miss Coghlan received enthusiastic approval for her work in the play and deserved it at many points. But there was room for some disappointment. She was hardly equal to herself in all respects. She looked, dressed and acted the character fairly. She was the embodiment of the handsome, fascinating, reckless, desperate adventuress. Her comedy touches were admirable and her scorn and anger fine. She gave an effective blending of pathos and defiance in the scene with Sir Horace Welby where she tries to appeal to his gentler nature. She also gave a more impressive picture of fear in the last act. But there Miss Coghlan failed to reach the ideal Stephanie. The tone of her performance was rather toocontinuously loud. There was too much of the clarion tone of declamation and defiance and not enough of the suppressed tone, the quiet, wicked undertone with the hiss of devilitry suggested in it. The feline grace and velvet paws of the tiger were marred too often by the claws and teeth. Both Sir Horace and Stephanie were too violent toward each other in their fencing and struck when they should have played for an opening. Several effective points which could have been made with by-play and suppressed force were lost in this way and the performance would have been improved by shading and the study of and development of delicate points. The strong points would have been better by contrast, and accentuation of characteristics and emotions would have given a finer finish to the performance. Miss Coghlan's gowns were beautiful.

The criticism which applies to Miss Coghlan applies also to Mr. Sullivan. He was strong and natural, but his work lacked shading. Of course a harmonious result of this kind can only be obtained by much rehearsal or performance together, for which they have probably not had opportunity. The Prince Mallecti of Mr. Webber, was an intelligent, capable effort, and the cast generally was satisfactory.

To-night Miss Coghlan will appear as Lady Gay Spanker in "London Assurance." Lady Gay is one of her best roles.

Charles Hoyt, who is killing time in St. Louis until "A Brass Monkey" gets through taking the wrinkles out of the faces of Kansas Cityans, is, perhaps, one of the most unique men connected with the theater. He is just 30 years of age, and yet he is a manager and author who has not a single failure on his list. He produces his own plays and, with his partner, Thomas, manages his own companies, and every one is making money for him. He has produced plays since his first success with "A Bunch of Keys," almost at the rate of one a year. No other American dramatist has been so prolific. And yet, while he is writing plays, producing them and managing companies, he never seems pressed for time, and always has plenty of it to give to the entertainment of his friends. The history of his "Midnight Bell" is peculiar. He wrote it half a dozen years ago and offered it to a Boston manager and three New York managers. All rejected it, and yet it has made one of the greatest successes and is by far his best work. Mr. Hoyt is now engaged in writing a new play, which will have the suggestive title of "A Texas Steer." Mr. Hoyt usually travels with "A Brass Monkey," because Mrs. Hoyt, who is Flora Walsh on the stage, and has made a reputation as one of the brightest and most charming and dainty of soubrettes, is the Baggage of the piece.

Bobby Gaylor keeps the audience at Pope's roaring while he is on the stage and the other entertaining features of "After Dark" make a strong card for that popular house.

Della Fox has made a genuine hit in "A King's Fool," and her song, "My Love Is Fair Columbia," is whistled on the streets by the boys. The engagement of the company closes to-night.

"Chip o' the Old Block" is pleasing the audiences at the People's with its music and farcical business.

The sensational drama as exemplified by "Devil's Mine" is doing well at the Standard.

The sale of seats for the engagement of Duff's Opera Co. in "Paola" is progressing briskly at the Grand. A bright opera and an excellent production are promised.

AFTER A PIRATE.

Pike County Officers Following a River Thief Down Stream.

Not infrequently do reports reach St. Louis of the stealings of river pirates at the various little towns bordering on the Upper Mississippi and Missouri Rivers. While of late no heavy robberies have been committed many small ones have. In many instances, however, the robberies are too small to make it a matter of importance to bring the thieves to justice. The latest work of a river pirate was committed at Clarksville, Mo., on last Sunday night. The victim was the St. Louis, Keokuk & Northern Railroad Co. On the night in question a case of the company was broken open and relieved of a lot of shotguns, canned fruits, etc. The town and county officials at once suspected the occupant of an old flat boat that had been lurking in the neighborhood of the wharf and which had disappeared following the robbery. The railroad officials put the case in the hands of John Fielder, the Sheriff of Pike County, who in turn called on Henry Lyter, Constable of Clarksville, Mo., then telegraphed to Capt. McDonald of the Fourth District Police Station night before last to assist them. Both officers arrived yesterday from Clarksville, and Capt. McDonald detailed Patrolman Camp to assist them. The officers were on watch on the North St. Louis Levee yesterday, but failed to detect any trace of the much sought for vessel. They concluded that the private craft had slipped by them in the gloaming. The two Pike County officers were determined, however, in the chase, and after telegraphing to the Chief of police at Alton yesterday afternoon to be on the lookout for the robber boat, they left on the steamer Crystal City last night for down river points, fully determined to leave nothing undone that would aid them in their hunt. The railroad companies in the river towns are fully determined that they have suffered more than sufficient and have decided that the river pirate must go.

Charged With Murder.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Nov. 16.—Thomas Davis, a well-known citizen of Gainesville, Tex., was arrested on a charge of murder. In 1884 he shot an innocent man who resisted arrest.

REAL ESTATE.

Commissioners' and Office Sales—Opening Streets and Alleys—Ready to Run.

The property situated on the north line of Lucas avenue, between Tenth and Eleventh streets, opposite the abandoned site of the St. Louis University, owned by the estate of John Goodlin, deceased, has been sold by Lanham & Sutton for Special Commissioner, Mr. George W. Bailey. On the eastern eighty-four feet of the site there is a two-story brick factory building, numbered 907, 909 and 911, in which the industry of steam fitting was carried on. This improved portion of the property, with a boiler and furnace, was sold for $44,650 to Mr. D. A. Brislin, who was formerly identified with Mr. Goodlin in the business of the place, which will most likely be continued there by him. In all the property has a frontage of 168 by a depth of 105 feet, and the remaining portion of it was purchased at $283 a foot by Mr. Adam Boeck. In the opinion of Mr. Marcus A. Wolff and other real estate agents of long experience the premises were sold at exceedingly good prices. The bids were made subject to a deed of trust on the whole property of about $44,500.

BOUGHT ON SPECULATION.

Cornet & Ziebig sold 150x135 feet of ground located on the south side of Page avenue, between Lay and Bayard, at $15 a foot, and a plot of 120x180 feet on the east side of Lay, south of Page, at the same price, from Mr. Chas. E. Pearce to Mr. Geo. H. Briggeman, who purchased on speculation, and has secured a remarkably good bargain as that section of the city is building up very rapidly, and lots in the vicinity are in demand at steadily enhancing values.

PURCHASED FOR IMPROVEMENT.

Charles H. Gleason & Co. sold a 35x134-foot lot, situate on the south line of Locust street, 350 feet west of Garrison avenue, from Mr. H. B. Pogue to Mr. C. Klipstein at $100 a foot. The purchaser intends improving the site with a dwelling and physician's office.

ANOTHER ELECTRIC ROAD READY.

Electric wires are placed and everything will be in readiness Monday morning for the running of cars over the "electric loop" from Vandeventer avenue west on Finney to Taylor, and east again on Fairfax. This is an experimental line, the intention, if proved to be satisfactory, being to extend the road eastward to the intersection of Jefferson and Washington avenues.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

Proceedings have been instituted for the opening of an alley through city block No. 368, bounded by Bell, Fairfax, Pendleton and Newstead avenues.

A committee is now engaged assessing benefits and damages accruing to property for the extension of Pendleton avenue north from Delmar to Easton. This improvement will be of material benefit to property in that locality, for when it is carried out, Pendleton avenue will then be the only direct through street north and south between Vandeventer and Taylor avenues.

RISING OUT OF THE ASHES.

A new site for the Beaumont Hospital, recently destroyed by fire, has been selected at the southwest corner of Pine street and Jefferson avenue, where the old Dill property, fronting 51 by a depth of 111 feet, has been purchased for $8,800. The old three-story building now there is to be remodeled and modernized for the new seat of learning.

The premises numbered 7616 and 7618 South Broadway, Carondelet, comprising two two-story brick stores and tenement buildings with 100x135 feet of ground, the property of Dr. Max C. Starkloff, has been sold for $10,500 to Mr. Frank Hunlett.

JOHNSTOWN'S POOR.

How They Have Been Treated by the Men Who Distribute the Money.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A Johnstown, Pa., special to the Herald says: The members of the flood commission spent all day in looking over the acts of Secretary Kremer, and the announcement was made that the money would all be paid out within a few days. The commissioners gave but little attention to the complaints of the poorer class of people who, through a committee, have facts and figures to show that they had not received on an average more than half what they should. The commission seemed to be completely under the influence of those of property interests here, and as a consequence that class will receive the greater share of the money, although they all have a competency, while the suffering poor have not the necessities of life. A resident newspaper reporter who had taken part in the meeting in favor of the poor was warned by one member of the commission that arrangements had been made that no reflections on the committee would be published in a certain newspaper, and the reporter was also given to understand that the influence of the commission would be brought to oust him from his position if any reflections were made.

HARRISON'S HEN TURKEY.

The Bird That Is to Tickle the Presidential Palate on Thanksgiving Day.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 16.—President Harrison is to have a plump Rhode Island hen turkey for his Thanksgiving feast, and it may be a source of gratification to him to know that the bird that is to grace his table has already been selected. Senator Anthony in his life time provided these delicacies for the Republican presidents and Mr. John M. Brennan peformed a similar service for President Cleveland. President Harrison will be indebted to Mr. Geo. C. Leonard of this city, and Mr. H. H. Wiley of South Kingston for his bird. The latter raised it, and the former hunted the country over until he found the one that was, in his opinion, best suited to the President's stomach. The bird will be killed in the most approved fashion, and will be packed in a champagne basket with other delicacies. Then it will be sent by express to the White House on the day before Thanksgiving.

Teutonic Oxen in Connecticut.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A team of German oxen are pining for a teutonic driver up at Greenfield Hill, Greenwich, Conn., on the farm of Miss Agnes Murray, popularly known as "Lady Agnes." The owner of the oxen called at the Labor Bureau at Castle Garden yesterday and asked Agent Godde for a German farm hand. Mr. Godde said that they were pretty scarce, that she could have a laborer of some other nationality. "But I must have a German," the woman said, "as my oxen do not understand English. They have always had a German driver, and I'm sure they would not know which way to move if requested to 'Ge' or Haw'' in the usual American way." Agent Godde said he feared that the oxen would have to be taught the United States dialect, including its persuasive idioms by which our oxen are guided.

Grant's Fairmount Park Cabin.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 16.—The little cabin in Fairmount Park once used by Gen. Grant as headquarters is going to ruin from neglect. Public sentiment, however, is aroused and steps will undoubtedly be taken to preserve it as a relic. It is the duty of the city to take care of the cabin, but if for any reason it fails to do so, George W. Childs has promised to have it put in good condition and cared for at his own expense.

THE NEW CITY HALL.

CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH THE PLANS WERE DRAWN AND SUBMITTED.

Thirty-two Different Sets Opened This Morning—How Much the Building Will Cost—Where It Will Be—How It Will Be Built—New Offices to Be Put In.

THE plans for a new City Hall, to be located in Washington Park on Twelfth and Market streets, now in the hands of the City Hall Commission, were drawn and submitted in conformity with a code of competition drawn up by the New City Hall Commission, created by ordinance at the last session of the Municipal Assembly. The ordinance providing for the procuring of plans is as follows:

An ordinance locating the new City Hall and providing for obtaining plans and specifications for the same.

Be it ordained by the Municipal Assembly of the city of St. Louis as follows:

Sec. 1. The new City Hall is hereby located in Washington Square; the building to be fire-proof and constructed of Missouri granite and brick, at the cost of $1,000,000. The Mayor is authorized and directed to advertise for plans and specifications for the building. The sum of $5,000 will be paid for the plans and specifications that are adopted in the manner hereinafter stated, and the same shall belong to the city. The sum of $1,000 each will be awarded for the five plans and specifications that are deemed meritorious by the Commission, although not adopted. The awards shall be made by the vote of two-thirds of the City Hall Commission, consisting of the Mayor, Comptroller, President of the Board of Public Improvements, President of the Council, the Speaker of the House of Delegates, the City Counselor and the Commissioner of Public Buildings. The sum of $10,000 is hereby appropriated from municipal revenue to pay the above awards, and the sum of $1,500 from municipal revenue to pay for advertising and other necessary expenses of the City Hall Commission. Said sum to be paid on vouchers approved by the Mayor. The above advertising shall be in such St. Louis, Boston and New York papers as the Mayor may select.

Approved April 4, 1889.

In conformity with this ordinance, Mayor Noonan, Comptroller Stevenson, President Flad of the Board of Public Improvements, President Walbridge of the Council, Speaker Henry Alt of the House of Delegates, City Counsellor Bell and Building Commissioner Thomas J. Furlong were organized into a commission and immediately went to work and advertised for plans, and at the same time went to work and drew up the code of competition which set forth the general plan of the building desired, the purposes for which it was to be used, and the amount of space for the whole building and for each separate department.

The specifications as drawn up by the commission are as follows:

"The building to be erected is a modern structure adapted to the uses of the city government, as contra-distinguished from one of a monumental character. It is to front on Twelfth street, so that the center line of the building shall correspond with the center line of Walnut street, produced westwardly through Washington square. The building is to have four floors and a basement. It will embrace 45,000 square feet of floor surface on each floor, including the hallways, stairways, corridors and lobbies. The basement will contain the heating apparatus, also muniment rooms, and such other rooms as may be adapted to it."

"The first floor of the building will contain the offices of the Chief of the Fire Department, of Election and Registration, of Inspector of Weights and Measures, of Commissioner of Supplies, of City Register, of Boiler Inspector, of Water Rates Department, of Health Department, of Police Headquarters and of Collector.

"Chief of Fire Department—Chief's office, 400 square feet; Secretary's office, 400 square feet; store-room, 400 square feet."

This department at present is very badly off in the way of headquarters, the Chief making his headquarters at one of the down-town engine-houses, where the accommodations are very scant.

"Election and Registration.—Registration room, 1,600 square feet; board room, 1,000 square feet, copy clerk's room, 800 square feet; private office, 300 square feet.

"Inspector of Weights and Measures.—This department will require three rooms containing about 1,000 square feet.

"Commissioner of Supplies.—General office, 600 square feet; book-keeper's room, 400 square feet; private office; 120 square feet; store-room, 1,000 square feet. The first three rooms must be adjacent and space provided for a vault. The store-room should be large and located in the basement.

"City Register—Two rooms adjoining, 8,000 square feet; one record room, 1,500 square feet. The record room may be in the basement.

"Boiler Inspector—General office, 400 square feet; board room, 400 square feet; waiting room, 200 square feet. Rooms should be connected.

"Water Rates Department—Main office, 5,000 square feet; inspectors' room, 1,000 square feet.

"Health Department—Health Commissioner's office, 360 square feet; three rooms for clerks, 1,080 square feet; board room, 720 square feet. Sanitary Department—Officer's room, 360 square feet; room for fumigating purposes, 360 square feet; room for tools, etc., 360 square feet. Inspectors' Department—Meat Inspector, 360 square feet; Milk Inspector, 360 square feet; Dairy Inspector, 360 square feet.

"Police Department—Board room, 750 square feet; two rooms for Secretaries, 360 square feet; waiting-room, 750 square feet; stationery and supplies, 400 square feet; vault, 100 square feet; Chief's office, 300 square feet; reception-room, 300 square feet; Chief's Secretary, 150 square feet; Assistant secretary, 400 square feet; telephone closet, 300 square feet; Chief of Detectives, 150 square feet; property vault, 120 square feet.

"The location of the Police Department will be a very material change from the present arrangement. The Department headquarters being now located at the Four Courts building on Twelfth street and Clark avenue.

"Collector—Sprinkling and special tax department, 1,200 square feet; licenses, 1,200 square feet; Collector's private office, 400 square feet; record room for books, back tax bills, etc., 1,200 square feet.

The removal of the Collector's office from the Court-house is another innovation which will be a great convenience and give some much needed room at the Court-house.

"On the second floor there will be located the Houses of Legislation and the offices of the Mayor, Comptroller, Auditor, Treasurer, and City Counsellor.

HOUSES OF LEGISLATION.

"Council chamber, 4,500 square feet; four committee rooms, 2,500 square feet; Secretary's room, 1,000 square feet; ante-room, 625 square feet; Sergeant-at-Arms, 300 square feet; library, 500 square feet.

"House of Delegates chamber, 4,500 square feet; committee rooms, 2,500 square feet; Secretary's office, 1,000 square feet; ante-room, 625 square feet; Sergeant-at-arms, 300 square feet; library, 500 square feet.

"This will be a very marked change from the present arrangement as the House of Delegates occupied far more room than the Council and neither have more than one committee-room.

"Mayor—Ante-room, 400 square feet; audience-room, 1,200 square feet; clerk's room, 400 square feet; Secretary's room, 400 square feet; Mayor's office, 1,200 square feet.

"Comptroller — Comptroller's office, 625 square feet; general office, 1,875 square feet; tax department, 1,250 square feet; room for old records, 1,500 square feet.

"The first two mentioned rooms must be contiguous to the Auditor and Treasurer.

"Auditor—Principal room, 1,350 square feet; room for books and vouchers, 875 square feet; Room for old records, 500 square feet. The principal room should be divided from the public and arranged with a private office for the Auditor. A large space for burglar and fire-proof vault.

"Treasurer—One large room containing 5625 square feet. Room to be divided into space for the public, working space and private office. Connected with this department must be a large space for a burglar and fire-proof vault. The business of this department is mainly with the Auditor and Comptroller and should, therefore, be placed contiguous to same.

"City Counsellor—General office, 1000 square feet; private office, 700 square feet; private office, 700 square feet. Rooms should be connected and in proximity to the Mayor's office.

THIRD FLOOR.

"The third floor will be occupied by Board of Public Improvements and the offices of the Street, Sewer, Water, Park and Harbor Departments, the Commissioner of Public Buildings and the Inspector of Plumbing.

BOARD OF PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

"President's office, 600 square feet; drafting room, 500 square feet; secretary and book-keeper, 750 square feet; special tax department, 3,000 square feet; board room, 1,800 square feet.

"Street Department—Main office, 3,500 square feet; bridge engineer, 1,200 square feet; inspectors' office, 1,050 square feet; surveyors' room, 1,540 square feet; drafting room, 3,000 square feet; gas inspector's room, 700 square feet; heliographic room, 200 square feet.

"Sewer Department—Main office, 1,500 square feet; private, 300 square feet; room for instruments, 300 square feet; drafting room, 1,000 square feet; laborers' room, 800 square feet.

"Water Department—Street service department—3,900 square feet; inspection department, 1,400 square feet; general office, 2,000 square feet; drafting room, 1,000 square feet. The street service department should be placed in the basement.

"Park Department—Park Commissioner's office, 300 square feet; Clerk's room, 300 square feet; drafting-room, 375 square feet.

"Harbor Department—Commissioner's room, 450 square feet; main office, 450 square feet.

"Commissioner of Public Buildings—Main office, 1,200 square feet; drafting-room, 1,200 square feet; book-keeper, 400 square feet; private office, 400 square feet.

"The location of all of the Board of Public Improvements' offices on the third floor will be a great improvement. The members of the board are the President and the Street, Water, Sewer, Park and Harbor Commissioners. Their offices are now all over the building, some on the first and some on the third and some divided parts of the same department being on different floors and in different parts of the building.

"Plumbing Inspector—Three rooms with 2,000 square feet of space.

"The fourth floor will be finished in rooms substantially conforming to the rooms on the third floor.

CONDITIONS.

"All plans submitted are required to be drawn on a scale of one-sixteenth of an inch to a foot.

"The elevations shall be in line drawings.

"No shading to be done on elevations, but windows may be tinted to show glass.

"The plans submitted shall exhibit each floor plan, each elevation, and one cross section. Additional sketches may be submitted to show particular features of rooms that can not be shown in the plans and section.

"The building shall be fire-proof throughout, walls, floors, supports, girders, roof, etc. The flooring of rooms, the doors and window frames, etc., may be of wood.

"The exterior shall be of Missouri granite and brick. All ornamental features shall be of the most durable character. Cornices, finials, etc., where of metal, shall be of copper, galvanized iron will not be allowed. Roofs shall be covered with slate or copper. The cost of the building is limited to $1,000,000.

"A type-written description of the building should accompany each set of drawings, giving, as clearly as possible, such information as cannot be shown on the drawings concerning materials, methods of construction and decoration.

"Each drawing and the description must be distinguished only by a motto or device, which should be repeated on the outside of a sealed envelope containing the author's name and address.

"The decision will be rendered on or about December 1, 1889.

"A design will be excluded from competion if any attempt is made by its author, directly or indirectly, to disclose his identity; or to influence the decision of the members of the commission or their adviser; or if sent in after November 1, 1889; or if it in any particular violates the conditions herein stated; or if it shall be found that its probable cost will exceed the limits herein named by more than fifteen per cent.

"The heating, plumbing, lavatory and elevator service to be complete and of approved modern methods. Janitors' rooms and closets will be required on each floor.

"The space set forth for the rooms may be increased by the competing architect to meet the necessities of his plan.

"An expert adviser will be employed by the commission to advise the members as to the merits of the plans submitted. The selection for this purpose will be Prof. Ware or Prof. Ricker.

"The successful competitor will, if the work is carried out and he so desires, be employed to furnish the detailed and working drawings and superintend and supervise the erection of the building at the rate of compensation established by the schedule of the American Institute of Architects, of which, in such event, the $5,000 paid for the plans shall form a part; but if, on the disclosure of the names, the successful competitor shall prove to have had slight experience in building, the right is reserved to associate with him a consulting architect, to whom a proper proportion of the fees shall be assigned.

"Parties who so desire may include perspectives in pen and ink drawn to the same scale as the plans and elevations, from a standpoint distant four hundred feet from the nearest part of the building, the fronts shown to make equal angles with the plane of the picture, and the horizon to be ten feet above the base line of the building. The perspectives to be without shading or landscape or other accessories, except a single human figure six feet high to give the scale.

"Rejected designs will only be used, in whole or in part, by agreement with and compensation to their authors."

The plans were all opened by the commission this morning in the House of Delegates chamber. There were some thirty odd plans, all of which were worthy of careful consideration. The different boxes or portfolios were arranged in order, the plans all marked with the Mayor's seal and everything put in shape for a more thorough examination of the various designs on Monday next.

SHE WANTED TO SEE DOTTY.

Nurse Mary Ann Donnelly Calls at the Tombs With a Message for Josh Mann.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Nurse Mary Ann Donnelly, who was stabbed by Eva Hamilton, the wife of Robert Ray Hamilton, at Atlantic City, and who is now taking life easy in a Bowery Museum, visited the Tombs prison yesterday afternoon and tried unsuccessfully to see Joshua Mann, better known as "Dotty," and his mother, Mrs. Swinton. Mrs. Donnelly had evidently been drinking freely. Keeper Murphy was manipulating the big key at the heavy barred gate when Mrs. Donnelly made her appearance. She removed her hat, which had a tall ostrich feather in it and saluted him. "Do you know who I am?" she said. "I am nurse Donnelly. This is my day off at the museum and I have got a 'skate' on—see? Do you know why I've got a 'skate' on? Well, I've been out to the Trenton Penitentiary this morning to see Eva and we are good friends again. She has intrusted me with a very important message to 'Dotty' and Mrs. Swinton, and I want to see them."

You will have to come around to-morrow, replied the keeper. It is now after visiting hours. If you write out your message I will send it to "Dotty."

"Not much," said the nurse, as she winked at the keeper. "I know you fellows too well to trust you with this message. The only place that message will ever be written is here—beating her forehead. Then you will have to come around to-morrow at 10 o'clock if you wish to see the prisoners, as we don't allow visitors in here after 2 o'clock.

"Let me in to see 'Dotty' just a minute," pleaded the nurse. "A half minute then. If you knew what I had to say to him you would."

"No, I can't let you in now for a second," answered the keeper.

"Then au revoir until to-morrow morning," said the nurse, as she again removed her hat and bade him adieu. "Ta, ta. The Tombs will still be here in the morning, won't it? Tell 'Dotty' that Mrs. Hamilton has sent him good news. Ta, ta." The nurse then started up Center street in a zig-zag course with her hat tilted on the side of her head.

BROTHERHOOD LEAGUE.

ASSOCIATION AS WELL AS LEAGUE PLAYERS JOINING IT.

How the Browns Would Be Benefited by a Coalition With It—The Present Unsettled Condition of Base Ball in the Country—What the Pugilists Are Doing—Sporting News.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Second Baseman Pfeffer of the Chicago Club walked into the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday afternoon. He wore a tall hat, beaver overcoat with seal-skin trimmings. His muscular legs were encased in a pair of imported trousers and his tiny feet were covered with patent-leather shoes. In his gloved hand he carried a silver-headed cane, and he puffed vigorously at an imported cigar. As he passed the small army of base ball men he resembled a millionaire, and not one in a thousand would suspect him of being a professional ball player. Before Pfeffer reached the clerk's desk the sharp eye of Capt. Anson caught sight of him.

"Is that so, Fred," he asked, "that you have signed a Brotherhood contract?"

"Yes, my dear fellow," was the pleasant answer, after removing the cigar from his mouth. "I have signed a Brotherhood contract. Ryan and Tener, too, have joined us."

"What," asked Anson in surprise. "Ryan is a Brotherhood man! You don't say so."

"Williamson will play with us."

"Gracious me, you're not joking are you, Fred?"

"Not much, old chapple," he replied, "With a few exceptions, we will have all the old White Stockings, but the few men we don't want."

"Great scott," exclaimed the veteran captain, and he started off to inform President Spalding of the news.

There are already six men under contract with the new Chicago club. They are Pfeffer, Williamson, Tener, Bastian, Latham and Ryan. Gumbert will, it is thought, sign a contract in a few days. Inducements will be offered to Duffy, Flint, Farrel and Van Haltren. It is thought that Burns and Hutchinson will stand by Anson. Agents of the Brotherhood are out in all directions trying to get men to sign contracts. One is down East and another has done up the State. The latter will go to Syracuse to secure Griffin, the center fielder of the Baltimore Club. During the afternoon "Mike" Kelly received the following dispatch from Baltimore:

"Kilroy with us. He has signed contract. Boom it up.
(Signed) "A. A. IRWIN."

Kilroy, the great left-handed pitcher, has been secured for the Boston Club. Tucker, Baltimore's first baseman, may be engaged to-day. Last night it was said that the Philadelphia Brotherhood Club would try to co-operate with the Athletic team.

THE BASE BALL MUDDLE.

Why the Browns Should Join the Players' Brotherhood League.

The jump of the Brooklyn and Cincinnati Clubs to the National League and the Kansas City team to the Western Association unquestionably places the American Association in a sad plight. In fact, both the National League and American Association are now in a bad way. The prospects of the Brotherhood appear very bright at present and if all the National League players sign with them that are expected to do so, they will certainly have the only first-class league in the country next season. Baltimore, it is stated, desires to purchase the Washington club's franchise and also enter the League. This would leave the Association with four vacancies to fill and there are no good cities or teams with which to fill them. Had the Association clubs held together they would have been the leading league of the country next season as they would have been benefited by the fight between the Brotherhood and National League. Unless the Brotherhood proves a failure the National League will contain a sorry lot of ball players next season. It will not be any stronger, so far as playing is concerned, than the present minor leagues, and they can never hope to draw against their old players who will form the Brotherhood Clubs. The time selected by Brooklyn and Cincinnati to jump from the Association into the League was most opportune. They will enter it when it is a very weak association. In St. Louis the feleing just now is strongly in favor of the Brotherhood. The people want to see Mr. Von der Ahe enter the Browns into the Brotherhood, which would be glad to receive them. The Athletics would then combine with the Philadelphia Brotherhood team, and the Columbus and Louisville and Baltimore Clubs could also be taken in. This would give the weak Brotherhood players confidence, and they would all sign Brotherhood contracts and a new Association would be formed, which would completely annihilate the old League. Already Association players are joining the Brotherhood, and no doubt almost the entire lot of first-class players that were left in the National League would follow suit and go in with the new movement. It would mean certain ruin to the National League. With the Association weakened as it will be, it cannot be expected that good ball playing will be seen here next season, nor even if the Browns joined the National League would matters be bettered any unless the Brotherhood men weaken. The only way for St. Louis to have good ball playing is for Mr. Von der Ahe to go in with the Brotherhood. Then it would be such sweet revenge on his old associates who played him so false. Everybody here indorses the fight he made against Byrne's candidate for President of the American Association, and all know that whatever the result of that election might have been, Brooklyn and Cincinnati would have joined the League anyway. A private dispatch to a friend in this city from Mr. Von der Ahe, received yesterday afternoon, reads as follows:

"We are rid of Byrne and his lieutenants, and will fill vacancies with cities with whom we can have honest ball and fair play. Applications to fill vacancies already received from various cities. Phelps elected President and all officers and committees selected.
"CHRIS VON DER AHE."

Eddie Von der Ahe and several of Von der Ahe's friends sent him the following telegram yesterday: "The home public would like to see you and Sharsig join hands with the Brotherhood. They say if you will join the Brotherhood they will elect you Governor. Only think of the crowd the Brotherhood would draw here. See Ward and Keefe and some of the other leaders and see if a coalition cannot be formed."

Pugilistic Pointers.

Peter Jackson, the colored heavy-weight champion, who demoralized Jem Smith, has issued a challenge to meet John L. Sullivan, Jake Kilrain or Frank P. Slavin in a ten-round glove contest, either for £200 a side or for a purse.

The next important fistic encounter will be the battle between Frank P. Slavin, the champion of Australia, and Jem Smith, the champion of England, for £1,000 and the championship of England. This battle will be fought with the raw uns and according to London prize-ring rules, and will create more interest than the recent Smith and Jackson glove fight. Slavin has already gone into training and Smith will go to his training quarters at Brighton after he concludes a week's engagement at the Aquar[illegible] with Peter Jackson. Smith's backers [illegible] underrate his fistic qualities because [illegible] not defeated him with gloves, and they [illegible] Jackson him heavily, independent of the [illegible] will back defeat the Australian giant. S[illegible] stakes, to trained by his old trainer, Jem H[illegible] ith will be has secured the services of Jack [illegible] wes, and he Jack Harper to second him. [illegible] Baldock and [illegible] he Australian contingent who are behind Slavin are elated over their champion's victories over Bill Goode and Arthur Robbett, whom he beat easily, and they are confident that after Smith's defeat by Jackson (who they do not think classes with Slavin) their champion will win.

The backers of Slavin have authorized Sporting Life to publish the fact that they will back Slavin against John L. Sullivan to fight for £1,000 a side and the Police Gazette champion belt, which the American pugilist holds, any time the latter will post a deposit at the Clipper or Police Gazette.

P. J. Pitzlin, who is now teaching boxing at Carlinville, Ill., gives an athletic exhibition there this evening. He claims the middle-weight championship of the Southwest, and says he is still anxious to fight Hugh McManus or any middle-weight that can be induced to meet him. He defies McManus or any other Missouri pugilist to meet him for the middle-weight championship of the State.

It's English, You Know.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—There is no longer any doubt about the change to be made in the stroke adopted last season by the Harvard crew, as everything goes to prove that the real English stroke will be taught the University crew. During vacation Capt. Herrick revisited England and watched both the Metropolitan and University oarsmen at work. Since his return a noticeable change has been made in the Storrow stroke, and the men are now rowing something after the style so successfully practiced by the Yale crew. An old Harvard oarsman said yesterday: "The success of the last Harvard Freshman crew, which rowed a perfect Yale stroke, has started the advocates of the English style, and in view of the fact that Capt. Herrick has his head full of the way they do it in England, you can look out for a wonderful performance next season."

Bicycle Hare and Hound Chase.

The bicycle hare and hound chase will be run off to-morrow morning at Forest Park, and a meeting of all those interested will be held at the Missouri Bicycle Club at 8 p. m., to-night, to complete the arrangements. The weather promises to be fine and good sport is expected in consequence. Both clubs will take part and every rider in the city is invited to do likewise.

Ten Broeck on Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Richard Ten Broeck, the famous turfman, whose colors are familiar to old race-goers on both sides of the Atlantic and for whom Kentucky's great horse was named, is on trial at Redwood City, Cal., to determine the soundness of his mind. His wife and several San Mateo neighbors seriously question his sanity. He labors under the delusion that his wife is and has been for two or three years past trying to kidnap him, secure his money and leave him to starve.

Pool Championship.

J. L. Malone, the pool champion, was defeated at Chicago Thursday evening in a game of continuous pool by Charles Schaefer, brother of Jake Schaefer, the billiard champion. Malone was in poor form while Schaefer played brilliantly. The final score was 154 to 81 in Schaefer's favor. A continuous pool tournament is to be held at Chicago, on December 20, with Malone, Donkelman, the two Schaefers and others as the contestants. A match will probably be made between Charlie Schaefer and Malone.

Athletic Notes.

The Office Men's Bowling team vanquished the Pastime Athletic team Thursday night. This gives them five out of the first six games, therefore the three games for next Thursday night are off.

The regular monthly meeting of the Olympic A. A. Club was held at the South St. Louis Turner Hall, Wednesday evening. It was decided that up to April 1, 1890, all regular meetings shall be held at this hall. After the meeting the members had a jollification on the strength of the healthy condition of the club. Mr. Frank Ritter acted as master of ceremonies and well filled his chair. Recitations and singing were the order of amusements.

The committee on subscriptions appointed by the Olympic Athletic Club will soon have their lists ready to commence work. They hope to raise enough money to erect a club-house on the club's grounds, the building to be provided with a hand-ball court, bowling alleys, shower baths, hall and reception rooms.

Scotty Morris Appeals.

Scotty Morris, who was recently arrested on a charge of loitering, has appealed his case from the First District Police Court to the Court of Criminal Correction. He was arrested by Officer Hanrahan and feels that he was made the victim of an unnecessary assault. He does not propose to rest under the Police Court conviction.

FOOLISH PREJUDICE.

How Some People Allow a Word, against which They have a Prejudice, to stand in the way of their own Well-being.

The old lady who would not allow her son to have a fiddle, but was willing he should have a violin, is a fair example of the foolish prejudice which very many people have against certain words. Many persons might refuse to take Chloride of Sodium, but would use salt, which is the same thing. Now it is this class of people who usually have a deep prejudice against the words alcohol or whiskey. They know that somebody has abused the use of these articles and hence they denounce them altogether, in spite of the fact that the best scientists and the leading physicians of the present day advocate and use them constantly.

Prof. Austin Flint of Bellevue (New York) College, says: "The judicious use of alcoholic stimulants is one of the striking characteristics of progress in the practice of medicine during the last half century."

Prof. Joseph Parrish, the distinguished author, says: "We know that alcohol will steady the heart, slow the pulse, warm the skin, calm excitement, and we ought to use it."

Prof. M. G. Greenleaf, the well-known author, says: "An intelligent comprehension of the action of alcohol and whiskey, will have a greater influence in promoting temperance than adhesion to a dogma."

Such high scientific authorities show that pure whiskey should be used as a household remedy. No father or mother need hesitate for a moment to administer Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey to the children, and it is simply bigotry to allow the word whiskey, which is the name of this medicine, to stand in the way of the wonderful benefits to be derived from its use. It should be remembered, however, that these effects are only to be secured by the use of a pure medicinal whiskey like Duffy's and care should be taken to use no other.

BURNETT'S PERFUME OF WOOD VIOLETS.

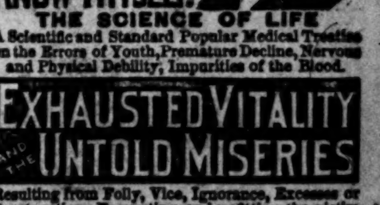

This exquisite perfume is made from the true violets. In the past the high price of the genuine violet perfume has prevented many from indulging in this luxury, but the price of this article makes it a necessity to those who love the flower. The remembrance of the cheap imitations of violet water and extracts should not prevent all lovers of violets from trying this delicious perfume.
